MATTERS TRANSPIRING IN AN AROUND ELLICOIT CITY.

A Trio Who Adopted Bayard Taylor' Plan of Seeing the Country-The Chantauqua Lectures-Other Matters.

Three weary, dusty travelers arrived at Camden Station Thursday night says the Baltimore Sun of Saturday last. They were members of the East Branch Y. M. C. A. Tramp Club and had just arrived from Ellicott City, after a tramp of eighty-three miles through Washington, Frederick, and Howard counties. The walkers left Pen-Mar last Monday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock and walked to Hagerstown, passing through Smithsburg, Funkstown, Cavetown and Chews. ville arriving at Hagerstown at 7.45 o'clock. They proceeded at once to the Hagerstown Y. M. C. A. rooms, and after removing some of the signs of travel they had supper. They were off again by 6.30 Tuesday morning and took dinner at Boonsborough, just at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains. They left Boonsborough about 3.30 P. M. and crossed the Blue Ridge into the beautiful Middletown Valley to Middletown, where they spent the night at the Sparrow's City Hotel. Wednesday morning at 6.30 o'clock found them again on the road across the Catoctin mountain, from | slave in the Dorsey family previous to the summit of which a beautiful view of the valley was had with its fertile fields | years since was a trusted employe on the and historic spots. Leaving the summit the travelers went down to Frederick City and took dinner there. Leaving Frederick at 3.45 P. M. they went to New Market and stayed there all night. They left New Market at 5.35 o'clock Thursday morning and went to Ridgeville, six miles distant, for breakfast. From Ridgeville they went to Lisbon, five miles, for dinner; and from Lisbon they went through to Ellicott City, twenty miles, arriving there at 9.45 P.M. At Ellicott City they took the 10 o'clock train for Baltimore. Dr. W. C. L. Gorton left the party at Frederick, where his family are spending the summer, and the other walkers, Physical Director C. Houses are in great demand at Cat- DID YOU EVER onsville. It is said there is not a house for rent now in the town. People from the city come out and rent for three or four years, and then decide to buy or build and make permanent residences. State Senator Hubner expects to build half-dozen houses this year.

Building has been brisk at Halethorpe on the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, in the thirteenth district of Baltimore county. Twenty-four houses have been erected and ten others will be built this fall. The land at Halethorpe is owned by County Commissioner Rittenhouse and Oregon R. Benson.

Justice Albert Smith, of Catonsville, reported to the Baltimore county, commissioners, Tuesday, that no more inmates will be received at present from Baltimore county at the House of Correction; and that two that he had recently committed there had been returned. The justice said he had not committed a person to the county jail for seven months, but had sent three prisonnoisy demonstrations made by some of the colored population.

Superintendent J. Jesse Moore says no prisoners have been refused at the House of Correction, and that the statestance take Samuel J. Randall with a ment made to the Baltimore county commissioners that "no more prisoners will be received at present" is an error. Mr. B. N. Baker, president of the Atlantic Transport Company, is having a magnificent country home built on the site of the one that was destroyed by tire. It will be situated in the midst of a beautiful natural grove about one mile and a-half from Catonsville. The structure will be in the Hanoverian style of architecture. It will be built of "niggerhead" stone, laid with Portland cement, while the arches, sills, lintels and other trimmings will be of Ellicott City granite. The main structure will have an imposing front 60 feet long, 40 feet deep and 50 feet high. It will be surmoun. ted by an inclosed balcony, from which can be seen a broad sweep of the surrounding country. Attached to this will be a side building for servants' quarters, pantries, kitchen and laundry, 37 feet long and two stories high. A terrace fifteen feet wide will surround the entire building at the first floor, broadening out into large, roomy piazzas at both the front and rear enrances to the main building. The piazzas will be held in place by fluted lonic columns eleven feet high. There will be four of the columns at the front and eight at the rear. Above the front doorway will be a handsome arched frontispiece inlaid on each side with leaded stained glass, as will also be the lights on the side of the main doorway. The entire front entrance will be capped with a broken pediment and urn. The roof will be covered with red tiles and will reach the eaves of the house at sharp angles. It will rest on a broad cornice of Ellicott City granite. The main hallway will extend through the entire width of the building. It will be forty feet long and eighteen feet wide. In it will be a broad fireplace, such as are often seen in old colonial homes. The hall will be furnished in white ena mel. To the right of the main entrance will be the drawing room, twenty-two feet long by eighteen feet wide, which will also be finished in white enamel. Adjoining it will be a library fifteen by eighteen feet, finished in chestnut and bright and inviting. To the left of the hall will be the din ing-room entrance. The dining-roon will be 18 by 30 feet, and finished in old oak. The stairways will be of oak and the doors and doorways of mahogany. There will be ten chambers in the upper constitution, but I want to get married stories, all finished in natural white pine. The house will be supplied with a hotair furnace and lighted by both gas and electricity.

Sleep on Left Side. Many people are unable to sleep on their left side. The cause has long been a puzzle to physicians.
