Accidents. Harry Carroll, a young man residing near Glenelg, Howard county, met with a several gunning accident Wednesday. In climbing over a fence he attempted to place the but of his gun on the ground, his left hand grasping it over the mazzle. The gun was discharged, it is supposed, by the hammer striking against a rail of the fence, the discharge passing through his hand, completely tearing off two fingers and the thumb. He was asssisted home by friends and medical

The other was a similar bet and was between John Lauman and Samuel Curan, two well-known residents of our | near Oella. town. The route exteded from the Baltimore county side to and through the village of Oella and return, a distance of nearly two miles. Mr. Curran was the winner, but he has not expressed any great satisfaction over the the profits accruing from his so called good luck, as the long jaunt over the rough cobble stones proved any thing but exhilerating to his nervous system.

A Runaway Accident.

Mr. Robert H. Mercier, son of Mr. Robert T. Mercier, a prominent farn/er of the Fourth district, this county, while returning from the home of Mr. Clarence Pue on Sunday afternoon last met with a painful mishap. Mr. Mercier was driving a three year old colt hitched to a cart and on turning off the Frederick road at what is known as Hopkins' lane, the colt suddenly took fright overturning the cart and throwing its occupant violently to the ground tearing a severe gash in his left leg. The unfortunate young man, under intense pain, walked to the home of his uncle and thence was taken to Dr. Milton W. Warfield, who dressed the wound.

Sunday, November 11. Baltimore Centennial Exposition,

Our readers have no doubt seen mentioned in the papers something about the Great Exposition which is to be held in Baltimore during 1897. It would be well for them to note that it is a State affair, in which all the counties are expected to take part, and be largely represented by their various industries, and to show off their different advantages. And this huge undertaking. although inaugurated by our city friends, to be a perfect success, must have the whole-hearted support of all the people of the State; so we must be up and doing, that we may show off the State's many attractions in the most thorough way; also that many of the millions of people who will visit this great exposition will come to believe as every true Marylander always maintains. That is, our State is not only a good place to be born in, or to die in, but the very best place to live in.

This Great Big Exposition in plain words is to be a great advertisement for our State; and the rivalry among the different States in the Union for supremacy is so great, these expositions or advertisements are a necessity.

In the past we have been too modest The Great West was built up by showing its advantages to the people of othe sections and foreign countries. Owing to the fact of hard climates, low price for agricultural products, and long distances from foreign or consuming markets, the tide of immigration is changing, and the South is putting forth many schemes that are attractive to get nev people to its sections.

Why should not Maryland have its chare of new people also? It can, if we only let other people know what we have First district, owing to the recent reto offer. Tuesday's elections resulted in a great Republican sweep. It was not a landslide. It was an avalanche. The Democrats have lost control of the House of Representatives by a plurality in favor of the Republicans variously estimated, but not yet definiteknown. It is certain, however, that the victors will have a working majority of at least 65. They also claim they will organize the next United States Senate, counting on Tennessee and South Carolina to aid in the result.

Maryland has six Democrats in the House of Representatives at present. In the Fifty-fourth Congress the State will have only three. The Republicans Tuesday carried the Second. Fifth and Sixth districts, The result in the Congressional fight Tuesday was a revelation to the proph ets. Even the most enthusiastic Repub licans had no idea that Wellington's majority in the Sixth district would be over a few-hundred, and they regarded the Second as a forlorn hone Mr Cowen's victory in the Fourth district was practically a foregone conclusion, and his majority was placed at something like 3000.

It was thought that Talbott would poll about his usual majority in Baltimore county, and probably pull even out of the city, and not lose Harford, Cecil and Carroll by many votes, if he did not carry all three. It was believed that Carroll was surely safe. In 1892 it gave Talbott 378 majority, but Baker carried it Tuesday, together with every other county in the district, save Baltimore and the three city wards. In the Fifth district the Democratic situation had been regarded as desperate for some days, but it was the general opinion that the vote would be close. The Republicans had little hope of the ports of the work of Miles and Henry, but it is surprising now that it was savcester, the Democratic strongholds, hardly came up to expectations, but Queen Anne's toed the line, and Dryden appears to have been badly beaten in his own county of Somerset, where the Republicans are stronger than anywhere

NEW YORK WORLD (DEM.). There is no doubt that Tuesday's results are due to Democrats who wished to discipline their party leaders. The changes from one party to the other may have been considerable in some localities, but the general result is due to the fact that Democrats who were not ready to change parties stood aside and allow ed the Republicans to do as they pleased at the pells. The Democratic party of the future will be a far better party because of the action of the Democrats, who, in behalf of party principle, arrayed themselves Tuesday against party bosses who had betrayed or abandoned principle. That is the most lamentable feature of what is not otherwise a crushing Democratic defeat. In spite of that, however, every Democrat can feel gratified that, regardless of temporary considerations of party, the people, animated by the Democratic instinct, have shown themselves the governing power in the country; that they have made it once buried under a Republican plurality of more apparent how much greater they are than any great man or any number Senate, any machine.

NEW YORK TIMES (DEM.). The voters who hold the balance of power are familiar with political history. Reading the lessons of the past as guide for the present, they could foresee preparation for a not remote and fatal lisaster. There may be differences of opinion as to the best way to reform a Republican. The Democrats elect three, party. BALTIMORE SUN, (IND.).

At the election Tuesday the Republicans upon the congressional ticket carried the State of Maryland by about 2,500 majority. They had majorities in tifteen counties, and a change of some 250 votes would have given them a majority in Baltimore city. Such a vote in a State election would turn over the entire State government to the Republican party, along with a majority of the General Assembly. The Republicans claim that this vote indicates that the people of Maryland have become favorinsures a Republican successor to United able to the doctrine of protection, and are voting against their party upon that issue. A thoughtful consideration of the election returns makes it perfectly clear that for this theory there is no warrant. If Democrats had become convinced of the propriety of protection they would have voted for the Republican candidates. This they did not do, and the election returns show it. The total registered vote of the State is, in round numbers, 250,000. Of these 110,000 are probably Republican. But the highest Republican vote polled in the State was in 1888, when Harrison for President got 100,000 votes. Allowing for a reasonable increase in the vote since then, and we have 105,000 as the full Republican vote of the State. Last Tuesday the Republican vote for the congressional candidates was about 98.000, or 2,000 less than in 1888. It seems therefore that even all the Republicans did not vote for protection. The Democratic vote in 1892 for Cleveland may be regarded as a full vote of the party. It was about 114,000. The Democratic vote on Tuesday was about 96,000, or 18,000 short of the party strength. Why did these 18,000 Demoerats remain away from the polls? Was it because they have suddenly become enamored of protection? Do men show their attachment to a political principle by refraining from voting for it? The are statement of the proposition shows

Mr. Gorman on the Situation. In an interview with a Baltimore American reporter Thursday, at his home causes of the defeat were various, and it was most influential. He said that in for no particular cause. In some cases he cause was a local one, and not due o anything the Democratic party had ione. The causes which existed in 1892. when the Republicans were defeated. continued now, whatever they were, and the Democratic party was suffering from the action of the people just as the Republicans had done at that election. He lid not think that the defeat of the Democratic party would be lasting, but that everything would be all right after a while. The Senator does not seem to be very much depressed with the result, believing it only temporary.

The Political Future.

Figure as one may, however, the fact must be conceded that the Fifty-fourth Congress will be in the hands of the Republicans, as Senator Peffer also votes on partisan questions with that party; but what will that control avail? Mr. Cleveland's term will not expire until March 4, 1897, the same day upon which the Republican House as elected today will expire. The Republicans will, therefore, be powerless to carry to successful issue a change in the tariff or a force bill. Any such measures would, of course, be vetoed by the President, and the Republican majority will not be sufficiently large to override a presidential veto. In order, therefore, for the Republicans to accomplish any vicious legislation it will be necessary for them to retain control of the Fifty-fifth Congress and to elect their President two years hence.-Baltimore Sun.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

Late news from China gives the in formation that the representatives of all the powers were assembled on Saturday last by the Tsung-Li-Yamen, or council, to hear the Chinese government's stateof great men, than any autocrat, any ment respecting the critical situation of affairs. Prince Kung, president, of the Tsung-Li-Yamen, calmly avowed the impotence of China to withstand the Japanese attack and appealed to the powers to intervene, saying that China The people are in power, and they have was willing to abandon her sovereignty over Corea and to pay a war indemnity. The ministers applauded the frankness of this confession and promised to support China's appeal to their respective governments, with a view to the restorajoining the landslide. PORT ARTHUR WILL BE BOMBARDED. LONDON, Nov. 7 .- A dispatch from Shanghai says that a merchant steamer has arrived at Che Foo from Port Arthur. All the foreigners on board, including the Euorpean officials, were allowed to leave Port Arthur unmolested. All declare that Port Arthur will certainly be bombarded and captured. The dispatch adds that Li Hung Chang has been ordered to Penkin to give an account of his proceedings during the

CAPTURE OF FOO CHOW.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 .- A short cablegram received by Secretary Gresham today from United States Minister Denby, at Pekin, chronicles another important forward movement by the Japanese. It reads: "Japanese have taken Foo Chow, in the Gulf of Liautung, approaching Shan-Kai-Kuan. Two campaigns against Moukden and Tien-Tsin. All of this means, according to the interpretation arrived at by the State Department officials, that the Japanese have seized the important strategic port Kin-Chow, near New Chang, and on the railroad leading in one direction toward the Tien-Tsin, and in the other toward the Manchurian capital, Moukden. The latter is thus threatened from two sides, as the Japanese forces which have crossed the Yalu river from Corea are advancing rapidly from the southeast upon this doomed capital, and according to Willis. Minister Denby's cablegram another force will start northward from Kin-Chow to join them. The distance from Kin-Chow to Tien-Tsin is only about two hundred miles, and the roads are the best in China. Tien-Tsin is well fortified, but should it fall, the way to Pekin, the Chinese capital, would be open to the invaders. Neither the Chinese nor Japanese legations have any official advices of the Japanese victories cabled by Minister Denby nor of the reported efforts of China to secure peace. The tendency at both legations is to doubt that any peace overtures have been or can be made at the present juncture. It is believed that the Japanese intend to occupy Moukden, Wiju, Port Arthur and Tien Tsin, thus completing a strategic position which will command peace on the terms they desire, or, in the absence of peace, will permit the Japanese to go into winter quarters and rest the campaign until spring.

SHANGHAL, Nov. 6.—A dispatch from Che Foo says that a number of Japanese torpedo boats made a reconaissance of Port Arthur Monday. The Japanese expect to complete the investment of Port Arthur within a week. In spite of reports to the contrary the Chinese fleet is said to be at Port Arthur.

An audience in keeping with the high character of Mr. Wilfred Clarke and the near Laurel, Mr. Gorman said that the specially selected company, among which were Mrs. John Drew, the distinguished was hard to tell what particular thing actress, and Mr. Joseph J. Holland the well known actor, engaged to support political matters, as in battle, men run him, filled the Girard Ayenue Theatre, Philadelphia, Monday evening to witness Mr. Clarke's performance of "Bob Acres" in Sherdidan's famous comedy of The Rivals. The steadily increasing audiences up to the point of standing room only, and the lively interest manifested in all Mr. Clarke's performances demonstrate that the public are prepared to support managers and actors who give an opportunity to witness plays which attract by force of their literary excellence. The strongest compliment that can be paid Mr. Clarke and his company is the simple statement that every person in the cast brought to their tasks a degree of intelligence that rendered the entire performance a perfectly pleasing one. Mr. Clarke s comedy cannot be compared to any other now extant; it is original and it is doubtful if the oldest theatregoer in the audience ever witnessed its equal. Many private carriages were in waiting at the close of the performance. To see Clarke in comedy has become fashionable necessity in Philadelphia:

"The Amazons,"-From the Lyceum Theatre New York.-Miss Johnstone Bennett as Lady Thomasin Belturbet. The performance of Pinero's idyllic comedy "The Amazons" by one of the best of Chas. Frohman's companies, will be given for the first time in this city at Ford's during the week of November 12th, will be one of the conspicious dramatic events of the season. The Amazons is the charming play which ran

so long last year at the Lyceum Theatre

New York, last year, receiving the highest praise from the entire Metropolitan press. The plot hinges on the bringing up o three English girls of high social standing as if they were boys, the story i amusingly entertaining, the comedy which is delightfully original is intermingled with romance such as is likely to befall three such pretty girls. A notable feature of the production will be the appearance of Miss Johnstone Bennett in the part of Lady Thomaston Belturbet. Her performance is charming throughout, Miss Bennett will have the association of artists as pleasing as capable. The Amazons will be presented with the customary carefulness in every particular, characteristic of all of Manager Frohman's productions. Among the company will be found Isabel Irving, Elaine Eilson, Ida Vernon, Louise Rial Geo. Alison, Beaumont Smith, Lorimer Stoddard, John Findlay, Vaughan Glaser A. H. Gregory, W. S. Holmes, &c. Admission 25 and 50 cents. November 9, Russell's Comedians in "The Re ment at Harris' Academy of Music next week. They will revive their former success "Later On." It is announced that this will be their last professional tour together. Local theatre-goers are most likely therefore, to take in creased interest in the engagement. Hallen and Hart generally father an entertainment of strikingly bright and original features. Besides this very great and unique merit, they have never depended entirely on themselves to accomplish this end, but have always surrounded themselves with a company of expert specialty players. That this is an unusual experience with theatregoers in the farce comedy field of entertainment is amply proven by the high favor with which Hallen and Hart are regarded. In their company this season are the following: Mark Murphy Edward S. Wentworth, Donald Harold Edward Lawrence, Chas. Kettler, W. $1,000 A SHOT. It Is Economical, After All, if Considered

Properly. One thousand dollars a shot is rather expensive shooting, but when you come to figure it out you will find that it is not quite as much in proportion as $100 a shot under certain conditions. The old smooth bore cannon, short in barrel and short in the breach, had to be trained with the greatest patience and care on the object aimed at, and if the 100 pound ball didn't land exactly where it was intended it did very little harm.

With the big pneumatic gun at Sandy Hook it is impossible to make a miss. You just touch her off at $1,000 per touch, and if the projectile drops within one-sixth of a mile of where it was intended to drop there is immediate and serious trouble and in all probability no necessity for the expenditure of another dollar on that particular target. It costs more to fire the big Krupp gun than it does our dynamite gun, but the execution bears no comparison. One hundred gatling guns, fired at short intervals for one hour, would cost $10,000. Even if the object shot at was within range the shooting would not be one-tenth as effective as the shooting of the Sandy Hook terror.-New York Mail and Ex-de Mars. It is used as a place of amusement, and opening into it are the streets of Burbon and Corderie, while to the left of the quays is the bazaar or market place. It is surrounded by an iron railing, has several gates leading to the principal streets and is divided into two equal parts by Farquar street. A broad avenue also traverses its entire length, lined on either side by covcredsheds, where the wares are exposed. Fruit stalls occupy the upper end, and here is exhibited a marvelous variety, a collection that would make the fruit sellers of the west mad with envy Plantains in great yellow heaps are side by side with custard apples, alligator pears, mangoes, pineapples and others too numerous to mention. Mangoes are the most esteemed by Europeans. The lower market contains the butchers' shops, where fowl, fish and kid are conspicuous. -All the Year Round.

The Mantle of Charity.

It is the one garment the fashion of which never changes, writes Ruth Ashmore in Ladies' Home Journal. The years may go and come, and yet sho who cloaks herself in this mantle is at once happy herself and the giver of happiness. In cut it never changes. It is always large and full, so that it can envelop those who are unhappy and give them warmth and comfort. Like the cloak worn by the prince in the fairy tale, it is invisible to all but those whose eyes are made clear by faith. It is the garment that I would like my girls to wear. It is true that much patience and much self denial are required before this cloak is put on, as it should be, for all time, but once assumed the amount of joy to be got from it and the happy
