FACTS FROM FULTON.

FULTON, Jan. 9.—On Monday evening Chasley Wallace, aged 17 years with a few years more on his head, and his brother, aged 15, the thigh. The ball entered the upper inside portion of the thigh and took a downward course. Dr. W. L. Cissel, rendered the necessary surgical aid.

The internment of Mrs. Mary K. Deiker, wife of Mr. Geo. Deiker, a prominent farmer, of Simpsonville, took place in the Lutheran Cemetery, Fulton, on Friday evening last. Rev. E. C. Tidelle officiated.

Among those visiting in this vicinity lately were: Mr. Louis Ide, Geo. Linn, Henry McCrossin, Frank Walters, J. W. Moore, Mrs. R. W. Whitney, Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mr. Fillmore Brown, Mr. Oliver Cross.

The attention of the people was attracted on last Friday evening by one of the most beautiful street view witnessed in this vicinity. The peculiarly formed clouds and the bright tints displayed thereon were the subject for congratulatory comments. The following lines, inspired on the occasion, briefly describe the scene and the impressions imbibed by the observer:

A glimpse of heaven here we see, A shower cloud at eve, Bright tints of silver and gold glow, With purple and crimson hues, and orange and vermilion gleams, the scene a sight to see.

DEATHS AND BURIALS.

DR. WM. J. JONES, a prominent physician of Fulton, died in that city on Wednesday the 10 inst., from acute Bright's disease. He was taken seriously ill, on last Saturday and from the first his attending physicians, Drs. Atkinson and West, could give his anxious friends and relatives no hope for his recovery. It was the culmination of that insidious disease which has baffled the skill of our best medical men for one year ago, and his unerring knowledge of the symptoms of the disease and its fatal character convinced them that he would come in less than two years.

Dr. Jones was a son of Mr. Evan A. Jones, of the Fourth district of this county, and had just entered his thirty-second year when he died. He was a member of the late Elisha Riggs, of Montgomery county. He was connected with many of the leading families of the county and his death has caused a great deal of grief to his relatives and friends.

Dr. Jones was a member of the Board of State Capitol Inspectors. He was a very successful and popular physician. He was a member of the Baltimore Medical Society and the Maryland Medical Association.

FORB'S NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE. Week of January 15th. Francis Wilson's production of Jakobowski and Paulton's clever opera, "Ermine" which created a marked sensation when it was first produced at the Broadway Theatre, New York, last fall, will be the attraction at Forb's Grand Opera House the week of January 15th, and it will meet the first audience in Baltimore of Mr. Wilson in the opera in which he made the most emphatic of his earlier metropolitan successes. Mr. Wilson himself is most favorably known hereabout, and "Ermine" has been seen, but never in such style as Mr. Wilson is now presenting it.

The Governor is opposed to the listing system. The system as heretofore proposed requires property owners to make their own valuations, but even then this valuation is not accepted.
