DEATH OF Z. M. ISAAC.

HIS WAS A LONG AND HONORABLE CAREER.

Over Four Score Years Old-His Funeral Tuesday Largely Attended—The Local

Countian at Jessup's. Mr. Z. M. Isaac, one of the oldest, best known and most highly respected residents of Ellicott City, died here late Saturday afternoon, in his eighty-fourth year. The infirmities of his advanced age had confined him to his room for several months. The deceased began life aa a stonemason. Later, as a contractor, he accumulated considerable means. In politics he was a Democrat. He had been mayor of Ellicott City and had been in the city council. He had also served as school commissioner of over 85 cents on the dollar should be re-Howard county and was for many years a local school trustee. He had long been a member of Emory Methodist Episcopal Church, of Ellicott City. His wife, who was a Miss Ware, of Baltimore county, died three years ago. His children, who survive, are Mr. Wm. M. Isaac, of Towson, Baltimore county; Miss Mattie Isaac, formerly a successful school teacher of Baltimore county but who ministered to her father in his declining years, and the wife of ex-President Benjamin C. Sunderland, of the Howard county board of county commissioners. Mr. A. J. Isaac, a well known resident of Ellicott City, is a brother of the deceased, as was also the late George W. Isaac.

The funeral took place from his late residence Tuesday morning in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives. Services were conducted by Rev. D. M. Browning, of the M. E. Church, assisted by Rev. W. T. D Clemm, of Baltimore. The pall-bearers were: Mayor Edward Norris, Henry France, Charles L. Hartley, Charles A Herrmann, William H. McKenzie and Samuel F. Burgess. A large assemblage of representative people was present Interment was in Loudon Park Cemeterv.

She is of middle life, and while the children of the neighborhood do not call her "Aunt Jane," she, in good, old-fashioned, plantation accents, neaks to them as "babies."

During the heated term, "Miss Jane." as the colored children call her, keeps her conveniently arranged cook-stove on a little rear porch, and when the smoke emerges from the pipe and rises skyward, an observer on Main street might naturally suppose that it came from any place except where a cook stove was ikely to be, and in view of recent fire scares, it is not remarkable that a timid observer might instinctively exclaim

On the evening of last week, already alluded to, rather later than the usual baking time in well regulated households, Jane was sitting up-stairs thinking with satisfaction of what progress a very fragrant and toothsome pie was making. There was a lull and quiet that seemed portentous, when crash! went the front door, down stairs. Open it burst as though struck with a sledge hammer. The lock had been smashed at one blow. Down the steps from above fell the child, wild with fright, while Jane felt frozen to her chair. Whether the lights had been extinguished or not she could not tell, but all seemed dark before her eyes. Had

She had no time to deliberate, how ever, for the crash was followed by tramping feet, and wild-eyed men who ooked like giants and who seemed to wield axes and all sorts of horrible weapons were at hand. The street was full of hubbub as though a regiment were outside. Then came a rattle of wheels, the clank of metal and the tamult of voices without. The horrible ery of "Fire!" and the fancied ringing of tire bells fell on the terror-stricken woman's car and she recognized the uniforms and manly figures of the Ellicott City fire brigade. Upon the first alarm the company had gallantly responded, and as the quickly manned truck dashed Club, which had been holding its reguwith the rest to the scene of the reported

FIERCE FIGHT BETWEEN MILL MEN AND DETECTIVES.

Homestead, Pa., the Scene of Awful Deeds -Millionaire Carnegie Locks Out His Employes-Pinkertons, Sent to Homestead. Meet Resistance-Men Killed on Both Sides.

The result of the lockout of several thousand employes of the Carnegie Iron and Steel Company at Homestead, Pa., has DID YOU EVER been a labor war. Twenty men have been killed and perhaps double that number wounded. The fight was between mi.l employes DID YOU EVER and Pinkerton detectives, employed by the Messrs. Carnegie, to overawe the mill men. The fight began at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning and continued all day, resulting in the surrender of the Pinkertons who were at once confined as prisoners. Of the twenty men killed nine are detectives and eleven mill men.

The riot Wednesday was the culmina tion of the troubles which have been brewing at Homestead for the past month. The govern their workmen in the steel plants and announced that it was their ultimatum. The scale made a sweeping reduction in the wages of skilled men, and it was officially announced that unless the terms were complied with before July 1, the places of the workmen would be filled by others. This was followed by a peremptory refusal on the part of the did damage in upper Howard and in company to recognize the Amalgamated Association of Steel and Iron Workers as such, or to confer with any committee of the workmen short of an acceptance of the terms offered. The men stated that they would never submit to the proposed reduction, and announced their determination to resist any effort on the part of the Carnegies to start up their plants with non-union men.
