THE SCHOOL BOOK QUESTION. The Baltimore Sun, usually far-sighted and quick to anticipate questions of great public interest and moment, in recent issue discusses editorially the question of free school-books in the counties. Our contemporary with great clearness shows the objections thus far urged to the plans, suggested by Presi dent Smith, of the State senate, and others, under which the money is to be provided by State taxation.

The Sun points out that the proceeds of a State tax levy of two cents on the $100, amounting to about $100,000, would not be sufficient to attain the end sought; that each county already has the power to lay taxes for free books if they are desirable; that after all the burden rests upon the tax-payers and it would be better to levy and use the money directly than to go through the needless formality of paying it into the State treasury and having it redistributed from there; that increase in the State tax postpones the time when it is hoped to abolish direct State taxation; that the law now provides free text-books for those unable to pay for them, and others, who are beneficiaties of the free school system and able to pay, ought not to object to the comparatively small annual charges for necessary books.

Our big metropolitan neighbor might have gone further and lifted up its mighty voice in behalf of the underpaid teachers in most counties of the State. These are the people who seem to have long needed and lacked a champion. They deserve the most liberal treatment at the hands of school boards and school patrons. We believe that the school boards in all the counties are doing the best they can in the way of pay ing salaries, but lack of public school funds is a great handicap. It is so in Howard county. If additional taxes are to be laid just now, let the proceeds go to the public school fund, where the need exists, and not to those who are able to help themselves. Let it be ap_ plied to giving Howard county better paid teachers, modern school houses, conveniences and appliances, and after we have emerged from the era of the log and old-field school-house, then we may talk of free books for every body.

In this connection we coincide with 'and warmly endorse the assertion of The Sun that "all classes of citizens are warm ly in favor of good free schools and no public tax is more willingly paid than that for the support of public education.'

TRANSFER OF A NEWSPAPER. The Howard County Progress news paper, the Republican organ of this county, has been purchased by James Wirgman, Jr., of Romney, W. Va., who formerly conducted the Leader at Winchester, Va. Since July, 1892, the Progress has been published by Wilbur F. Earp. It was published several years by J. B. Morrow, now of the Ellicott CITY TIMES. Mr. Morrow, though a lifelong Democrat, had become indifferent to politics, believing that all questions of national polity were for the time being settled. Seeing the Republican acts in Congress of 1890-a year made memorable by the most outrageous proceedings ever intended to enthral a free people-believed that the time had come when all men having a spark of patriotism within them should act. The subsequent election of Mr. Cleveland proved that his action was in conformity with the sentiment which grew and flourished throughout the country. He wrote several editorials at the time disavowing any sympathy with the Republican program, and as soon as it could be arranged abandoned the paper to accept his present position. The paper was subsequently carried on by Clinton G. G. Brown and George Mercier and later by Mr. Brown alone. We regret to lose our late courteous Republican contemporary, Mr. Earp, who enjoyed the respect of and won many friends among the people during his brief editorial career here.

Republicans now admit that the Wil on bill cannot be defeated in the House. In the near future they will arrive at the same conclusion about the Senate. Tariff reform is in sight, and it cannot be stopped by manufactured opposition, paid for with money wrung from the connumers of the country by the millionaire eneficiaries of McKinleyism.

One might suppose from the twaddle which a few of Secretary Morton's speeches were sent through the mails ınder his official frank was one that had iever occurred before. It is a wellknown fact, shown up in numberless cases, that Republican officials for years franked their private correspondence, not by mistake, but intentionally.

A remarkable feature of the tarif debate in Congress has been entirely overlooked by the Republican press. The most prominent Democrats who have been advertised as opponents of the Wilson bill made strong speeches in its

THE LEGISLATIVE WHEELS STILL GO MERREILY ROUND.

Synopsis of the Field Reassessment Bill-Sworn Answers and Statements with Fines for False Representations-Work of

The assessment bill introduced in the louse of Delegates by Mr. Field, and which has Governor Brown's endorsement divides Baltimore City into twenty-two assessment districts, and the counties are likewise divided according to their size, population and property. Howard county constitutes one assess-ment district, Anne Arundel three, Baltimore county thirteen, Carroll four, Frederick six, Montgomery one, Prince George's three, and so on. There are to be three assessors for each assessment district, and a board of control and review of three persons for each county. that is being printed that the mistake by Members of the board and assessors shall receive three dollars for each day's work. The board will also employ clerk at $3 50 a day.

> EXAMINATION UNDER OATH. Assessors and members of the board f control and review shall have power to examine property holders under oath, and persons failing to answer questions or refusing to be sworn or affirm are subjected to fines for each offense not greater than $300 in the first instance ior than $2000 in the second. Officers of corporations are also required under oath to inform boards of county commissioners what stock of such corporations may be held residents of respective counties, and for after a specified time are imposed in TIME AND METHOD OF ASSESSMENT. Section 16 provides: "Between the Fuesday in September in the year 1894 assessment districts in every county and n the city of Baltimore shall, whenever they may deem it necessary, view all goods and chattels in their respective assessment districts, and shall diligently nvestigate and inquire, by personal inpection and by all lawful means inform hemselves of all property therein or elonging to residents thereof; and shall ralize each item of the same at its full eash value without looking to a forced ale. All shares of stock in any national bank, or in any bank, corporation, asociation or company, in corporated under the laws of this State, and belonging to any non-resident owner, and all other personal property located in this State selonging to any non-resident owner, shall be valued and assessed to the owner thereof in the assessment district in which said bank, corporation, association or company may have its principal place of business in the State, or in which said personal property may be so located. All personal property belonging to a resident of this State shall be vained and assessed to the owner thereof in the assessment district in which said owner may reside, except goods and chattels permanently located in any city or county of this State which shall be valued and assessed to the owner therebe given, and improvements shall be valued separately. Bonds and other securities assessed shall also be describ-THE BILL'S OBJECT. THE TIMES has stated that this bill merely furnishes the machinery for carrying on the reassessment. Changes n the present law as to the kinds of property subject to taxation or exempions would be the subject matter of another bill. In the event of no such bill being reported then-reassessment would be conducted under the laws already on the statute books. Gov. Brown's object is to separate the two questions. He would make reassessment a sure thing as nobody opposes reassessment, and then considering in another bill modifications of the present law defining taxable property. Senator Hayes, on the other hand, wishes to bring all the questions, disputed or undisputed, into one voluminous act. The Governor's plan s decidedly simple.

SPENCER AND THE G. O. M. The action of the Democratic caucus n selecting Spencer C. Jones to succeed himself as State Treasurer, for two years, was duly ratified by the legislature last week, and John Q. A. Robinson, G. O. M., was elected police commissioner of Baltimore for six more years.

EXTENDING JUDGE LYNCH'S TERM. Senator Rogers, of Howard, chairman of the committee on judicial proceedings, Wednesday reported favorably the joint esolutions extending the term of office of Judge Lynch, of the sixth judicial circuit, until November, 1897, and they were ordered engrossed for a third read-

In reporting the resolutions Senator Rogers said he felt a special privilege, both as chairman of the committee and as one who had practiced his profession before the Judge, to take part in this action. For the past twenty-seven years nearly Judge Lynch had served the people of Maryland and of his circuit with an unflinching and uncompromising fidelity. "Although he will have reached the age of seventy years in 1895, yet his physical and mental qualities are unimpaired and to-day he is as completely able to perform his duties as when he entered upon their discharge in 1867. This extension of his term is indorsed by every member of the bar in that circuit, and I feel sure the Senate will, with me, feel it an especial privilege and honor to extend the term of service of so worthy a public servant." Senator Newman followed Senator Rogers and endorsed the extension.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES. Upon motion of Senator Toadvin, a nessage was sent to the House Wednes day proposing that all bills and leaves to sanction bequests, sales, gifts or conveyances to religious bodies or objects shall be referred to judiciary committees, acting as a joint committee, and they be instructed to report thereon all, except where there is a special reason for more speedy action, in which case separate bills may be introduced. By unanimous consent a bill was in roduced out of the regular order by Senator Hubner Wednesday to sanction wife to the Woodstock College, of Baltimore county, and a mortgage made by Charles II. Herchemer to that college,
