FARMERS' MEETING

HELD ATTHE COURT HOUSE ON TUES-DAY LAST.

Favoring the Abolishment of Compulsor Weighing of Hay, Free Scales and Salaried Weigh-Masters-The Orange Grove

Bridge Given a Black Eye. A meeting of representative farmers was held at the court house, Ellicott City, on Tuesday last, to consider questions demanding action by the legislature in the interests of the agricultural community, and to select delegates to the farmers' convention which will begin its sessions in Baltimore Thursday of next week.

Mr. L. A. Lambert, of the Third district, was called to the chair, and Mr. Albert Dorsey was elected secretary.

Mr. John H. Herbert set forth one of the objects of the meeting as the consideration of the present methods of weighing hay and other farm products at the State hay scales. He thought the present rate too high and advocated either abolishing the scales or the fixing of more reasonable charges for weighing. He said that he would gladly take the contract for weighing at the rate of 25 cents per wagon-load, and suggested a variety of plans whereby the rate could be made to average this figure. Upon motion of Mr. John W. Renehan, a committee was appointed by the chair to propose resolutions upon the question hand. Chairman Lambert named Messrs. John H. Herbert, A. C. Devries and G. W. Linthicum.

While the committee was out a number of gentlemen expressed their views upon other matters which they deemed it advisable for the meeting to consider. Mr. John J. Vernay spoke in regard to the present weighing of cattle at the Union stock yards. He claimed that since the abolishment of State weighing. a combination of corporations had been made against the farmers and a long attendant train of ills had been the result.

Mr. Thomas C. Maxwell made the point that if this were true in regard to the weighing of cattle, ill effects might reasonably be anticipated from the doing away with State weighing of hay and other produce.

Mr. John W. Renehan addressed the meeting in regard to the contemplated bridge over the Patapsco river at Orange Grove and in the line of the Wilkens Avenue extension. He claimed that Howard county was not lacking in public spirit, and the disposition of the people of the Third district to do their share of public improvement was evinced by the road improvements recently made in that district. But when it came to an enabling act to place a debt upon the whole county for extra ordinary improvements in any particu lar neighborhood, he was opposed to it If any enabling act be passed, said he, let it confer power on the county commissioners to lay a special tax in any neighborhood where improvements were his in any district where improve ments were contemplated, but it was not right to exact more of anybody

The committee, of which Mr. Herbert was chairman, was unable to submit any definite suggestions in the absence of data in regard to the business done at the hay scales. Upon motion of Mr. J. N. Miller a vote was taken to ascertain the sense of the meeting on the removal of the compulsory feature of weighing as applicable to the farmer at the State has scales. Upon discussion of the question Mr. Samuel Gaither urged that if the compulsory feature of weighing were re moved, the scales would not pay enough to keep the weigh-masters. The vote favored the compulsory weighing, but upon motion for reconsideration, made by Mr. William Henry Forsythe the o testion was opened up again, and after so ne discussion and amendment a reso nution was passed favoring the removal of the compulsory feature of weighing as applicable to the farmer, making the scales free, and recommending the appointment of weigh-masters at a fixed salary payable by the State. Mr Gaither, in antagonizing this resolution,said: "I am opposed to making any more salaried officers. The salary is generally large and a nucleus around which politicians will circle. We are making a mistake."

Mr. John W. Renehan submitted the following resolution which was adopted Whereas, The suggestion has gone rth that it will be proposed to have an ct passed by the legislature of Maryland abling the county commissioners of oward county, to appropriate $12,500, thereabouts, for the purpose of build a bridge over the Patapsco river, to itinue an avenue from Baltimore lative Athletes Surprised. A gentleman, who was at Annapolis at the beginning of the legislative session, tells a story on Senator John G. Rogers, of Howard county. While waiting his turn in an Aunapolis barber shop patronized largely by Senators and Delegates, several legislative athletes began displaying their muscularity with a thirty-eight-pound dumb bell. After some little time Senator Rogers was invited to take hold of the bell. Being a man much averse to personal display of any kind, Mr. Rogers declined. Being repeatedly urged, however, he seized bell with one hand and with perfect case put it at arm's length and at right angles to his body a number of times. The athletic gentlemen, who had not attempted and would not attempt auch a thing stared until their eyes bulged like saucers. They did not know that the Senator from Howard had frequent ly held fifty-one pounds at arm's length. Their deferential manner afterward indicated unmistakably the respect which Senator Rogers will command at Annapolis, not only for his intellectual qualities, but also for his physique.

An entertainment given in Oella Hall terrible end. Between nine and ten o'clock, when the program was nearing its end, a hanging lamp near the door was knocked down and exploded. Instantly there was a blaze and the air was filled with the cries of women and childfire, and all the windows having iron bars. A few cooler heads allayed the excitement so far as possible and fought the flames, finally extinguishing the fire. At one time loss of life seemed imminent. Fortunately burned decorations, bruises, abrasions, torn clothing and broken benches comprised the damage done.

In 1866 he married rilla, and it is manifested every day in Miss Orear, of Virginia, and returned to the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more,-proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use. This positive merit Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses by virtue of the peculiar combination, proportion and process used in its preparation, and by which all the remedial value of the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus Peculiar to Itself and absolutely unequalled in its power as a blood puritier, and as a tonic for building up the weak and weary, and giving nerve events of the season. Salviniat the Academy. Alexander Salvini, the popular romantic actor, will open a week's engagement at Harris's Academy next season in Baltimore. The amusementloving public of the city looks forward with pleasure to the appearance of Mr. Salvini, who has won the suffrages of all the cities of the country, and who is popularly alluded to as "the youngest of great actors and the greatest of young actors." The engagement opens on Monday night with D'Ennery's beautiful romence, "Don Cæser de Bazan," to be followed Tuesday night by Dumas' celebrated masterpiece, "The Three Guardsmen," and on Wednesday night with Horace Towsend's romantic love idyl, "A Child of Naples." The usual matinees will be given and these popular plays repeated.

Ford's Bill of the Play. "The Soudan," the romantic play which Henry Petit and Augustus Harris produced in London under the title of 'Human Nature," will be presented next yeek at Ford's Grand Opera House by Mr. Eugene Tompkin's company. For magnificent tableaux, beautiful scenic effects, stirring situations and a strong and consistent story, "The Soudan" is among the best. It has a plenitude of work equipping houses with electric strongly drawn and sharply contrasted light fixtures. The Howard House was characters. The play is in five acts, with numerous changes of scene, all of which are made without lowering the curtain and by simply turning down the lights. The changes which are done very rapidly are at times of such striking character that they call forth spontaneous bursts of applause. The story of the play is told rapidly, and the tiresome waits so frequent in spectacular productions of this order are happily avoided. The action throughout is brisk, and thus, while the plot is of the old melodramatic order, and includes the wronged wife, the polished, scheming villain, the trusting husband and the beautiful adventuress and numerous other characters familiar by years of dramatic association, it never becomes tiresome, it is too well told. Matinees as usual.
