THE GAME OF WHIST.

American and English Systems and the Chances In Holding Hands. There are two recognized systems, the English and the American. In English whist the game is five points and honors -ace, king, queen and knave of the trump suit—are counted. In American whist the game is still five points, but honors are not counted. The old English game—long whist—consisted of 10 points, with honors counted. American whist is not the same as American leads. These leads can be played by individual players, whatever the game may be. Richard A. Proctor has written a good book on "How to Play Whist. He has also contributed articles to various magazines on the subject of chances in card games. He calculated that there are no less than 635,013,559,600 ways (29 0) of making a whist hand, and that there is only one chance in 158,753,389,000 -and then, of course, the dealer's trumps must be taken—of holding 13 trumps. Out of 1,587,523,899 hands dealt 842, 132, 219 hands will contain four eards of two suits, three eards of one and two cards of one suit. There are 98,534,079,072 ways of making a hand that shall contain one five card suit, two three card suits and one two eard suit and $2,000,000,000 ways of making a hand containing five cards of one suit, four of another, three of a third and two of a fourth. Fourth in the order of frequency comes the hand containing one five card suit, one four card suit and two two card suits. There are 67, 182, 336, 640 ways of making this

> "Only fifth in order of frequency," says Proctor, "comes the hand which many suppose the most frequent, that of greatest uniformity of distribution," one four card suit and three three card suits. There are 66,905,856,160 ways of making this hand. The sixth hand, in point of frequency, is that which contains six cards of one suit, three of another and two cards from each of two suits. Speaking of whist chances, Mr. Proctor discusses the "Yarborough hand," which contains no card over a nine. It was so called because Lord Yarborough used to wager £1,000 to £1 that a hand of the sort would not be dealt. The chance that such a hand will be dealt is one in 1828 chances, so that his lordship's bet was pretty safe.—Baltimore American.

Only a Printer. "He is only a printer." Such was the sneering remark of a leader in a circle of aristocracy—the codfish quality. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What were Prince Edward William and Prince Napoleon? Proud to call themselves printers. The present czar of Russia, the crown prince of Prussia and the Duke of Battenburg are printers, and the emperor of China works in a private printing office almost every day.

William Caxton, the father of English literature, was a practical printer. What were G. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Gale, Charles Richardson, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Charles Dickens, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron

Mark Twain, Amos Cummings, Bret Harte and Opic Reid are plain, practical printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nasby and Sut Lovingood. 311 (1) | Senator Plumb was a printer, and so is 50 60 James S. Hogg of Texas, and the leader 20 00 of science and philosophy in his day enses, Collecting Co mty taxes.
