

publish the announcements in our columns for pay, and seldom ourselves to inquire as to the merit of the wares advertised, than to assure ourselves that they are of respectable quality, and that they perform miracles in our favor. We know of people 30 years old, who are gray-headed and who wear dark and glossy hair. How is this? It is evidently not color, but it has a perfectly natural appearance instead of the harsh, dry, staring look of hair stained with nitrate of silver or other common hair dyes. No! it has been restored to its youthful color, lustre and vitality by the use of that wonder of wonders, Hall's Vegetable Siccian Hair Renewer. It has many imitators, but there is nothing like it. The test of years only increases its fame, while its imitators die and are forgotten. - Boston Daily Globe.

The World for 1880.

Democrats everywhere should inform themselves carefully alike of the action of their party throughout the country and of the movements of their Republican opponents. A failure to do this in 1880 contributed greatly to the loss by the Democracy of the fruits of the victory fairly won at the polls.
The year 1880 promises to be one of the most interesting and important years of this crowded and eventful century. It will witness a Presidential election which may result in re-establishing the Government of this country on the principles of its constitutional founders, or in permanently changing the relations of the States to the Federal power. No intelligent man can regard such an election with indifference. The World, as the only daily English newspaper published in the city of New York which upholds the doctrines of constitutional Democracy, will steadily represent the Democratic party in this great canvass. It will do this in no spirit of servile partisanship, but temperately and firmly. As a newspaper The World, being the organ of no man, no clique and no interest, will present the fullest and the fairest picture it can make of each day's passing history in the city, the State, the country and the world. It will aim hereafter, as heretofore, at accuracy first of all things in all that it publishes. No man, however humble, shall ever be permitted to complain that he has been unjustly dealt with in the columns of The World. No interest, however powerful, shall ever be permitted to boast that it can silence the fair criticism of The World.

During the past year The World has seen its daily circulation trebled and its weekly circulation pushed far beyond that of any other weekly newspaper in the country. This great increase has been won, as The World believes, by two means, namely, ceaseless activity in collecting news, and unflinching loyalty to its facts. It is our hope and it will be our aim, to make The World's record for 1880 may be written in the approval and the support of many thousands more of new readers in all parts of this indissoluble Union of Indestructible States.
