

Baltimore City Times

AND
HOWARD COUNTY ADVERTISER.

J. BARLOW WATKINS,
J. THOMAS CLARK,
Editors & Proprietors.

TERMS: PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1879.

---

DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE TICKET.

GOVERNOR:
WILLIAM T. HAMILTON
Of Washington County.

ATTORNEY GENERAL:
CHARLES J. M. GWINN,
Of Baltimore City.

COMPTROLLER OF THE TREASURY:
THOMAS J. KEATING,
Of Queen Anne's County.

CLERK OF THE COURT OF APPEALS:
SPENCER C. JONES,
Of Montgomery County.

STATE SENATE:
Arthur P. Gorman.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES:
Robert A. Dobbins,
John T. Harkey.

STATE ATTORNEY:
Edwin Lithicum.

CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT:
Louis J. Watkins.

SHERIFF:
Joseph O. McCauley.

JUDGES OF THE ORPHANS' COURT:
Anthony M. Johnson,
Reuben Dorsey,
George M. Buckingham.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS:
Thomas H. Gaither,
Joshua D. Warfield,
N. Soper Childs.

COUNTY SHERIFF:
John T. R. R. Carroll.

DEMOCRATS be on your guard against spurious tickets. Vote the regular Democratic ticket and none other.

There are small and large, pretty and ugly, good and bad, by comparison only. Now admit the worst that can be said against the democratic party by our adversaries in their skulking manner of electioneering, and it is elevated into virtue when you contrast it with the proved corruption of the party these very men advocate.

Read the record of Republicanism in Maryland printed on the first page of the Times, and then ask yourself if you can cast a vote which will tend to regenerate that party in power again. "Is an old maxim which says that 'a burnt child dreads the fire,'" and with their experience of the Republican party in the past the people of Maryland should certainly dread it in the future.

Mr. GORMAN has been meeting the honest and intelligent voters of the county in every section, clearly defining the principles he represents, exposing the pretenses of his opponents and frankly meeting any and every charge which the ingenuity of the most malicious of his political enemies could invent against himself and his party. Has anybody ever heard of Mr. Orson Adams doing the like? What has been his method of electioneering anyhow? Not one that he felt very proud of we are certain.

Let every Democrat vote early, and then go and see that his Democratic neighbor votes also.

The gentlemen composing our County Commission ticket are all fair minded business men, men who are neither niggardly nor extravagant but who have the interest of the county at stake and who will conduct the business of the county in a manner that will most conduce to its permanent prosperity. They are men of intelligence and property, men in whom the honest voters of the county may safely entrust their interests, because they are all men whose interests are identical with the interest of the people. Don't fail to see that your ticket contains the names of our most excellent nominees for Commissioners.

See that the old hickory tree does not adorn a Republican ticket.

Vote early - read your ticket thoroughly - and see that it contains none but Democratic names.

Every man who scratches a democrat off his ticket votes for a republican.

This is unanswerable logic.

Remember that a national political organization cannot be maintained unless it is upheld through all the minor political divisions of State and County.

If we cast trust the affairs of our nation with the Democratic party, certainly we can trust the affairs of our county with it. The Democrats in this contest, have not only the best platform but they have the best men to carry out its principles.

Mr. JOSEPH O. McCAULEY will make a most energetic, faithful and useful sheriff. He has every qualification to fit him for that important office. Democrats should all give him their cordial support on Tuesday.

If the republican party had never been tried, then it might, perhaps, deceive a few disaffected democrats into voting for it, but it had control of the State once, and for a brief history of its administration, read the facts on the first page of this paper.

DEMOCRATS, read your tickets, see that they contain the names of Robert A. Dobbins and John T. Harkey, our estimable candidates for the House of Delegates. One a lawyer, the other a farmer, both honest, capable, fair minded gentlemen. Guard your legislative ticket.

The Democratic nominees for Judges of the Orphans' Court are as suitable gentlemen as could be found in the county for the important places they have been nominated to fill. Democrats should give them all three a hearty support on Tuesday.

If you are a Democrat from principle you must vote our ticket. If you want to the primary meetings and were defeated, manfully bear it. If you did not go to the primaries it was your own fault or misfortune - not that of the party and you are in honor bound to acquiesce in the decision of the majority of the men who represent the principles you have adopted.

We feel quite sorry for Mr. Gary. He has had a right sized time, for very poor pay. He has not now a reasonable position upon which to stand in the present contest. There is not one single utterance of his that has not been fully and thoroughly refuted by Democratic orators and Democratic journalists. Mr. Gary assailed the credit of Baltimore city and of the State of Maryland, now this was as weak as any unfortunate in the gentleman as anything he could possibly have said, because there is positive proof to the contrary. But we will not quarrel with Mr. Gary, he means well enough, doubtless, but he is inexperienced to know any better. He had better have taken our advice at first and staid at home without having the mortification of being asked to do so next Tuesday by a majority of 13,000 of his fellow citizens.

Vote the Democratic Ticket - the whole Democratic Ticket - and nothing but the Democratic ticket.

We take it for granted that the people of Howard county want for their State's Attorney a lawyer who has his office in the County and whose interests are in the County; and not a lawyer who has his office in Baltimore City and whose interest is in the City. They want too, a gentleman whose political fidelity will be a guarantee of his official fidelity. And they do not want a gentleman who all his life has played fast and loose with all parties; for fear that his official conditions might be as uncertain as his political convictions. They will therefore elect Mr. Lithicum and defeat Mr. King. Indeed there is only one man on the Democratic ticket who we think will lead Mr. Lithicum in the handsome majority that is to be given next Tuesday for that whole ticket, and that one man is Mr. John T. R. R. Carroll.

What Mr. Gary complains bitterly of what he alleges was a perversion of his meaning by a Baltimore City Journal in regard to what he said concerning laboring men in his speech in this city. But we never yet to hear any complaint from him concerning the perversion of the meaning by the Baltimore American of the certificate sent him by some gentlemen of this city. That certificate certified that the Republican meeting was a quiet and orderly one and it certified nothing else. The Baltimore American made it out to certify that Mr. Gary did not use certain language he was reported to have used. Quite a perversion that, but Mr. Gary does not complain.

What Did Mr. Gary Mean?

Mr. GARY is reported as having said in the speech which he made in this city last week, as an illustration of Democratic extravagance, that large numbers of men were employed by that party to work on the streets of Baltimore city, at $1.50 a day for eight hours work, whereas he could obtain from the crowd before him plenty of men to work ten hours a day for one dollar. In a card which he subsequently printed Mr. Gary says that his meaning was perverted, - but he carefully avoids saying what his meaning was. It would not be altogether fair for Mr. Gary to appeal to the attentive listeners of his speech as to whether or not he did use the words attributed to him. But with or without the use of the precise words, Mr. Gary unquestionably conveyed the meaning that it was extravagant to employ a man to work ten hours a day for $1.50 per day for eight hours work, when other men could be obtained to do the same work for $1 per day and labor for ten hours. Whatever were the words he used they conveyed that meaning and none other. Upon the theory that economy means getting all you can out of your fellow man at the least possible cost to yourself, that idea of Democratic extravagance may be correct. But it always has been a Democratic principle that the honest day's work was worth an honest day's pay and worth it in honest money. A government which takes advantage of the necessities of laboring men may be economical, but it is neither wise nor just. Mr. Gary may be friendly to the working men and just to his own employees, but unless we and all others who heard his speech are ignorant of the meaning of English words, he undoubtedly thinks it extravagant to pay $1.50 for a day's labor. That Mr. Gary was opposed to the ten hour system, his whole course on that question sufficiently proves. It was greatly through his assistance, that Mr. Holton, his brother-in-law, obtained the seat in the State Senate to which the late Dr. McKim was rightfully entitled, and the ten hour system had no bitterer foe than Mr. Holton. Mr. Gary was himself frequently in Annapolis working against the passage of that law, and it certainly was passed by the Legislature without his wishes and against his most earnest efforts to defeat it. Now whatever Mr. Gary may or may not have meant by what he said in his speech, one such fact is worth a dozen explanations.

The Two Men.

In almost every speech that he makes, Mr. Gary intimates that because Mr. Hamilton has advised the citizens of Howard County to elect Mr. Gorman to the State Senate, Mr. Hamilton, when Governor will therefore be under the influence of Mr. Gorman. This intimation is neither a compliment to Mr. Hamilton, for whom Mr. Gary professes to have some respect, nor a justice to Mr. Gorman; and it is ridiculous as it is uncomplimentary and unjust. Mr. Gary advocates the election of the Republican county ticket, and consequently the election of Mr. Orson Adams to the State Senate. Mr. Gary, from his own course of reasoning, will therefore if elected Governor, be under the influence of Mr. Adams if he should be elected to the Senate. Mr. Gary doubtless knows that it is a bad rule which will not work both ways.

Mr. Hamilton, indeed, would have shown himself very unappreciative of the best interests of Howard County if he had not advocated the election of Mr. Gorman to the State Senate. There is perhaps no man in Howard County who is more familiar with what Legislation is and is not needed for both County and State than Mr. Gorman. Experienced, energetic and faithful as he is, and fully conversant with public affairs and public men, it would be difficult to find any one who would make a more useful Legislator than the gentleman who now represents Howard County so well in the State Senate. Compared with Mr. Orson Adams, Mr. Gorman is superior as one man can possibly be superior to another. The people of Howard County would indeed be most unwise if they could bring themselves to consent to exchange a gentleman born and reared in their midst, who in every public position that he has held has proved himself faithful to their best interests, and worthy of their best confidence, for an imported bencher of Secretary Sherman. Granting, if we please, everything that his opponents choose to say against Mr. Gorman, we must yet admit that he is infinitely superior in every way to Mr. Orson Adams, who has yet to prove that he has any claims upon the support and confidence of the people of Howard County. The article which we elsewhere reprint from the Baltimore Gazette will show the true meaning of this latter gentleman's candidacy.

It would of course be impossible for any man to have mingled with public affairs as much as Mr. Gorman has done without having some charges made against himself. His earnest and unceasing warfare against Radicalism has naturally induced him some bitter enemies in the Republican fold. But no one can truthfully say a word against his personal integrity or his fidelity to his party and his State. He has unquestionably performed the duties of every office that he has been entitled to fill with rare ability and always with an eye to the best interests of the people whom he represented.

And our readers must moreover remember that in this contest, Mr. Gorman is the accredited representative of those great principles of civil liberty upon which the Democratic party is founded. Mr. Orson Adams, so far as any one knows, is the representative of nothing, unless it be of Mr. Orson Adams and Secretary Sherman.

—CHAS. JACKSON'S HOST SWEET NAVY TROOP.

Is he honest? Is he capable?

"Is he honest? Is he capable?" These are the old Jeffersonian watch-words. Ask yourselves these questions before casting your vote.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Hamilton Club Meeting.

The large hall in which this Club has been holding its meetings in this city during the campaign was packed to overflowing on Thursday evening last by the large assembly which had gathered to hear the eminent gentleman who were to address the meeting. Mayor E. A. Tabor, President of the Club, presided, and introduced the speaker. The first of whom was Mr. Louis J. Watkins, who congratulated the democracy upon the cheering signs of victory which were every where apparent and upon the interest that was being taken in this important campaign by the thinking men of our country.

Upon the introduction of Hon. A. P. Gorman, the next speaker, he was greeted with a perfect storm of applause, which was frequently repeated during his speech, and was particularly enthusiastic at his happy replies to the questions that were put to him by one or two republicans who were in the audience. Although several times interrupted by these republican interrogators, whose questions were not object to be answered, Mr. Gorman maintained his invincible good humor and answered them all with perfect frankness. His speech was clear, forcible and logical, and his frank manner of dealing with the issues of the campaign and the charges against himself have won him not only the sympathy of his party men, but the respect and confidence of every fair minded republican who heard him.

He said that he was present in the performance of a duty imposed upon him as the candidate for State Senator. The contest was an important one, not only of interest to the candidate, but beyond that, the question was what kind of government Howard county is to have in 1882. He would not take up the issues of the past or recall the memories of the war. The honest men in the ranks of the South met equally honest men of the North, and the result was a result that would be the result of the honest men of both sides were now united and marching together to secure good government for the country. The Democratic party had power for twelve years. Now that a new administration was to be selected they would ask the question: Has the party done its full duty? If they have, they are entitled to support; if not otherwise. Two parties were in the field; both have plumes and both have candidates with their respective claims. He said he would proceed to show that the Democratic party had done its duty to the State. He showed how every law that oppressed the people, the result of the war were wiped out the statute book. With reference to taxation and finance they have altered the condition of things since the Republican party was in power. The national bank has been equalized. Every railroad corporation has been forced to support the State government. The national banks had been made to pay almost enough to educate the entire people of the State. Not only for State purposes but each railroad has been made to pay county taxes. Howard county raises from the Washington branch of the Baltimore and Annapolis R.R. $100 per annum. Everything had been done to carry out the declaration of the constitution that every one should contribute under the influence of his will to the real and personal property.

When he first went to Annapolis as a member of the lower houses every man in Howard county concluded that the Republican voters in this campaign have not pointed out a single instance of a defaulter. They had not compared the books of the House of Delegates but had complained of one that was not passed - the registration. The burden of their song had been a statement purporting to have been made by Col. H. S. Pringle, that statement was that he had not been renominated for the Senate because he had refused to vote for a large appropriation for the House of Delegates. Another statement was that he had refused to pledge himself to vote for Mr. Gorman for President of the Senate in order that he might be elected to the United States Senate and succeed him as governor as president of the Senate. When he read the article he was satisfied that Joyce was endeavoring to strike the link between the Republican party and the Democratic party, and to lead the Republicans into a mistake. He was not connected with the House of Delegates, and he was not connected with the action of the board as far as from his control as far as the control of anyone present. The building was constructed under the influence of gentlemen who had made the subject of prisoners their study. It had saved to Baltimore some more than it cost for it had been passed by the Board of Public Works. There had been charges made against the institution and the board, which was largely Democratic, demanded to stop the building. They elected Enoch Pratt, treasurer, and through his hands every dollar has to pass, and if there is a dollar mispent the Republican treasurer would accuse him of doing any act which he could not at any time and in any place defend. He asked the Republican voters to make this charge they make against one of their own number; one of the most honored men in Maryland. (A voice) "Do you say that Col. Joyce is a defaulter?" "Great heavens," answered Mr. Gorman, "Do you say that he was prepared to answer any question that might be asked him and he would say that any man who said that the House of Delegates had misappropriated was misappropriating a falsehood, as was well known to everyone acquainted with the private administration of public affairs in this State."

With reference to the other statement he was not a candidate for Governor. When he was a candidate for office he did not hesitate to state what office he was a candidate for. He would not be Governor if he could. There is a large establishment for money to keep in it. The salary of $1,500 is too small to sustain the place. Frankly he would say if all the people were as honest as the House of Delegates he would not be. Mr. Hamilton is as incapable of making such a bargain as any man in Maryland - and no man ever knew him to make a bargain at any time. He said that such a contest could not be made for if the governor should be elected to the United States Senate the Legislature of the State would elect his successor and the president of the Senate would not be his successor. This is not the first time he had met with abuse. He did not know the reason for the time he was in politics the same issues were restricted to. It was in 1870 and he met with nothing but abuse. When he went home at night he often wondered if the man he thought he was. He asked them then to allow him to show by his acts if he was worthy of their confidence. The people trusted him. Now the Republicans instead of stating a single fact, used nothing but slanders. He had a right to appeal to put down these slanders. He demanded the truth and he demanded the Democratic Executive Committee and he might expect their shafts should be hurled at him. He did not expect any help from the contrary would continue the battle until the Democratic party has control of national affairs.

The leaders of the Republican party ordered this year a straight-out fight. They nominated Mr. Hooper for mayor of Baltimore and Mr. Gary for Governor. Mr. Hooper had elected Dr. McClintock to be the friend of the workmen and was in favor of the ten-hour system for miners. There were men who believed this statement and voted for him but the result was his defeat by 6,000 majority. After this Mr. Gary, seeing that Hooper had lost by appeal to the workmen, he took the reverse of the proposition and demanded the Democratic party for paying $50 per day to workmen in Baltimore. He said they might as well have paid $50 per day to help elect Dr. McClintock to the State Senate. His opponent was the brother-in-law of Mr. Gary and they followed Dr. McClintock to Annapolis. McClintock was tried for being disloyal and the man who was put in his place voted against the ten-hour system and the law was held at Clarksville on Saturday last, well attended by the Democracy of the gallant Fifth District. The stand for the speakers was erected on the lot adjoining Mr. J. M. Dobbins' store, and was very handsomely decorated with evergreens, hanging, baskets and cut flowers. The decoration was the work of Mrs. G. A. W. Cur, Miss Maryann, Miss Miller and Mrs. Kate Watkins and daughter, and certainly did a great deal of credit to their good taste. The party owes its thanks to the most energetic Democratic ladies for the interest they took in the work and the beautiful manner in which it was executed. The Savage Brass Band was in attendance and calquined the meeting with choice and spirited music. Hon. John R. Coak was made President of the meeting, Messrs. Charles Carr, Martin O. Willard, James Gissel, Richard Simpson and Martin E. Dutton, Vice Presidents, E. C. Pace, Secretaries, and Mr. Dutton having opened the meeting with a well timed address, full of sound advice to Democratic voters, introduced Mr. R. A. Dobbins as the first speaker who was followed by Louis J. Watkins, both of whom made excellent speeches. The next speaker was Gov. Carroll, who made one of the most forcible, logical and telling arguments that we have heard during the campaign. His speech was devoted principally to a discussion of State issues and the exposure of the false pretenses of the Republican party concerning them, and was greatly appreciated by his audience. The Governor was followed by Mr. A. P. Gorman, who met with a happy success with frequent applause. Mr. H. E. Wootton came next with one of his usually forcible speeches and which never failed to awaken the warmest enthusiasm in his auditors. His telling blows at the methods and practices of some Republican politicians in our county were greatly appreciated and greeted with frequent applause. Mr. J. B. Black and Mr. George M. Thomas followed Mr. Wootton with spirited and earnest appeals in behalf of pure Democracy, after which the meeting adjourned. It looks as if the gallant Fifth District has determined to maintain a position as the banner district of the county.

The Democratic Mass Meeting

See it Democrats that no man gets in a vote who is not entitled to vote in the County.

Your enemy is playing for a high stake, and will use any means to win.

Literary and Musical Entertainment.

The Literary Club gave its inaugural entertainment for the season, on Monday evening last, and the hall was well filled with an intelligent and appreciative audience, of both sexes and all ages. The programme, which we publish below, was admirably rendered in every respect. The vocal music which was exclusively by members of the Club, and the declamation were particularly attractive features of the evening and received hearty evidences of appreciation by the ladies and gentlemen who were present. The instrumental music by Dr. S. W. Hazeltine, an honorary member of the Club, was very enjoyable. The organ used by him was from the warehouse of the late Charles W. Berry, at No. 8, Liberty Street Baltimore. The Stiff Piano received the highest possible honors at the Paris Exposition of 1878, the Empress of Austria gave the Stiff Piano preference over all others at the Exposition. The debate participated in by the gentlemen named in the programme, occupied about fifty minutes, and the declamation were frequently applauded by the audience. At the conclusion of the arguments, a question was submitted to the audience and a decision rendered by a standing vote in favor of the affirmative. The ladies seemed quite proud of their privilege to vote, and with several exceptions, they exercised it in favor of the speaker who were frequently applauded by the audience. The programme was as follows: Prelude, - Organ, Dr. S. W. Hazeltine; Address, - Organ, Dr. S. W. Hazeltine; Reading, T. A. Dorsey; Declamation, "The Liberty Bell," Wm. B. Harper, Jos. Curran; Reading, - "Contrasted Soliloquy between Sallust and Landmann," G. W. Geeslin; Chorus, - "Up! De!" Members of the Club; Debate, - "Should we support a lowered right of suffrage?" J. G. Rowan, G. M. Thomas, A. F. T. B. Dorsey, J. T. Clark, G. W. Hazeltine; Organ, Dr. S. W. Hazeltine; Reading, Dr. Keene; Declamation, - "Character and Fate of the American Indians," S. J. Collier; Reading, George M. Thomas; Solo, - "Loved and the Lost," T. B. Dorsey; Declamation, - "Bartolomeo Pericoli," W. Hofberger; Reading, J. W. Hodges; Chorus, - "The Sweet Birds are Singing."

"For ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain" some Republican politicians are peculiar. Be on your guard therefore, Democrats, against all their devices.

Meeting at Hobbs' Store.

On Thursday evening a large and enthusiastic meeting of Democratic citizens was held at Hobbs' Store, in the first district, and it was organized by calling to the chair Mr. John H. H. Taylor, who presided with much dignity. Dr. Tompkins was selected as secretary. The speakers were introduced in the following order and the unanswerable logic of the Democratic party's position in this contest was fully set forth. Mr. Wm. B. Peter first spoke, illustrating his speech with many amusing anecdotes. His speech was followed by Mr. Dobbins, who very clearly vindicated the principles of democracy, and urged his hearers to lend the party their undivided support in this fight. Mr. Edwin Warfield, our very efficient Registrar of Wills, followed in a forcible speech, showing why the whole Democratic ticket should be supported in preference to the mongrel one which it is opposed to. Mr. J. Thomas Clark was the next speaker, and when he concluded Mr. Joseph Isaacs made a brief speech in earnest advocacy of the whole ticket and the meeting adjourned full of Democratic enthusiasm. The Savage brass band which has been one of the most attractive features of the Democratic meeting during this campaign, discoursed a delightful music before and after every speech.

The first district is going to contest for the banner this fall.

Large and interesting Democratic meetings were held at Simpsonville on Monday night, Hilton on Tuesday night, and Owen's Store on Wednesday night. They were presided over respectively by Mr. J. W. Lithicum, Mr. Robert Puc and Mr. Owen. Eloquent and forcible speeches were made by the candidates and other speakers.

Home Rule, Hard Money and Economy are the three cardinal principles of Democracy.

Show your belief in them by voting the straight-out Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

Religious.

The Rev. Dr. Nelson of Annapolis will preach (Ev. Dr. S. Peters' Church in this city, on Sunday night next, Service at 7 o'clock.

Thos. Jefferson thought competency for the duties of the office, only second in importance in an office seeker to personal honesty.

Marvelous Escape from a Fatal Accident.

On last Tuesday morning, as the live-horse team of Mr. Samuel Thompson, driven by Mr. Nick Dorsey, was returning from the cooper shop, where it had just left a load of cooper material, the horses became frightened under the web of the railroad bridge, by a passing train, and ran away. The driver, Mr. Dorsey, did not hesitate to state what office he was a candidate for. He would not be governor if he could. There is a large establishment for money to keep in it. The salary of $1,500 is too small to sustain the place. Frankly he would say if all the people were as honest as the House of Delegates he would not be. Mr. Hamilton is as incapable of making such a bargain as any man in Maryland - and no man ever knew him to make a bargain at any time. He said that such a contest could not be made for if the governor should be elected to the United States Senate the Legislature of the State would elect his successor and the president of the Senate would not be his successor. This is not the first time he had met with abuse. He did not know the reason for the time he was in politics the same issues were restricted to. It was in 1870 and he met with nothing but abuse. When he went home at night he often wondered if the man he thought he was. He asked them then to allow him to show by his acts if he was worthy of their confidence. The people trusted him. Now the Republicans instead of stating a single fact, used nothing but slanders. He had a right to appeal to put down these slanders. He demanded the truth and he demanded the Democratic Executive Committee and he might expect their shafts should be hurled at him. He did not expect any help from the contrary would continue the battle until the Democratic party has control of national affairs.

Home Rule, Hard Money and Economy are the three cardinal principles of Democracy. Show your belief in them by voting the straight-out Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

Religious. The Rev. Dr. Nelson of Annapolis will preach (Ev. Dr. S. Peters' Church in this city, on Sunday night next, Service at 7 o'clock.

Home Rule, Hard Money and Economy are the three cardinal principles of Democracy. Show your belief in them by voting the straight-out Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

Home Rule, Hard Money and Economy are the three cardinal principles of Democracy. Show your belief in them by voting the straight-out Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

Home Rule, Hard Money and Economy are the three cardinal principles of Democracy. Show your belief in them by voting the straight-out Democratic ticket on Tuesday.

Home Rule, Hard Money and Economy are the three cardinal principles of Democracy. Show your belief in them by voting the straight-out Democratic ticket on Tuesday.