Mr. John Bunn, a retired farmer of the Sourth district, died April 26th at the home of his adopted daughter, Mrs. Hannah C. Barnes, near Lisbon, after a long and pairful illness, in the 70th year of his age. He leaves a widow but no children. He was a kind and genial gentleman, and had a large circle of riends in this county where he resided for 34 years. He was a native of Germany, but came to this country when quite young. Interment in McKendree cemetry Thursday, April 28th.

Mr. George Colton, for many years prominent in Democratic politics in this state, died at his residence, in Baltimore Wednesday, in the 81st year of his age. He was conspicuous for his energy and the many clever features of character. In his time he was a business man, newspaper publisher and politician and a writer of no mean ability. He died possessing considerable estate, among other valuable property owning a farm near Jessup's, in Howard county. He spent a number of years on this place raising fancy poultry. He was a native of England, having come to this country when he was two years old.

Mr. Francis M. Shipley, one of the oldest and perhaps best known residents of the upper section of Howard county died Friday night last at his home near Glenelg after an illness of several weeks from the infirmities of old age, in his eighty-ninth year. The deceased was formerly a believer in the doctrine of the Methodist Church, but a number of years ago espoused the cause of the Universalist faith, and up to the time of his death he was a most devoted advocate of its teachings. He erected several years ago on his place a fine building to be used for religious worship. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. P. G. Day, of Baltimore, and a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. A widow, who was his second wife, also survives him. His estate near Glenelg is one of the finest in that section.

Capturing prizes seems to be a kind of fad in this war and even the women are taking a hand in such matters. The Washington Post says that "Mrs. Mc-Kinley took a midnight train." She certainly should get big ransom for the School, at which the Rev. Dr. Julius E. Pullman palace car conductors on it.

The Sun had an article lately entitled "Decline of Narcotic Abuses." I wonder if that means that its soporitic editorials will be shortened or omitted entirely.

I wonder how much change will come to Spain after she turns over all her possessions to us in payment of war indemnity. Let us be generous and give her Weyler and de-Lome. Nothing mean about us.

Even whilst all Spain knew without the shadow of a doubt that Dewey had annihilated her fleet before Manila, the Minister of Marine joined the Cabinet council and informed his colleagues that the Spanish Admiral had gained a victory in the Philippines. The golden jubilee of St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal Church in Laurel began Sunday. The rector, Rev. T. A. Johnstone, read an bistorical address and in the evening Rev. A. Mackay-Smith, of except on Fridays. Washington city, preached. The parish was organized in 1848 and the first vestry was composed of Horace Capron, Stephen P. Heath, James Arthur, Daniel D. Davidson, George H. May, Richard Heath, Elias Ellicott, Tubman Jones.

Monday night a banquet was held at the Hotel Leslie, to which the entire membership of the church were invited. Clergymen from Baltimore and Washington were present, and responses were made to a number of toasts. In the afternoon there were exercises by the Sunday-Grammer, of Baltimore, made an address. The funeral of Mr. Edward Norris Tyson, who died Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. John Penny, after a lingering illness, in the 80th year of his age, took place at St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal Church at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. T. A. Johnstone officiated. Interment was made in Ivy Hill Cemetery. The pall bearers were Dr. J. D. Cronmiller, George W. Lillibridge, George W. Waters, William Reed,
