THE LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

Mr. Seward once let drop the significant remark that the issue between the North and South was an "irrepressible conflict." The remark probably received a greater amount of criticism than of 1883, 1890 and 1894. Not aday is to any expression ever uttered in the Unit- be lost in opening the campaign of edued States. His words proved prophetic. The conflict resulted in a war between be nominally put foremost as a decoy, the real Republican battle will be for the two sections and had not the question been settled on the field of battle crimination and recrimination would the 6th ult. mildly disclaimed any desire be as rife as ever. Seward meant to say it was a conflict between freedom and in "protection."

How about Maryland today? A large majority of the people of the State think that they are discriminated against in the matter of taxation. They want a new assessment law for the reason, they say, there is a vast amount of property which cannot be reached by the present law, while they (the farmers in particular) are taxed for values that do not exist, farm property having declined more than fifty per cent. This question we claim, will not down no more than the question which existed between the north and south. The determination to have a new assessment law upon the Hayes plan is irrepressible and growing daily. Good, bad or indifferent, such a law is bound to be an experiment, and the position of the next Democratic canditate for governer must be clear and well defined, or he will have a hard road to travel. It would seem then that the logical candidate is Thomas G. Hayes, of Baltimore.

Baltimore, the State, and the art world experiences a great loss in the death of Wm. T. Walters. Mr. Walters was one of Baltimore's most substantial citizens and a great connoisseur of art. His collection is considered by many the finest private collection in the world.

New York's official vote discloses that Goff, the man most conspicuously identified with the crusade on Tamnany Hall, received the largest plurality given any candidate. Goff's opponent was a man of clear record. This shows against whom the people voted at the recent election-against corruption and bad leadership, not Democracy.

The Effect of Anarchism.

Presbyterian Observer. The trend in Europe, within recent years, has been toward granting a larger liberty to the people, but lately events indicate a tendency to suppress the individual and to increase governmental safeguards. In France, where the Republic favored the widest possible freedom consistent with a stable adminstration of affairs, the agents of Anarchy have used such destructive agencies, and grown so bold, as to compel the enactment and enforcement of the most repressive measures. Germany, whose young Emupon the accession to his throne, had relaxed the severity of the measures instituted by Bismarck against Anarchists and Socialists, is being once more forced to adopt the Bismarckian method of protection. Italy, which was so forward a few years ago to widen the area of individual action, has just issued the astounding decree which demands the suppression of all "labor associations, benefit societies and even co-operative societies that are deemed favorable to Socialistic ideas." Belgium, upon the very first election after the revision of the constitution, which increased the lectorate nearly twenty-fold, presents the spectacle of the re-actionists, or Conservatives, carrying the day by such an overwhelming majority as to almost extinguish the Liberal and Moderate parties. From Austria comes the intelligence that the Imperial government has reconsidered its purpose to increase the franchise, and to postpone action upon granting universal suffrage, thus leaving the working classes practically without representation in Parlia ment. This Europern reaction is a bad symptom, but dangerous revolutionists and extremists are mainly to blame for it. Dynamite is no help to Republican-

George Heacock, a prosperous young farmer of this section, had just started on his way to Baltimore with his two-horse market wagon full of butter, cream, milk and other farm produce, when a herd of hogs, driven by horses became frightened and started off on a mad gallep. They had not run far when the wagon upset, throwing Mr. Heacock and his wife, who was accompanying him, out. The wagon was completely demolished and the whole load ruined. The loss to load and wagon is $120. Mrs Heacock was severely bruised, while Mr. Heacock was uninjured. It was a proud day for the company when, thanks to these steamers and to the despatch shown by the various railroads interested, the London Times was able to say that "the delivery of mails in London within twenty-one days of their leaving Yokohama is a feat never before accomplished, sufficiently remark able in itself, and pregnant with untold issues for the future of the British Em-

The Christmas Number of Scribner's The Christmas Number of Scribner's Magazine presents a remarkable list of popular writers, including Rudyard Kipling, Robert Grant, H. C. Bunner, Brander Matthews and George W. Cable. In illustration it shows a number of novel features. Oliver Herford produces a series of fantastic drawings which are curiously interwoven with the text of Brander Matthews' story in a manner new to magazine illustration. Another notable feature is the three frontispleces showing the best work of A. B. Frost, Afbert Lynch and Emile Friant, each drawing being very original in sentiment and treatment. One of the richest illustrated articles ever published in an American magazine is the account of the Many pretty stories are told of the kindness and gentleness of the Empress Elizabeth of Austria. One day she was walking in the beautiful Miramar gardens when a heavy shower came up. IN MEMORY OF JONATHAN FOREST, who died December the 3rd, 182. Gone but not forgotten! We miss thee from thy place.

Dear father, we miss thee from thy place.
A shadow o'er our life is east,
We miss the sunshine of thy face.
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee;
We miss the avery where

We miss thee every where. 'Tis hard to break the tender cord,
When love has bound the heart.
'Tis hard so hard to speak the words:
"We must forever part."
Dearest father, we have laid thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished Till we see thy heaven'y face

Call not back the dear departed

Anchored safe where storms are o'er.

On the border land we left him Soon to meet and part no more. When we leave this world of change When we leave this world of care, We shall find our missing loved ones In our father's mansion fair. One by one earth's ties are broken As we see our love decay.
And the hopes so fondly cherished,
Brighten but to pass away.
One by one our hopes grow brighter
As we near the shining shore, For we know across the river. Wait the loved ones, gone before. Peaceful be thy silent slumber. Peaceful in thy grave so low,

Thou no more our sorrows know; Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is fled, And in heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed, Farewell, dear father, sweet thy rest. Weary with years and worn with pain, We shall behold thy face again;
"Tis ours to miss thee all our yours
And tender memories of thee keep,
Thine in the Lord to rest,
For so he giveth his beloved sleep;
Farewell, dear father, but not forever.

There will be a glorious dawn, We sha'l meet to part, no never. On the resurrection morn.
Though thy darling form lies sleeping
In the cold and silent tomb. Thou shalt have a glorious waking, When the blessed Lord doth come.
