THE COLD. Not within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has the weather in Maryland been so persistently cold. We had become accustomed to took upon our climate as anything but the frigid aspect it has presented during the past few weeks. At this writing every stream in the State is ice-bound and about six inches of snow in the southern sections with eighteen inches or more in the northern sections. The winter is in all respects old-fashioned, the kind that our fathers are wont to tell about. The cold has seen wide spread, the mercury standing much below the freezing point at New Orleans and reaching eighteen below zero at Chicago, while at St. Paul and points north of that an arctic frigidity has been prevailing. The change from our late mild winters to the present one is most acceptable. We have been swept by the grip and threatened with cholera, both doubtless, bred by abnormally mild weather, and it is reas inches to suppose that the present and if freighted as it is with oxygen and ozone will be the means of dissinating in a great measure the disease germs which are supposed to be every where lurking ready to germinate in the spring, and go forth on a mission of destruction. The present weather has not been peculiar to this continent. Europe has been storm swept and cold. The streams far into Italy are frozen while the more northern latitudes are experiencing the extreme limits. Much suffering and a number of deaths there are reported. Among the poor in many sections of Europe fuel is too great a luxury to be obtained and they are often called upon to suffer privations unknown in this country.

The New York World of Tuesday thus descants upon the weather: This weather will go down in history. For a good many years to come all cold snaps will be compared with it. It has broken all previous records, and there is no telling when it is going to end.

One can hardly place his finger on the map of the United States or Canada and find a place where water will not freeze if it is left out of doors. The temperature reaches the freezing point clear to the middle of Florida. And that is mighty cold weather for Florida. The mercury registered 56 degrees in Key West yesterday. That is an unheard of temperature there, and is bound to play the mischief with oranges. At other places along the Gulf of Mexico they are worse off. At Mobile and Pensacola it was 8 degrees below the freezing point yesterday, and it was only 6 degrees warmer at New Orleans.

The centre of the cold wave is over Eastern Tennessee. At Knoxville it was 10 degrees below zero yesterday. That simply smashes all previous records into little bits. Northern Georgia and Alabama had minus weather, too. At Atlanta, Ga., it was 8 degrees above zero, which means that business is practically suspended. Norfolk, Va., thermometers showed 4 degrees below zero.

It would seem that the Northwest had parted with all its cold weather. But it hasn't. At St. Vincent, which is usually one of the coldest places in the | night last, at eleven o'clock, of neuralgia United States, it was 32 degrees below zero. At Duluth it was 10 below. Chicago has been catching it, too. It was 18 degrees below zero there, and there are probably few places on earth as cold as Chicago is when the mercury is below zero. So it will be seen that the whole country is uniting with New York in one grand-hiver There is no place one can go to escape the cold.

THE GOVERNOR NOT DISPOSED. Notwithstanding the numerous petitions Gov. Brown has received asking the pardon of Stephenson Archer he is inclined to ignore them all on the simple ground that Archer is an unworthy subject for executive clemency. On Wednesday the Governor was called upon by Rev. Dr. Brand, of Harford county, who eloquently pleaded for clemency, but the Governor flatly refused to give the reverened gentleman any encouragement. A News reporter who saw Governor Brown afterwards gained from him the gist of his reasons for a denial of clemency. To the reporter he said:

"I have dozens and dozens of strong petitions coming in all the time to grant pardons to people who have committed various classes of small offenses-petitions to pardon men who have been guilty of larceny or robbery, and I cannot grant them.

"Why should I pardon Archer? He has never told what he did with the money he took. Very many people believe he used the State's money for political purposes, that he used it for the purpose of aiding the party which had nored him for so many years. I am in a position to know that this is not the case; although Archer may have used the money for his own political advancement, he did not use it for the party, many poople believe that he did. "Why don't he tell what he did with the money? It belonged to the people of the State, and they have a right to know what became of it.

"Archer has not shown that he is sorry for what he has done. I think the proper way for him to show that he is sorry is to make a clear statement of what he did with that money. The people have a right to know it. "I am sorry for Archer's family, but I have a duty to perform to the people of the State. The very fact that he is a man of education, a man of distinguished family and of former high position in the party and State, makes his crime all the worse." Charles A. Herrman offers his servi-

THE KENT COUNTY EXECUTION. Four of the murderers of Dr. Hill in Kent county were hanged on the 13th inst., the Governor having commuted the sentences of the other four to imprisonment for life. While a great deal of indignation in the county was expressed at this action of the Governorthesentiment throughout the State is that the Governor did right, and so we think it will be with the people of Kent county when they relapse into a condition of viewing the affair in its right light. The murder was a most aggravated one to be sure, but the law does not contemplate revenge. It works surely, not often swiftly, and only seeks vindication. A large number of persons in Kent in their excitement thought of little else than to wreak a wholesale vengeance upon all those who in any way were connected with the murder. In the execution of the four the law was fully vindicated and the State spared the opprobrium of strangling four boys, who evidently had not premeditated the murder. An inflamed condition of the country once demanded the hauging of Mrs. Surratt, a tragedy that many afterwards regretted that they had ever been actors in.

FRANCE'S CRISIS.

The investigation of the Panam anal scandal is causing republican France more uneasiness than probabl my thing else that could have occurred The failure of the canal project from a mpracticable point of view would have een bad enough, but to have coupled with it a d .ersion of the company's funds to private uses, and large amounts to persons and newspapers to keep quiet upon the subject, has largely produced the impression among the people that, after ali, a republican form of government is not what was claimed for it. The monarchists are only waiting for a stir among the people-a dissent that will take tangible form-and they are on hand to take charge of any movement that will cause anarchy, and, as they believe, in the end, a restoration of monarchy.

It is to the credit of the more enlightened, however, that they view the situation in a different light. Had such a state of things existed under a monarchy, the crucial investigations now going on would never have been begun. It has cost France severely in money and reputation, but if she can lay bare the scandal and punish the perpetrators, she will come out of it purified and stronger.

The best compilation of the Maryland school law that has come to our notice is from the house of J. H. Medairy & Co., Baltimore, in a handy volume of 58 pages. Not only is the statute law given but the substance of all decisions by the court of appeals as footnotes to all portions of the law upon which adjudication has been obtained. Supplemented considerate.—New York Herald. to the work are the by-laws and regulations of the State Board of Education together with rulings of that body upon doubtful points which have arisen in the conduct of Maryland schools. The whole is conveniently summarized

We are indebted to the Howard County Progress for a complimentary allusion to THE TIMES last week. The most chilling incident of week was when the weather bureau announced the coming of a cold wave.

These words are very familiar to our eaders, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "Heart Disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Smothering Spells, Swollen Ankles, Asthmatic Breathing, Weak and Hungry Spells, Tenderness in Shoulder or Arm, Fluttering of Heart or Irregular Pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at A. G. Of Catarrh and You Have Permanent Cure. Diseases of long standing require long and

This is unquestionably a constitutional disease and therefore requires a Constitutional Remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Local applications, like snuffs and other inhalants, can at best give only temporary relief, as they reach only the result and not the cause of the disease. The latter is found in the impure taint in the blood, which Hood's Sarsaparllla removes, and thus the benefit derived from this medicine to permunent.

The Number "Three" in the Bible. When the world was created we find it and its surroundings composed of three elements-air, water and land-the whole lighted by the sun, moon and stars. Adam had three sons mentioned by name, and so did Noah the patriarch. Daniel was thrown into a den with three lions for the crime of praying three times. Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were rescued from the fiery furnace. Job had three special friends. There were three patriarchs-Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Samuel was called three times; Elijah prostrated himself three times on the dead body of the child; Samson deceived Delilah three times before she discovered the secret of his great power, and the Ten Commandments were delivered on the third day. Jonah was three days and nights in the whale's belly. "Simon, lovest thou me?' was repeated three times. Paul makes mention of the Three Graces-Faith, Hope and Charity. The famous allegorical dreams of the baker and Lutler were to come to pass in three days. Then we have the Holy Trinity-Father, Son and Holy Ghost; the sacred letters on the cross were three in number, they being I. H. S.; so also the famous Roman metto was composed of three words -viz., In hoc signo.-St. Louis Republic.

This man Hubbs built a large, stately barn at the end of a long, shady avenue of mapies. At the end of ten years Hibbs' big house had broken him up, and Hubbs' big torn had enabled him to buy Hibbs' stately dwelling for about half price and move it over on his own farm. Hubbs has a big dwelling and a big barn and represents his county in the state legislature. Hibbs has a little log cabin and a little log stable and is trying to sell out to Hubbs. He wants to quit farming and travel with a peddling wagon.-Toronto Mail.

Unconscious Feminine Crucity. "Let me off at Thirteenth street, conductor," said a woman as she paid her fare on a Broadway car at Cortlandt

The car was packed, the place just two miles away and the woman a New Yorker. From 50 to 100 people would get on and off, half a hundred stops were to be made and something like a half to three-quarters of an hour would be consumed before reaching Thirteenth street. Yet this woman, who bore evidences of more than ordinary intelligence in her face and from her easy self assurance every indication of being able to take care of herself, expected the conductor to remember her request and to put her off at the right street.

The Broadway conductors are the hardest worked, most abused and criticised railroad officials in this city, but this is the sort of thing they are called upon to endure every hour in the day. It is usually at the hands of women, and is unnecessary, foolish and cruelly in-

Ammonia in Coal. Some 13,600,000 tons of coal are burned in London yearly. About 4,000,000 are utilized by the gas manufacturing companies; 9,000,000 are burned in household and industrial fire grates. More Than He Bargained For. I was making fine headway with my lecture, and at the proper time I glanced over the crowd and said, "Will the gentleman with the red nose please rise to his feet?" We have secured the agency for these Cutters, and take great pleasure in presenting them to our friends and patrons as the KING OF CUTTERS.

THEY HAVE MANY POINTS OF MERIT OVER ALL OTHERS, REQUIRING ONE-THIRD LESS POWER TO DO ONE-THIRD MORE WORK. THEY ARE BETTER FINISHED THAN ANY OTHER CUTTER ON THE MARKET, ARE STRONGER, MORE DURABLE, AND CAN BE RUN AT A GREAT SPEED.

They are built with three shape knives, the Convex, asshown above, the Concave and Straight. We will send this cutter to any responsible party, subject to their approval, or on trial with any other cutter providing the customer buys the machine doing
