WAS HE MURDERED?

A Man Found Dead Near Marriottsville with Suspicious Fractures on His Head The body of an unknown white man well dressed, apparently about fifty years of age, was found about eight o'clock Monday morning a short distance from Marriottsville, near the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and close to the river bank. The man had evidently been murdered, since two large fractures about three inches long were found in his skull. He wore a pair of lace shoes almost new, black hose, brown checkered pants, brown Alpine hat, black vest and blue coat. When found he was lying face downward upon his coat, which appeared to have been carefully placed upon the ground. A 38-caliber revolver, with one chamber empty, was found under his breast. Nothing was found upon his person by which he could be identified. The only articles in his pockets were small pocketknife, a time schedule of the main stem of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and about forty-five cents From the appearance of the body it is supposed he must have been dead at least twelve to fifteen days.

The circumstances surrounding the case point to murder from the fact that the fracture of the skull could not have been self-inflicted, and the body was too far from the railroad tracks to admit of the theory that he was struck by a train It seems as though he may have been shot and then struck upon the head with some heavy weapon. The body was so decomposed that it was impossible to find any other marks than the fractured

The man was first seen on Sunday morning, June 2, by Mr. C. D. Creager, of Baltimore county, who was on his way to see some friends. It being early in the morning, he concluded the man was asleep and ne would not disturb him, but on his return late Sunday evening he still found him there, and reported the affair Monday morning. Coroner Lucas, of Sykesville, was notified. That official summoned a jury, with George Arrington foreman. After viewing the body the jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to his death from a blow upon the head, received from some party unknown to the jury. Undertaker Weer, of Sykesville, buried the body close to where it was found.

Fired by the Lightning.

The dwelling of Mr. Oliver Merson, near Jessup's was partially burned Wednesday, the result of a stroke of lightning. Mr. Merson at the time of the stroke was standing in his yard with his horse. He had the animal by the bridle, but when the house was struck both he and the horse were thrown to the ground by the violent concussion. He recover ed his senses in a moment, however, and arose to his feet. He then saw that the north wing of his house was shattered, and the smoke that issued therefrom gave evidence that the building was afire. He rushed to the door of the house and found his wife and daughter prostrate on the floor. They were revived with some difficulty and the work of extinguishing the fire was taken up. The flames were almost entirely confinto a small cupboard and closet in which a number of articles of value, together with a lot of clothing, were stored. With the assistance of several neighbors Mr. Merson soon had the fire under control.

Building Along the B. & O. It is an agreeable sign of the times to note the marked increase in the way of improvements along the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between this point and Sykesville. On the fine estate of Mr. Edward A. Benzinger, at Woodstock, Mr. John A. Denton, civil engineer, of Ellicott City, has just com-pleted the survey and plat of what will doubtless become one of the most picturesque little villages along the whole line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Nearly a dozen lots have already been so'd, on which new buildings will at once be erected. The village is to be known as Woodstock Heights. It is located on an elevated plateau, on the Howard county side of the Patapsco. and is opposite and in full view of Woodstock College, in Baltimore county.

Adventure with Highwaymen,

Earnest Hynes, son of Mr. John J Hynes, residing on Oella avenue, met with quite an adventure with tramps on Saturday night last. He was returning Frederick pike, near Oella avenue, two tramps came out from the roadside, one seizing the bridle of the horse he was driving demanding that he should halt. Young Hynes seeing the men were tramps and meant to do him barm, grabbed up a large stone that he had put in the wagon and with good aim fired it at the man, striking him full in the face causing the man to let go and rapidly run away. His comrade hastily followed

The Electric Line in Ellicott City,

Without having positive knowledge concerning the matter it would seem that the electric railway company intend paralleling Main street with their line, either directly up the street or back of the houses along Tiber branch. Survevs have been made both front and back, doubtless to obtain the most practicable and economical route. It should be remembered all this surveying is to get estimates and that which is most feasible will be adopted. It is stated that it is the intention of the company to erect a power house in Ellicott City.

During the severe electrical storm her Wednesday early in the afternoon the lightning fairly reveled among the electric light wires which net-work our town. The fluid entered the power house of the electric light plant burning out a fuse. The Howard House was visited burning out a fuse and socket, while a city wire on Westchester avenue was melted, destroying a lamp. For a few minutes the crashes of thunder were terrific and extremely local. Hissing balls of fire were seen on the telegraph wire near the station. The damage was repaired by Mr. Al. Lamkin.

LISBON.

LISBON, June 12.—This little hamlet was alive with people yesterday afternoon. Vehicles of every description thronged the streets and thoroughfares, reminding one of Pimlico, or of the Donnybrook Fair, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Lulie Dorsey. daughter of Mr. William Dorsey, of Henwood, to Mr. Oliver Pearte, of Frederick. The groom is the son of Mr. Jas. A. Pearre, residing near this place. The 'knot" was tied by Rev. J. D. Thomas, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place. The hour was seven o'clock, and although a shower or two of rain had fallen between the hours of five and seven o'clock, the church was crowded to

Cooksville orchestra, No. 2, serenaded Mr. George W. Mills and bride on the evening of the 10th, at his home near this place. The couple were married in Baltimore on the 5th, returning home on Saturday. The orchestra is an extempore organization whose leader is selected and elected as the occasion requires. It has been the intention of the nembers to become rivals of orchestra No. 1, although one or two enthusiasts declared the music was similar in symphony. The band collected at Cooksville and arrived at the home of the happy pair about 8 20 P. M. and began the serenade. Soon re-inforcements arrived and music, not from Mozart, nor Handel, floated out and away on the beautiful dreamy, June evening, reverberating down the vale, waking the echoes along the Patapsco and Cat Tail Creek. After repeated calls the couple who had retired, appeared on the porch. The groom en decolette, a la Trilby, seemed all smiles, while the bride, herself a poem, looked as fresh as a sunflower. Congratulations being heaped upon them the orchestra dispersed to the strains of "Do you love me, Mollie, darling?"

THE SHORT LINE SOLD,

Steam Railroad Between Baltimore and Catonsyllle Purchased by Gentlemen Owning and Controlling the Edmondson Avenue, Catonsville and Ellicott City Electric Railway.

Arrangements were completed Monday whereby the Catonsville Short Line Railroad, a branch of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, will pass under the control of the Edmondson Avenue, Catonsville and Ellicott City Electric Rail- They have no idea of retiring him for way Company, which constitutes a portion of the Baltimore and Washington Boulevard Electric Line. Surveyors have already begun work on a route from the Catonsville terminus of the Short Line, on the south side of the Frederick road, in the center of Catonsville, to a point on Edmondson avenue about one hundred yards east of Winter's lane. It is proposed to connect the Short Line with the Edmondson avenue to win. They are not abusing any body. line, and substitute on the former electricity as a motive power instead of steam. The route surveyed crosses the Frederick road, runs two hundred yards on Egge's lane, thence through the prop- | will nothere after permit bush whackers erty of Victor G. Bloede, taking off a corner of Mr. Bloede's house. Thence the line traverses the property of Henry Keidel. The distance from the present terminus of the Short Line to the Bouleyard line in about two-fifths of a mile.

for the Short Line is the value of the bonds, $45,000, the back interest on which amounts to several thousand dol lars, and $10 a share on $60,000 of stock The par value of the stock is $50. It is stated by Mr. Bernard N. Baker that the stockholders of the Short Line will be paid off at $10 a share, but if they wish t the Raltimore and Washington Boulevard Company will give them the full value of the stock in stock of the electric road. It is proposed to commence work at

of the Short Line and the Edmondson avenue line. The rails will be laid on the south side of Egge's lane. The lane is only thirty feet wide and it is thought that if a T-rail is laid the road will be too narrow for wagon travel. A flat rail will probably be laid on the lane. The Short Line runs due south for a alf mile from the Catonsville terminus, then turning eastward by a slightly ser pentine route ranging from half a mile to a mile south of the Frederick turnpike, extends to the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad at Loudon Park. The total ength of the Short Line is three and eight-tenths of a mile. An extension will be constructed from Loudon Park to connect with some city electric line, probably the Wilkens avenue line of the City and Suburban Railway, entering the city from the southwest.

THE CARS TO BE USED on the electric road will be somewhat similar to those used by the steam railroads. They will be lighted by electricity, and will have a scating capacity of one hundred. The trains will be operated by heavy electric motors. The entire road, complete, will cost over a million dollars, and it is expected that it will be completed to Washington in eighteen months.

The Short Line is operated by the Baitimore and Potomac Railroad Company. under a lease of ninety-nine years, dating from November 10, 1884. The consent road, which controls the Baltimore and Potomac Road, had to be gotton before the Short Line was purchased. The officers of the Edmondson Avenue Catonsville and Ellicott City Electric Railway are . George Yakel, president; Louis Yakel, treasurer; Wm. Layfield secretary. The directors are George Yakel, Robert Biggs, Louis Yakel, Dr. H. J. Berkeley, John Hubner, W. B. Baker and David M. Newbold.

Mr. James A. Gary is president of the Short Line; Dr. C. E. W. MacGill is secretary, General John Gill treasurer. The officers of the Short Line express ed their regret Monday that the road | ill from rheumatism. had been sold, as it takes the steam cars only a half hour to convey passengers to school No. 7 by our popular young the heart of Baltimore, while the time on the electric cars will be at least forty minutes.

The freight traffic, which has been very heavy over the Short Line, will be hauled by steam, as heretofore. The annual meeting of the Short Line will take place June 18, when new directors will be elected.

Some people are constantly troubled with pimples and boils, especially about the face and neck. The best remedy is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels all humors through the proper channels, and so makes the skin become soft, healthy, and fair.

To DR. HARTLEY,

We have removed across the street to 211 West Lexington Street, nearly opposite our old store. Our new store is stocked with fresh goods and we now carry the most complete line of drugs and druggists sundries in the city. No matter what you want, if its in the drug line you'll find it at our store, and it will be of the best at that, and the prices;-they'll be right, too. We draw particular attention to the New Soda Fountain. It's a work of art-it's a perfect gem. We believe it's equal can't be found outside of New York City. The quality of our soda water is of the highest, for we have made it a special feature-it's one of our strong points. Patent medicines at right prices.
