The Johnston Harvesting Machines

TAKE THE LEAD.

The first gun of the season has been fired, and the first victory won! This time the victory was not over the Spanish fleet in far off Manila, but right at home and over the cheap trashy machines that are now flooding the market.

We started the first "Bonnie" Binders of the season in South Carolina on May 30th, the day we do honor to the defenders of our great and glorious country. The reports we get from these machines are more than satisfactory.

Our competitors admit the worth of our machine by offering theirs for less money. The fact that the "Bonnie" is constantly growing in popularity has spread consternation in their ranks, and they now seem to fear that they cannot get rid of their Cheap John machines even at low prices.

We are proud of the fact that we are finding a great many people who want the best even if it does cost a trifle more. The "Bonnie" is the cheapest binder on the market today, not because it can be bought for less money, but because the man who buys it gets more durability and more satisfaction out of it than is possible with any other machine on the market.

We attach copies of two letters just received from parties who are using "Bonnie's" this year:

ANDERSON, S. C., May 30, 1898.

Dear Sir:—I spent some time today watching and operating a "Bonnie" binder in the field. Am delighted with the machine. It exceeds anything in the way of a binder I ever saw. Its draft is light, it is easily operated and does perfect work in light as well as in heavy grain.

I believe the "Bonnie" is all you claim it to be and that it is the solution of the light binder problem.

Respectfully yours,
N. B. SULLIVAN.

HOLLANDS, S. C., May 30, 1898.

Dear Sir:—The "Bonnie" purchased of your agents, the Sullivan Hardware Co., was started in my field to day and it works satisfactorily in every way. The grain was short and thin but it saved it all, not wasting any in the elevators, and making nice shapely bundles. It is light of draft and easily handled, and although I had three mules hitched to the machine I am satisfied two can pull it over any ground I have.

Yours truly,
J. T. McCOUN.

PASSPORT TO PARADISE.

Dying Man Pinned His Prospects on Faith and Was Content.

"Glad to see you!" growled the old general feebly. "What do you know about heaven?"

"Now, to judge by some of the reverend gentlemen in the pews, this was a subject with which he was uncommonly conversant, but somehow when suddenly called to the bar in this incisive way he found some difficulty in bringing his knowledge to bear. He stammered, hesitated—in short, did everything but give the required information.

"Why don't you answer?" demanded the general, peevishly. "Get on, man! I'm in a hurry, and you're one of the guides. Can't you tell me anything about the country I'm bound for? Bah! I suspect you're a humbug."

"This was pretty hard treatment for one of the sacred choir, and I fancy there was as much of (unwitting) retaliation as of duty in Mr. McMan's reply:

"It would be more profitable for you to think of past sins than of future prospects. Repentance!"

The dying man had heard the remonstrance thus far with the quizzical air of one who saw through it to the underlying motive, but here he struck with: "Answer me now: How do you save by works or faith?"

"Faith, certainly," began the clergyman; faith left, again interrupted the patient. "Who accuses me of unbelief? Don't I accept all the articles of the Christian faith?"

"Yes, but—"

"Well, then, I don't see but my ticket to salvation is as good as anybody's. Confound all false doctrine, heresy and schism!"

With this pious declination he turned himself rather violently on his side and settled into quiescence. The clergyman sat there a long time before the fact dawned upon his mind that his munificent patron had passed finally out of his parish—Lippincott's.

Singing Spiders.

A naturalist who has given many years of study to some of the smaller forms of insect life has discovered that certain sorts of spiders are possessed of organs for which there seems to be no use save to create sound. They are mostly used when the little creatures are in love, although the opinion is held by some that this is their means of calling to their mates. The alarm idea, however, has some support in the case of the rattlesnake, which is provided with the means of making its presence known whenever an enemy approaches. Whether the possession of organs for creating sound is designed merely as a protection or warning is a point to which naturalists are giving careful and enthusiastic attention.—New York Ledger.

Two Views of a Sad Case.

Her Father—I am afraid, sir, that my daughter can never be happy with a man who can be engaged to her a month without giving her a ring.

The Applicant—Sir, I am afraid I can never be happy with a girl whose engagement to me will not induce jewelers to treat me—Jewelers' Weekly.

There are said to be about 480,000,000 Christians, 250,000,000 Confucians, etc.; 100,000,000 Hindus and 180,000,000 Mohammedans. These are merely estimated figures.
