as will make up the difference. There is nothing craw-fishy about President Cleveland's special Hawaiian message. On the contrary, it bristles with statements showing him to have the courage of his convictions. This isn't the language of a man who has any apologies to make-"If national honesty is to be disregarded and a desire for territorial extension, or dissatisfaction with a form of government not our own. ought to regulate our conduct, I have entirely misapprehended the mission and character of our government and the behavior which the conscience of our people demands of their public servants."

What say the falsifiers who have shouted it from the housetops that Minister Willis was instructed to use force to restore the Queen to President Cleveland's own words? Following the instructions to inform the Queen of the desire of the President to restore the status of the Hawaiian government as it existed previous to its evertbrow by U. S. officials, comes this significant language: "if such restoration could be effected upon terms providing for clemency as well as justice to all parties concerned."

How very considerate these Republi can hold-over officials are! It was really touching to observe the alacrity with which Mr. Lyman resigned the presidency of the Civil Service Commission, in order that he and his Republican colleague might join in electing the one Democrat on the commission president. Why there are not two Democrats on the commission is one of those things, etc.

If the United States government must either endorse the bonds of the Nicaragua Canal Company or build the canal, it should by all means do the latter. In either case it would have to assume the Reciprocate the Farmer's Bounty. Fifty years ago the agriculture interests in this country were prosperous, rich and politically predominant. Manumen of some capital but a few in num ter of patriotism, to make sacrifices for the development of manufactures-to consent to a tariff that would keep out foreign wates, raise prices and cause capital to go into manufacturing. The farmers generously assented.

The manufacturing classes, thus fed for many years on the generous farmer's bounty, are now rich. They are millionaires. Many of them make huge fortunes every year out of what the tariff bounty gives them, over and above a fair profit. And they use the wealth and influence the agriculturist's generosity gave them to make the tariff bolinty

But the farmer? His products have fallen in value. He has been impoyerished by his giving, which-once voluntary—is now compulsory. He is driven to the wall and begs relief. He points the tariff lord to wheat selling at 63 cents a bushel as proof that he can no longer afford to pay high tariff prices.
An official of the Chicago and Northwest Railroad, as quoted by the New York Stockholder, says, "The trouble with the country is the low price of grain. Wheat is worth only about 62 ents in Chicago. The crop this year was short, but the farmers have sold the bulk of it at prices that barely paid the cost of raising. WARFIELD.—On Dec. 14, 1893, Miss CATH-ERINE W. WARFIELD, in the 78th year of her age, at the residence of her cousin, Frank War-field Esq., Clarksville, Md.

We know that she hath gone to rest,
To have a home in heaven;
'Tis hard to think thou dids't so soon depar
And leave us with a breaking heart. Fold her flaxen hands together, Close her soft and dreaming eyes; See, how like a broken lily, Pale and beautiful she lies.

By her cousin, R. L. WALL. IN MEMORIAM. Mr. HERMAN lagen who died Nov. 22, 1893,

Dear grandfather, how cheerless this Christmas tide
Compared with the bright and happy ones gone by,
When you were yet with us, and beside Joined in our rejoicing of the holy nativity But brighter by far is this Christmas to thee, Rejoicing with the ransomed, and angels,

In heaven around the all life-giving tree
Where the Saviour in His highest glory dwells. Oh, could we but rise thy happiness to see! But 'tis bliss to know that you await Those who are with thee to be; Jesus thy loved ones will never forsake, But sometime will lead us to thee. Wreathed now is thy immortal soul With victories from Christ given;

With victories from Carist given;
With thee thy redeemer as a whole
In thy love was unriven;
And in His care thou now art given
Safely forever and we shall meet you and
Some Christmas celebrate His birth in.
