DEATHS, ACCIDENTS AND WHIRL OF THE SOCIAL WORLD. Death of Dr. I. J. Martin and Mr. Michae

G. Dorsey-Town and County News in Great Variety-A Large Budget from Sykesville-A First-class Fox Story.

After an illness of about three-weeks having been stricken with paralysis, she was preparing for dinner, the Rev. Isaac J. Martin, M. D., died here at trinket was revealed. his residence on Thursday at about noon, in the 79th year of his age. He was born in New Jersey and was a resident of this place for about forty-five years. His early life was spent in Philadelphia and was a graduate of the College of Pharmacy of that city. Beside being a pharmacist of high repute he was a regularly ordained minister of the gospel in the Methodist Episcopal Church and was a gentleman of unusual intelligence and piety, and though holding no regular appointment was frequently called upon to hold forth the gospel of peace at at times and places as he was needed. He was held in high esteem by those who placed the utmost confidence in his judgment and in matters pertaining to business, domestic affairs or religion he was frequently consulted by the hum-ble and dependent. In his younger and more vigorous days he was a decided factor in furthering the moral and material interests of the community in which rebuke or the breathings of the spirit as he uttered the words of truth from the pulpit in prayer or exhortation were always heeded with the most profound respect and attention. A useful, quiet, unostentatious citizen he passes away as one whose life is worthy of emulation, because he was a living epistle known of men," whose walk and conversation His funeral will take place this (Saturday) afternoon at 2 30 o'clock, from the house. Interment in St. John's Ceme-

Death of Michael G. Dorsey. Mr. Michael G. Dorsey, one of the most prominent and highly esteemed residents of Howard county, died Monday afternoon at the home of hisson-inlaw, Mr. James T. Clark, near Columbia, in the Fitth district, in his eightieth year. He was for a long period successfully engaged in farming, but later carried on the oyster-packing business in Annapolis, where he was well and favorably known. He retired a few years ago from active work, since which time he had been residing at his old homestead, now occupied by his son-in-law, Mr. James T. Clark. He leaves an extensive family connection, both in Howard county and other sections of the state. He had been a widower for a number of years. His surviving children are Mrs. Louis Gassaway, of Annapolis; Mrs. James T. Clark, and Mr T. J. Dorsey, of Howard county.

The funeral took place on Weednesday at 2 P. M. Interment in the old countries from whence the company draw the immense stock of teas, coffees the many States and Territories in which are located the towns and cicles where the company is represented by branch stores from which their goods are dis pensed. When we take into consideration the fact the company have two hundred branch stores in the different cities and towns of the United States and employ a line of ocean steamers to freight the great stock of goods they use in their business, it will at once be seen it requires a vast amount of invested capital to secure the goods to supply their trade. The sugar alone sold by this company is no small item of commercial value-going well into the millions annually. In the city of Baltimore this company have several branch stores the main store is located at 213-215 N Eutaw street, near the great Lexington market, and it has recently been renovated, painted, the walls embellished with costly scenic paintings ap; ropriate to the line of business, and of the countries from whence their stock is drawn. In the lighting of the establishment costly candiebra and chandeliers have been pu in of the most recent pattern, adapted for either gas or electricity. In fact it will be time well spent on the part of our readers to pay a visit to the store of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company at 213-215 N. Eutaw street, Baltimore, to inspect the artistic skill and good taste displayed on the part of Mr. W. J. McCoubrey, the genial manager for Baltimore, in fitting up this establishment. It is not necessary for us to say anything in praise of the Teas, Coffees and Spices sold by the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, as many of our housekeepers are fully conversant with that fact already. ### SYKESVILLE NEWS.

SYKESVILLE, Dec. 10th, 1892 -Mr. and Mrs J. Henry Steele, of Freedom District, Carroll county, gave a reception to celebrate the 21st birthday of their son, Guy Wakeman Steele, on Friday evening, December 9th. The young gentleman is a recent graduate of Rock Hill College, where he made a good record and received various medals in the fields of both literature and athletics. He is now a law student preparatory to admission to the Westminister bar. A collation was served during the evening, at which the table was illuminated by twenty-one wax tapers. attracted by the persistent barking of a fox. Following the sound, he found a was "treed" on top of a fence. The cat jumped to the ground and was at once seized by the fox, whose cars she boxed smartly and was dropped like a hot potato. A hot chase then occurred down 'a high head and a lovely tail," and puss with flattened ears, doing her best to save her fur. This lasted for several hundred yards, when just as the fox's lose touched the cat's tail, she sprang to the fence again, and scene first was repeated. Mr. Lee then put in an appearance when sly-boots, apparently hinking that "two was company," leaped a ditch and disappeared in a wood nearby, and puss struck a bee-line for
