Damage by Hall.

The severe hall-storm that passed over Howard county Monday evening is reported to have done much more damage than was at first supposed. On the farms of County Treasurer Frank Parlett, Mr. Frank D. Brown and others in the vicinity of Woodstock, it is estimated that at least one-third of the wheat crop was destroyed and hundreds of window panes were broken. Besides the damage to the growing crops on the Woodstock College farm 400 window panes were shattered in the College buildings. Eight hundred panes of glass were broken in the dwelling and hothouses of State's Attorney seph D. McGuire, 300 panes at Mr. Robert Yates' greenhouse on the Frederick pike, and 200 at the place, near Ellicott City, of the Misses Merrick. The dam of Mr. Samuel Burgess was damaged to the extent of about ten dollars, the flood washing a large hole in

The storm was particularly severe be tween Alpha and Marriottsville. Some of the hall were as large as hens' eggs, twenty-five of which in one instance weighing 1½ pounds. Window panes were shattered everywhere in the neighborhood. Twenty-six were broken at the residence of Marcellus Wright, forty at Wm. Buckingham's, including a sash and quite a lot at Dr. Benjamin Shipley's Argued in the Court of Appeals.

The Court of Appeals heard argument on the 12th inst. in the case of state, use of the Board of School Commissioners of Howard county, vs. John E. Hill and the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland. The suit was on a bond given by John E. Hill, as secretary and treasurer of the Board of School Commissioners of Howard county. The statute under which the bond was given requires the treasurer to pay out such monies as the board may "under the provisions of this article (77 of the code) direct." The last words quoted were left out of the bond. The contention of the school board is that the comlegally paid out by Mr. Hill, although he may have done so at the order of the board. The Fidelity won below, on the theory that it was not responsible for any illegal disbursements of Mr. Hill, provided the board had ordered the pay-Interesting Hubeus Corpus Case:

Judge Jones Monday heard the case. on a writ of habeas corpus, for the release of Patrick O'Brien, who is charged with intent to defraud James W. Driver, a farmer, of the Fourth district. O'Brien claims to be from New York, and a dealer in dry goods. It was shown in evidence that the accused visited farmers in this and other counties, selling goods in packages. Mr. Driver purchased a package of the goods, containing cloths for men's and women's apparel, for the stipulated sum of $125, giving his note for the amount, and subsequently paying on the note $25, for which he was credited. Mr. Driver's chief compiaint was that the quantity of goods represented by Mr. O'Brien was not in the package. Several witnesses, however, to whom Mr. O'Brien had effected similar sales, stated that they considered the transac tion legal, and did not feel justified in making criminal complaint. Judge Jones released O'Brien on reduced bail, and held the decision sub curia.

Mrs. Martha, beloved wife of Mr. James Tobin, of near Watersville, Carroll county, died on Thursday evening May 12th, after a long and painful illuess. Mrs. Tobin was born in Harford county, but came to reside in Howard county, after her marriage, just four years ago. Although of a modest, retiring disposition Mrs. Tobin won many friends by her kindness of heart, and gentle character. She was an exemplary Christian, being a devout member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, and until that fatal malady, (consumption) which closed her life, was a constant attendant at the same church. During her illness she was faithfully attended by Rev. Father Dowling, and all that loving hands, and kind neighbors could do, was done to bring her back to health, but it was of no avail. Her resignation and fortitude, her peaceful death, was but a litting termination of her short, but well spent life. Only one short year ago the relentices hand of death visited this happy little family, and took from it a bright little daughter, back to Heaven to await the coming of the mother, who was 50 500n to follow. The many friends, to whom Mrs. Tobin had endeared herself, deplore her untimely end, and extend their heartfelt sympathy to Mr. Tobin, in this, his sad bereavement.
