PEOPLE OF NOTE.

It is said that Prof. Virchow needs only three hours of sleep out of the twenty-four.
 Vice-President Wickes, Pullman's chief business representative, began life as a small grocer.
 Secretary Gresham is the greatest smoker of the cabinet. He is seldom without a cigar in his mouth, and sometimes consumes as many as twenty in a day.
 Phil D. Armour, of Chicago, is in Berlin on business and pleasure combined. He wants to examine into the neat condition of Germany and the Scandinavian countries for himself.
 William C. Oates, governor-elect of Alabama, worked as a common laborer after he left his father's farm. Afterward he taught school and studied law. He lost his right arm on a Southern battlefield.
 Will N. Harben, of Georgia, and one of the brightest of the South's younger writers, is spending the summer in London, and it is said that he will write a novel in collaboration with Bret Harte.

C. H. Smelzer has arrived in New York with a team that he drove from Texas in fifteen months. It would have been a little heavier and something more expeditious for him to have taken the cars.
 Governor Matthews, of Indiana, owns a ring made of gold mined in Brown county and presented by admiring friends. It bears an alleged quotation from Jerry Rusk: "I seen my duty and done it."
 Henry Clay's oldest daughter died and was buried at Lebanon, O., in 1825. Her remains have just been removed to Lexington, Ky., and they now rest in the Clay vault beside those of the great Kentuckian.

Time Rock light-house, at the southern end of Newport Harbor, is a favorite visiting place for strangers, as there is not so much to see the light as to meet his famous keeper, Ida Lewis. She is over 50 years old now.
 Thomas Neville Ward, whose (Confederate) brigade had a great reputation during the war for hard fighting, is now the Nestor of the Texas bar, and an authority in every branch of his specialties in law. He is 81 years old.

Senators Quay and Vest are the closest friends for men in hostile camps, and a scheme of one usually gets the support of the other by a system of courtesy which prevails in high politics. Both are good story-tellers, and have a quiet, droll way of putting things that carries a point with little difficulty.
 Here Krupp, the great gun founder, has commissioned a Munich sculptor to model a statue of the Chinese viceroy, Li Hung Chang, which he intends to present when completed to the Asiatic diplomatic corps as a token of respect for the pains taken by him to introduce European ordinance into the Chinese army and navy.

David B. Hill is not a sociable man. He never eats with anybody. It is happily known that the wife or daughter of a senator is ill almost to death, he would never make an inquiry in regard to her while talking to the senator. Hill, in fact, has no private life. All in merged into politics.
 The youngest member of the Georgia bar is Edward Harrison Beckley, who is about 4 months old. He was unanimously elected a member of the bar in October, 1893. There is one thing to do for him, if nothing else; it prevents his falling a victim to the age of disqualification. As a field marshal, Beckley is known to his friends, for his name must appear at the head of the list of general officers as long as he lives.

Capt. John Carter, who is now sailing the "Prince of Wales" yacht Britain against the "Victoria" is the same man who brought Sir Richard Sutton's cutter, Genesee, over here in 1853, and won many compliments for his ability in handling the yacht, especially in tacking up the bay. His name must appear at the head of the list of general officers as long as he lives.

FACTS AND STATISTICS.
 France imports about one-third of her coal.
 The world's shipping is estimated at 107,137 vessels.
 Victoria signs about 50,000 documents a year.
 A billion feet of lumber is the Texan cut per year.
 The world's wine production is 3,370,000,000 gallons.
 There are about 300 cotton seed mills in this country.
 It is said that there are 2,000 female architects in this country.
 The telephone service of the United States employs over 10,000.
 Street railways occupy 397 miles of the streets of New York city.
 About 3,000 marriage ceremonies are performed each day throughout the world.
 The value of the steel manufactured in the United States every year is about $500,000,000.
 The Russian state jewels are valued at the enormous sum of $11,000,000; the crown is reckoned as being worth $8,000,000.

PIGANYNE.
 A fraudulent family tree is all bark. This month is all right. Spell it O-g-u-st, and eat oysters.
 Chinese authors are straight up and down people in their writings.
 The Japanese minister of the navy is T. Saigo. So far he has had a pudding in his business.—New Orleans Picayune.

Talent is little to a woman, title is much, title-tattle is more.
 Next to Niagara, the largest water-power plant in this country is in Portland, Ore.
 The manufacture of opium is one of the profitable industries of British Columbia.
 The superstitious of all ages have looked upon the aurora borealis as a premonition of war.
 Mustaches were originally grown as relish, by which slaves were driven by their masters.
 Newly-married girls in Hungary offer their kisses for sale on St. Joseph's Day—March 10.
