CARDINAL GIBBONS AT ST. PAUL'S. He Confirms a Large Number and Preaches

a Characteristic Sermon. Cardinal Gibbons came out to Ellicott City from Baltimore Saturday evening, and, after taking tea with Hon. Henry E. Wootton, went to the residence of Rev. Father Tarro, with whom he spent the night. Sunday he preached at St. Paul's Church and confirmed a class of eightythree persons, a number of whom were adults. He celebrated mass at eight o'clock, when a large class received their first communion from his hands. The music of the mass, which was of a high order, was under the direction of Brothers Luke and Louis, of Rock Hill well lighted and ventilated and furnish-College. Cardinal Gibbons preached an ed with comfortable seats. The exact eloquent sermon. He closed his remarks rate of fare has not been decided upon of instruction by advising the boys to but by the terms of the franchise there is abstain from the use of intoxicating a limit to the charges. promised to do. Among the clergymen who occupied seats in the sanctuary were Rev. Fathers Boursand and Conway, of Woodstock College; Fathers McKenney, Hogan and Chapius, of St. Charles College; Rev. Fathers Schaur and Albert J. Stern, of Ilchester College. Rev. Father Tarro, pastor of St. Paul's Church, was master of ceremonies. The Carainal's text was from the sixth chapter of St. John. He said, in part: "Of all the virtues in the life of the Redeemer none was more prominent than His compassion for suffering humanity. It was a salient point of His character, and marked his work upon earth. Very rarely did He use language of severity, always exercising mercy and compassion. This fact shines forth in every page of the Gospels. Well may we call to mind the words of the gentiles, 'Blessed be God, the Father of Jesus Christ, the God of comfort. Observe that His miracles were more conspicuous for beneficence and utility rather than for brilliancy.

"Christ never changed rivers into blood, as Moses did, nor killed the firstborn of the land; nor commanded the sun to stand still, as Joshua did. On the contrary, he gave sight to the blind. hearing to deaf, strength to the paralyzed, and raised the dead to life, at the same time elevating to the life of grace and friendship with God those who were buried in sin. An example of His compassion was shown in His attachment informed by Mary and Martha that Lazarus was dead, we are told that He wept thrice at the tomb of Lazarus. Those tears of Christ produced more consolation to the human race that all the mirthprovoking books in existence. He meant to teach us that He had not only a divine personalty, but also a tender manhood. Manliness does not always exclude tenderness. It is not incompati ble to tender sensibility, especially tenderness for those who suffer. He wished to control the spirit of the world, teach ing us that man may possess abundance,

St. Paul's Church has recently been renovated, besides several important and handsome improvements having been added, including which are two memorial windows, one to the memory of the late pastor, Rev. John J. Dougherty, and the other to the memory of the late Admiral R. H. Wyman. The other windows are the gifts, respectively, of the faculty of Rock Hill College, Mrs. II. E. Wootton, of Ellicott City, and Miss Mary Farrel, of Baltimore. A beautiful and costly sanctuary table was presented to the church by Mr. D. S. Ringgold, of Baltimore. The top of the table is made of onyx. The columns are of green Irish marble, and the bottom is made of Italian and Tennessee marble.

Meeting of Good Templars.

District Lodge No. 3, Independent Order Good Templars, assembled in quarterly session in Odd Fellows' Hall, this city, on Tuesday last, 14th inst. Sessions were held in the morning and afternoon, and were open to members of the order. At night a public meeting was held in the Methodist Church. The morning session commenced

10.30 o'clock, with District Chief Templar B. Frank Keyes, of Howard county, in the chair. Several District officers being absent, the vacancies were filled by appointment. Candidates entitled to the degrees were invested with the same Considerable routine business was transacted. At noon an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock. The afternoon session was occupied in appointing committees on special work and to look after lodges within the jurisdiction of the District Lodge. Delegates present gave encouraging reports of the lodges in Howard county and adjoining districts. Other important business was brought up for action. At 430 o'clock the session was concluded.

The following lodges were represent ed at the meeting: Patapsco Lodge Ellicott City; Gary Lodge, Alberton Poplar Springs Lodge, Montevue Lodge, Lisbon Lodge, Daisy Lodge, Cooksville Lodge and Bethany Lodge.

The following officers of the Maryland Grand Lodge were present: Rev. C. J. Burdette, of Montgomery county, gran chief templar; Frank I. Lewis, of Mount Airy, grand secretary; Wm. M. Fowler of Rockville, grand marshal; J. J. Bielfeld, of Frederick, grand counsellor Miss Nettie Parlette, of Baltimore, grand superintendent juvenile templars. The next session of the District Lodge will be held at Ivory, Howard county, in June next. The visiting Templars were entertained by the members of Patapsco Lodge, and at noon a substantial lunch was served in the truck house. Supper was served at half-past five o'clock. The public meeting was held at 7.30 in the evening. Rev. Edward Hayes, of Baltimore, and Rev. Frank R. isaac, of Harford county, addressed the gathering on the subject of temperance, and Rev. D. M. Browning, of this city, also made a few remarks. Miss Blanche Vansant gave a vocal solo. There were readings by Misses Mamie Merson and Susie Jones, and a recitation by Miss Maggie Clarke. There were also a number of choruses. The inclement weather prevented a large attendance, but those present seemed pleased with the exercises.

The Boulevard to Be Built.

The Baltimore Sunday News states as fact that within a few days the Baltinore and Washington Boulevard and Tramway Company, as it is officially known, will be reorganized and plans Arundel county. The meeting was in will be adopted for building the connecting boulevard and electric railway between the two cities of Baltimore and Washington.

The boulevard will follow the lines of the existing turnpikes as far as possible to obtain the most direct route. Where necessary a new road will be cut through private property. The grade will be changed, and, with hills cut down and hollows filled, a nearly level road will be secured for driving and riding.

The cars to be used on the line will be especially designed for fast traveling, and will be heavily built. They will be to about 50 cents for the trip.

Besides the direct returns from the investment in the boulevard, the capitalists will be largely interested in the property development along the line of the new road. In the sections immediatel, adjoining Baltimore and Washington there is expected to be immediate settlement and building up by suburban dwellers. This will increase until, for the whole forty miles between the two cities there will be a continuous line of attractive country homes dotting the route of the boulevard.

The interests of the two cities will also be more closely joined and their growth accelerated by this connecting bond of rapid transit.

House Burned and Narrow Escape.

"White Hall," the old mansion resi dence of the place now owned and occupied by Mrs. Mary T. Ligon, was burned on Thursday night last with all its contents, the occupants, Mr. John F. Plunkett, wife and family, barely escaping with their lives. The fire occurred about 11 o'clock and was discovered by Mr. Charles W. D. Ligon, living about half a mile distant. The house had been aired at two places-at the doors on the outside—and evidently was the work of an incendiary. When Mr. Plunkett awoke he found he would have to adopt heroic measures to save himself and family. By the use of a sheet he lowerto the family of Lazarus. When He was ed each member of the family as far as it would reach and from that point they were compelled to drop to the ground, Mr. Plunkett afterwards jumping himself. All were more or less bruised by the concussion.

"White Hali" was one of the earliest lwellings of Howard county and has historic memories, having in its time een the hospitable home of Mr. Richard H. Ridgely and later of Col. Charles W. Dorsey. Mr. Plunkett is manager for Mrs. Ligon.

Conference Echoes.

Rev. J. St. Clair Neale, the Presiding Elder of West Baltimore District, which includes all the charges and appointments in Howard county, made a most gratifying report to the recent annual Baltimore, has also been visiting at the conference. The report shows the spirtual tone of the district to be improving, conversions. Steps have been taken toward erecting three new churches during the year. The Epworth League has made remarkable gains, and only a few charges are without an organization of this kind. The report also shows an excellent financial condition. In our last issue we failed to note the ssignment of Rev. E. C. Gailaher to Airy and several adjoining charges. The congregation of Fourth Street hurch, Washington, are very much dis ppointed in the removal of Rev. Wm. Thompson frem that church. Mr. Thompson is well and favorably known by many of our people, who take muci leasure in the popularity he has met with wherever he has been located. At the Fourth Street Church he has won the love and highest esteem of his entire congregation, and all along before the meeting of conference the sentiment for nis return was unanimous.

Although the people of Gaither's read in THE TIMES two weeks ago that a brass band had been organized at Sykesville, and that two aspirants for musical nonors from this place had connected themselves with the new organization, it was not a matter of news, for the silent hours of the night had been rudely dis turbed by the aforesaid would-be musicians, who were testing their abilities with tremendous effect, as the soft, sweet notes of the cornet rang clear and loud through the stillness of the night and made the air resonant with melody, we were involuntarily forced to exclaim Troublous Times at Relay.

Officer Cavey was called upon last Saturday night to quell an incipient rio at the saloon of Patrick O'Meaiy, on the Washington Road, near St. Denis, and he was obliged to swear in a number of deputies from among the residents of Relay to assist him in quelling the disturbance. A party of colored men at O'Mealy's place had been drinking freely, and, after a time, decided that they would take charge of the till. The officer, with a posse, succeeded in arresting James Conner, Wesley C. Jones, Charles Simmer and Wm. Haynes, all colored, on the charge of conspiracy to rob and rioting, but in the absence of the alleged principals the casewas carried over until the other parties shall have been arrested. Connor and Jones, however, were required to pay a fine of one dollar and cost each for swearing on the public highway, and in addition Wm. Jones made a charge of assault with intent to kill against Arthur Franklin.

Week of March 20th .- "Jane," the Merry Farce-Comedy and N. Y. Success. There will be a double bill of interest at Ford's Grand Opera House, Baltimore, folowing "Gloriana." It will consist of the nerry comedy "Jane" and its precurser, "Chums." "Jane" owes its great success to "Chums." "Jane" owes its great success to the strong and complicated development of a plot that exploits the humorous resort adopted by a spendthrift young bachelor at his wits' end to deceive the trustee of the estate, when a means to make plausible his pretended marriage is offered in the person of his mercenary housemaid, "Jane." The basis of the comedy is established and out of this has been woven a fabric abounding in unexpected turns of situations and expressed in pointed and witty dialogue. The fun starts at the beginning and until the final curtain is kept up at high pressure. The company will be the same that made such palpable hits on the comedy's former production, which is of course saying that Miss Johnstone Bennett will still portray the title role. Miss Bennett's work in "Jane" is remarkably clever and she extracts a great deal of fun out of the character she plays and her capable associates afford her the cleverest kind of support.
