UNSTABLE SOUTH AMERICA.

Brazil is in the throes of another revolution. The navy has revolted against the administration of Peixoto, and the forces of the latter are endeavoring to defend Rio Janeiro against Mello, commander of the navy. The city has been bombarded several times and the whole country is either in a state of unrest or revolution. This seems to be the normal condition of South and Central America. When the governments are not being carried on in accordance with the ideas of a certain party they fly to arms and are generally successful. Instead of waiting for a peaceful settlement of a wrong—real or imaginary, the average American never knows which—they simply overturn the government, often at a fearful cost of life and property. The fighting South American is generally half Spaniard and half Indian. He is fierce, and in his national squabbles frequently shows a contempt for death. Of course he is ignorant and knows nothing as to what constitute the real bulwarks of his national strength. Guided only by passion and resentment his prejudices are easily aroused and the tragedy begins. As to their statesmen, many are broad-minded but are impotent in such a whirl of discontent and erroneous notions of patriotism. While all of these countries were valiant enough to free themselves from the yoke of Spain, not one has shown a stable government and in the past fifty years the whole continent has been characterized with ferment as fitful and terrible as the volcanoes which abound in these morally God-forsaken regions. This condition of South America serves as a good object lesson to the rest of the world. It is easily seen that the foundation cause of their troubles lies in the lack of intelligence among the people—the lack of a common school system, where, besides the usual curriculum, an intelligent patriotism is taught. We have the object lesson that it is impossible for a republic to grow strong unaccompanied by a high order of intelligence; that all the children should be carefully taught—profoundly impressed with the value of good order; in other words the public conscience should be raised to the highest possible standard.

Did such a condition exist in any of the South American States as exists at present in this country, revolution and blood-shed would be rife. We have the spectacle of a nation forbearing under the most trying circumstances. A vast majority of our people are urging the repeal of an odious law. A coterie of politicians in the Senate, by abusing senatorial courtesy have it in their power to thwart the wishes of the nation. The people are protesting but are willing to endure hardship rather than endanger the peace and stability of their government by demonstrations revolutionary in their character.

Our sister states in the South seem to be a long way off from the ideal republic and if in their weak and turbulent condition they should be snapped up and parcelled out by the strong powers of Europe they will have no one to blame but themselves. And as the nations of Europe must eventually replenish their exhausted resources there is no way to do it other than the acquisition of territory in the most favored portions of the globe, and who knows but that Spanish America will fall a prey, just as the nations of Africa and the more civilized nations of Asia are being absorbed?

The death of ex-Governor James B. Groome, which occurred at his residence in Baltimore on Wednesday of last week, removes a distinguished citizen.

Baltimore city presents a house divided against itself. Four municipal tickets are in the field and the political pot has begun to simmer. As a matter of course considerable noise from exhaust steam will be heard between this and the 7th of November.

The Baltimore papers just now are kept busy nailing bear rumors. Truly they are having a busy time "in town."

Mr. Compton's Speech.

Hon. Barnes Compton, made the principal speech in favor of the repeal of the federal election laws in the House last Wednesday. He spoke for more than an hour, and was listened to attentively by members on both sides of the chamber. After discussing the constitutional phase of the question, Mr. Compton referred to the plea set up by republicans that the laws were intended to protect the colored man in the South, as absurd. The laws, he said, were enacted for the sole purpose of controlling elections in New York and had been enforced principally with that end in view. He read a statement of the of the expenditures of the United States marshals on electiond days, and showed that the total amount expended in the Southern States was less than was New York State. If the laws were intended to protect the helpless colored man of the South, as the republicans claimed, why, he asked had so little effort been made to enforce them for the benefit of negroes? The truth of the matter, was, he said, that the great majority of the republican party cared nothing about the Southern negroes. They needed the election laws to carry, not Southern, but Northern Seates, and they make a pretense of trying to protect the negroes of the South in order to gain the votes of the negroes in the North. Without the aid of the negroes a number of the Northern States would be democratic.

CURES SCROFULA
Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Medford, Mass., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S.S.S. after having had much other treatment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

S.S.S. Cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula which appeared all over his face. For a year I had given up all hope of his recovery, when finally I was induced to use S.S.S. A few bottles cured him, and no symptoms of the disease remain.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

LUCANIA, THE RACER.—The Cunard steamship Lucania, the new ocean record breaker, reached her pier at New York early Saturday morning. The Lucania lowered the previous record held by the Paris by 39 minutes, and created a marvelous record for a single day's run by reeling off 560 miles. Her time from Queenstown to Sandy Hook was five days thirteen hours and forty-five minutes. Her log was 452 miles, 503, 542, 508, 560 and 210 to Sandy Hook.

ENGLAND BUYING CANADIAN COAL.—The strike in England is creating a coal famine there. A steamer has been chartered to take a cargo of 2,500 tons of coal to Liverpool. Vessels coming here are arriving late, this being accounted for by the bad quality of the coal they are forced to accept. They are paying $12 per ton for it in England.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.—The number of paid admissions to the World's Fair on Monday (Chicago day) was 713,646 and Tuesday 308,613, making a total for the two days of 1,022,259.

Closed.

The tariff hearings before the Ways and Means Committee end today. They never should have been begun. The American people decided last fall that protection was robbery, and ordered the Democratic party to destroy it. This fall the robbers go before a Democratic committee and beg to be allowed to keep on robbing!

The hearing and trial of the tariff were given last year, and are closed beyond appeal. The Ways and Means Committee is charged with the duty of carrying out the sentence. These entreaties of unrepentant spoliators for mercy are an impertinence and a waste of time.—New York Sun.

With Humor and Inflammation in the Eyes.

"My little boy fell from his high chair, injuring his nose, and severe inflammation appeared in his eyes. They were very sore for a long time. He grew worse and worse until we feared he would lose his sight entirely. Medical advice and various medicines failed to benefit him until, hearing the good Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for others, we concluded to try it. I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla

While taking two bottles the inflammation gradually disappeared, his eyes grew stronger so that he could bear the light. He was soon

He Was Born Lucky.

A Long Island man fell into a well a few days ago and found a $20 gold piece while he was gathering himself together in two feet of water. He is alive and well, and a flesh and blood example of the truth of the old adage that it is better to be born lucky than rich.—New York Advertiser.

Poisoned by Scrofula

Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of foetal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all trace of the disease and gives to the vital fluid the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept any substitute.

And the General Assembly may reapportion, change or enlarge the jurisdiction of the several courts in said city.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, That the foregoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of the direction contained in Article fourteen of the Constitution of this State; and at the said general election the vote on said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be written or printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" or "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as the voter may elect, and immediately after said election due return shall be made to the Governor of the votes for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said fourteenth Article of the Constitution.
