THE CONVENTION.

We publish elsewhere the proceedings of the Democratic county convention held Tuesday. A marked interest in the deliberations of the convention both on the part of those present merely as spectators and the delegates themselves was manifest. If ever there was a time when Democrats should take a deep interest in their party that time is now. The Republicans are ready at any time to marshal their forces the moment they see a break or any signs of weakness in the ranks of the Democracy, The Democratic party has been called upon to deal with questions of so momentous importance-questions involving the highest statesmanship in their settlement to the satisfaction of the people-that as a patriotic duty every avenue to power should be jealously guarded against Republican intrusion or advantage. Hence the interest the rank and file continue to have in the success of the party. That the ticket is up to the standard goes without saying. Every man is excellent and true and can be depended upon to hold aloft the banner of Democracy at all times and under all circumstances. Arm for the conflict! The ticket must be elected by a sweeping majority!

A Financial Suggestion.

Mr. Henry Clews, the well-known banker, New York, has written the following letter to Comptroller Eckels: "The national bank act certainly should be amended to provide for notes being issued up to the par value of United States bonds, and another amendment would also be wise to provide for an issue of notes against the surplus capital

These two changes in the law would make an increase in national currency, would provide the nation with enough new money for its needs, and it would be the best and most legitimate kind besides. Gov. Boies Wearled With Honors.
Gov. Boies, of Iowa, is reported as having said: "I am through with polities. Under no circumstances will I accept another nomination for governor, and so far as my being a candidate for senator is concerned, such is far from the case, as I would not accept it as a gift. WASHINGTON LETTER. (From our regular correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31, 1893.-

CARLISLE RHEUMATIC. Secretary Carlisle is the only member of the Cabinet at present in Washington, and he has been confined to his house for several days this week by rheumatism, but next week President Cleveland, and the other members of the cabinet will be here, as they have been notified that the President wishes to submit the

CLEVELAND AND HIS MESSAGE. Attempts are numerous at trying to cuess the nature of the President's coming message, but it is nonsense for any. one outside of the cabinet and a few close personal friends of Mr. Cleveland -and they won't talk about it-to pretend to know. The mere fact that he will send another message to Congress at the opening of the regular session, even should the extra session remain in sion until then, and the general be lief is that it will, makes it presumable that his message to the extra session will be confined to what it was called to legislate upon-finance. And if this presumption be correct it will not indicate any change of opinion as to the necessity

PENSION REFORM. Speaking of reform, Commissioner Lochren is going right ahead in the programme mapped out for the reformation of the pension roll, notwithstanding the howl that is being raised by a few Connumber of pensions granted under the last administration without proper examination of the applicant and his papers, there were thousands granted illegaltaken up for a long time. The suspensions up to date number nearly 6,000, and if the same average be kept up in the entire 370,000 pensions granted under that law the total number of suspensions will be something like 75,000. The examination is very thorough and systematic and only those cases showing clearly some irregularity or doubt of the right of the pensioner to receive the amount he has been getting are suspened, and few, if any, of those who get restored to the roll upon a re-examination will get as large a pension as they have been receiving. SENATOR GORMAN.

"Senator Gorman," remarked a friend of the man who has proven his right by his ability on many occasions to be classed as a Democratic leader, "never announces through the newspapers his future political intentions, and that fact is so well-known that he very seldom takes the trouble to contradict the newstime purporting to give in detail what Thus we have civilization in a new role however, that his future actions, like distinct retrograde movement has any advance announcements of them include wheat, barley, oats, which may appear may always be set beans, roots, grass and hops. Mr. Porter the superintendent of the census, was so impressed with the force of this paper that he requested its free-trade author, though himself a high protectionist, to take charge of working up the of the national banks to the extent of 75 estimates of true wealth for the Eleventh Census. The paper, however, has not yet been published, but remains unseen in the custody of the Hon. William M amounting to about $150,000,000, and Springer, ex-chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means. > CAUGHT BY DECOY LETTERS. Proofs of a Postal Clerk's Guilt Found a His Home.

R. S. Burton, one of the oldest postal clerks in the railway mail service, has been arrested at Lynchburg, Va., charged with robbing the mails. For several months complaints had been received at Lynchburg about missing letters mailed from various points on the Norfolk and Western Railroad west of Lynchburg. Letters were also found in the box at the Union Depot which had the appearance of having been tampered with. Postoflice Inspectors Maxwell and

Griggs proceeded to investigate. A trap was set with the usual decoy letters containing marked money. The letters came to hand all right until Monday morning, when one was missed. Burton was the gressmen whose constituents have been clerk on the train that carried that aspended. It has already been dis- letter. The inspectors, accompanied by covered that, in addition to the large | Postmaster McLaughlin, went to the mail agent's home, on Daniel's Hill. His house was searched, and a package of eleven letters, addressed to points north of Lynchburg, with the ends of the env, knowingly and wilfully. Only those velopes cut open, $399 in currency, in granted under the act of 1890 have yet cluding $4 of marked money, were been examined and no others can be found. In the fireplace the decoy letter and envelope were found. Purton attempted no explanation, but said he intended glucing the ends of the envelopes and forwarding the letters

The government has now issued an order that if there should be any further advance in prices the horses belonging to the army shall be fed on a mixture consisting of one third corn and two thirds oats. The reports which we have received relating to the condition of farm crops in Great Britain on the 1st of this month, says the London Times, tell a more dismal story even than did the unfavorable ones we were compelled to publish a month ago. At that time matters seemed to be almost as bad as matters seemed to be almost as bad as they possibly could be, but such has been the character of the season that a been the character of the season that a those of the past, will always be such as taken place. > Scribner's Magazine for August is, as usual, a fiction number, containing six short stories, five of them illustrated, and instalments of two short serials by Robert Grant and Harold Frederic. This dea of a fiction number was first realized in Midsummer, 1889, and It has proved one of the most popular features of the magazine. In it have appeared an unusual number of short stories which have ecome famous, several of them having been the beginning of the national reputation of well-known authors. This year the writers of short stories represented are: Thomas Bailey Aldrich, H. 3. Bunner, Sarah Orne Jewett, Howard Pyle, W. H. Shelton and Grace Ellery Channing. The artists who illustrate the fiction of this number are equally skilful, including Marchetti, Howard Pyle, C. S. Reinhart, Irving R. Wiles, W. T. Smedley and W. L. Metcalf. The readers of this number will be especially pleased with the humorous element which predominates in the stories of Miss Jewett, Mr. Bunner, Mr. Grant and Mr. Shelton. A vein of refined and delicate sentiment is conspicuous in Mr. Aldrich's story "Her Dying Words," and in Miss Channing's pathethic tale of Etruria, "The House on the Hill-top." The readers of Mr. Grant's delightful satire, "The pinions of a Philosopher," will find in this issue one of the most amusing instalments which describes Fred's Congressional campaign. Mr. Frederic's powerful novel "The Copperhead," dealng with the political feeling in War time in Northern New York, in this number shows increasing dramatic strength

STATE OF MARYLAND, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS, Section one of Article fourteen of the Constitution of Maryland makes it the duty of the Governor to order the publication in certain newspapers to be designated b h.m, of any bill, or bills, passed proposing any endments to the said Constitution; and WHERPAS, at the January Session, 1892, of the General Assembly of Maryland, a bill was passed proposing an amendment to the Constitution, which amendment is Chapter 313 of the Acts of 1892, and is as follows, to wit: CHAPTER 313.

AN ACT to add an additional section to Article four of the Constitution of this SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, Three-fifths of all the members of the two houses concurring, that the following section be, and the same is hereby proposed, as an amendment to the Consti-tution of this State; and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof, as herein provided the same shall supercede and stand in the place of Section thirty-nine of Article four of said Constitution. SEC. 39. The General Assembly shall, a often as it may think the same proper and expedient, provide by law for the election of an additional Judge of the Supreme Bench of Raltimore city, and whenever provision is so made by the General Assembly, there shall be elected by the voters of said city another Judge of the Supreme Bench of Battimore city, who shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are, o shall be provided by the Constitution, or laws of this State, for the Judges of said Supreme Bench of Baltimore city, and the General Assembly may provide by laws, or th Supreme Bench by its rules, for requiring causes in any of the courts of Baltimore city to be tried before the Court without a jury unless the litigants or some one of them shal within such reasonable time or times, as may e prescribed, elect to have their causes tried before a jury. And the General Assembly may reapportion, change or enlarge the jurisliction of the several courts in said city. SEC, 2. And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to he Constitution shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their doption or rejection in pursuance of the lirection contained in Article fourteen of the Constitution of this State; and at the said general election the vote on a proposed mendment to the Constitution shall be by pallot, and upon each ballot there shall be vritten or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter may elect, and immediately after said election due eturn shall be made to the Governor of the votes for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said fourteenth Article of the Constitution Approved April 4th, 1892. We hereby certify that the aforegoing is a correct copy of an Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed January Session, W. G. PURNELL, Secretary of the Senate.

CARLTON SHAFER. Chief Clerk of the House of Delegates. Now, therefore, I, Frank Brown, Governor of Maryland do hereby order and direct that he said hereinbefore described bill, or Act of the General Assembly, proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, be published once a week for at least three months in two newspapers published in each county in this State, if so many are therein ed, and in three newspapers in the city of Baltimore, before the next ensuing genera election, which will be held on Tuesday, the seventh day of November, 1893; at which said election the proposed amendment aforesaid will be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of Maryland for adoption or rejection
