DEAR EDITORS OF THE TIMES: Permit me to thank you for your kindness in so regularly forwarding to me your paper, It greets me every week like an old friend, and I assure you its contents are scanned even more eagerly than when I was living in your midst. Many a happy day I spent in Efficient City, and an absence of a couple of months has toy no means tended to make me forget the many agreeable as-30 ciates that I have left beaund.

I notice that the political contest waxes warm, as we draw near election day. I very much regret that distance will prevent me from presenting myself as neual at the polis, and casting my vote for those gentlemen whose names stand at the head of your paper as synonymous of honesty them, as my vote would be did circumstunces permit.

The political excitement in Boston, is also at fever heat. Were you here for a day or two, you would, doubtless, share my dorsement of that record, astonishment at the immense sympathy manifested by the most sensible Democrats for Ben. Butler. Indeed, I am not using too strong a term, when I say they are infituated with him. Unless I am tremendously mistaken in the signs about me, Butler will, at last, be governor of Mussachusetts. And to tell you the truth, if all I hear about him is true, he will make the best governor of the batch that is presented for the people's choice. I must say, however, that I do not much regret that I have no vote, as yet, in Boston. I would not vote for any of the other candidates, and I have not yet learned to stomach Ben.

I shall look cogerly for your next issues, for my heart is still in Efficiett City though my body is far away from you. With best wishes for the success of our candidates, I remain, your sincere triend,

Sherman's Little Game.

Amid the "noise and confusion" of the present canvass between the Democrats and Republicans of Maryland there is a little game being played by Mr. Sherman to secure the Republican vote of Maryland interest of both at heart in the Nonmating Convention of that in the Nonmating Convention of that in the Nonmating Convention of that party which ought not to be overlooked by the friends of Mr. Blaine. As Demotion of the promotion of the first will and testament of Thomas the promotion of the promotion of the friends of Mr. Blaine. As Demotical to the promotion of the fortunes of either of these ventioners but it in the said of the first will and testament of Thomas characters and the promotion of the fortunes of either of these ventioners but it in the said of Harriet F. Lansdale, Executric of the first will and testament of Thomas characters are promotion of the first will and testament of the first will be firs Success of the Democrathere is something about Blaine which commends him, while there is nothing whatever about Sherm in that is attractive.

If Sherman could sensibly reduced the radical temperature. defeat Mr. Gorman, one of the acknow If the republican thermometer continues ledged leaders of the Maryland Democrato fall, as it has since the able exposition cy, he would naturally have a claim upon Company by Thomas Land de and Harriet F. of Democratic principles referred to above, Maryland Republicans which would more we may confidently expect that the 4th of November will be the coldest day ever ex-November will be the coldest day ever ex- and entitle Mr. Sherman to the vote of

> In this connection Mr. Sherman regards as of more importance even than the tinguisned United States Senator once remarked that Mr. Gorman was the ablest organizer and party leader of all the State leaders in this country. He is one of the few leaders who make no mistakes; who take nothing for granted and miss no opportunity that may give their party the victory. Always cool, collected and temperate in word and action, he is the persomfication of energy and industry. Such a teader, while making friends in his own party, must rouse the bitterest sentiment man for the State Senate would be a moral nominee for Governor should be elected. This the Republicans well understand and this Mr. Sherman fully comprehends. If his particular friend and employee can defest Mr. Gorman Mr. Sherman may justly claim the prize and demand its recognition by the Republicans of the State in their convention. It is a shrewd game on Mr. Suerman's part and Mr. Gary is playing it for the Secretary with great earnest on the 'Ring" which they attagree should bess and force. Living in Howard and controlling a very respectable vote among his employees, Mr. Gary regards the election of Mr. Orson Adams of very lattle less importance than his owr. But as a Republican Governor is not among the probabilities, Mr. Gary has expressed himself very decidedly in favor of the election of Mr. Adams. The political importance of a Republican Senator from Howard county would be very little, but the defeat of Mr. Gorman would be a result of the very gravest importance. It would be a victory for Sherman, not only over the Democracy of Maryland, but over the friends of Blaine, which would secure for Mr. Sperman another State in the Convention.

This should be a decided inducement for the Democrats of Howard to be alert in every time of national danger, will and active, to murshal their forces and see also that no man gets in a vote who is not entitled to vote in that county. It is ward of Baltimore have been registered in city. As a fist of the names of these city voters has been obtained and will be on hand it will be easier to defeat their voting than it may be for them to escape the punishment of fraudulent voting. Vigilance is necessary on the part of the Democrats, not only to bring all members to the polls but to guard the polls against the frauds of Mr. Sherman's friends. It is reasonable to expect that all the "repeating" that is possible will be done in that county; that from Baltimore, Wash- at 2 o'clock P. M., at Poplar Springs, the farm ington city and surrounding counties voters will be smuggled into Howard to vote for Adams, as every such vote is a help to Sherman's nomination.

While we have no apprehensions of Mr. Corman's defeat, our friends must not forget that they have a vigilant, active and unscrupulous enemy, playing for a great stake and with any amount of money and men at their disposal .- Baltimore

This, however, is a great mistake, for the community at large is benefited, according to our way of thinking, by every business card of a town store appearing in the local papers. It needs no very skillful reasoning to elucidate the proposition, for there can be no bester method adopted to improve a village, town or city, than that which keeps the bulk of trade at home.
