ments have been made whereby the roadon the line of the road, near Ellicott City, is authority for the statement that | was the game played. contracts have already been entered into by the owners of the road for the removal of the ties and other fixtures along the route that had been placed in position before the litigation which resulted in the sale of the road, and its final disposition by the Baltimore courts a short time ago.

Should the report prove truethere will be a general feeling of disappointment among the residents of this community. as the building of the road would greatly have improved the prospects of Ellicott City and adjacent country.

We have a later statement to the effect that it is the design of the present owners of the Columbia and Maryland to complete the line from Baltimore to Elbeen selling the rails and ties of the road. About $100,000 worth have already been disposed of. It will require about $65,000 to complete the line to Ellicott City, and we have it from very good authority that work on it will soon com-

A Will Case.

The removed case from Anne Arundel county of John O. Mitchell, Margaret Edna Mitchell and Basil B. Whalen against George M. Benson, Basil B. Benson and others was received Monday by County Clerk John H. Owings to be filed for trial at the September term of the Howard County Court. The case is upon a caveat of the will of the late Basil S. Benson of Anne Arundel county. The caveators allege that the will, which was made April 16, 1895, "was not duly executed by the deceased as his free and voluntary act with knowledge of its contents, and at the time of its alleged execution was not of a sound mind and memory and capable of making a valid deed or contract," and also that the will was made through "undue influence, fraudulent misrepresentations and persuasions.' The will is attested by John M. Magers, A. Campbell Glocker and James H. Smith. Ex-Senator Robert Moss and Ex Judge and James M. Monroe for the caveatees.

Lieutenant Bannon.

Among the brave marines holding Camp McCalla, at Guantanamo Bay, i Second Lient. Philip M. Bannon, of Maryland. He is a member of the Bannon family at Jessup's, and is well known in Baltimore. His father was Michael Bannon, the Democratic politician of Anne Arundel county, and James P. Bannon, the attorney, of Baltimore, is a brother. Lieutenant Bannon graduated from Rock Hill College, and in 1895, from the Naval Academy. In his class were Ensign Worth Bagiey, who was killed at Cardenas, and Ensign Breckenridge, who was drowned from the Cushing just before war was declared. After graduation, young Bannon chose the Marine Corps for his service, and has spent most of his time on duty in Washington. He served on the Oregon on the Pacific Coast. At the outbreaking of the war he was ordered South with the marines on the troopship Panther.

Destructive Fire at Dayton.

The store-house of Messrs. Stull & Howard, at Dayton, Fifth district of Howard county, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night, together with the goods, consisting of general merchandise. When the fire was discovered, the flames had made such headway that it was impossible to gain an entrance to the building. It is the impression that the store was first burglarized, and then fired by the thieves to cover their tracks. The riage of Miss Mary Amanda Sunderland, goods were partially insured, but on the daughter of Mr. B. C. Suuderland, to Mr. liam T. Hobbs, there was no insurance.

Do you say I never told you The story of when, and how I first took part in a circle With Spirts? Then, I'll do so now.

Connected with hand in hand, And soon a current magnetic, As physical scientists say, Incited the stand to behaving In quite a remarkable way. Its legs it uneasily lifted—
It wriggled and wobbled about.
As though the "Old Harry" was in it.
And didn't know how to get out.

When asked, "Is the Spirit acquainted With any one now sitting here, If so, let it answer by tipping?"— The stand again kicked like a steer! It then was agreed to, among us.
To name all the letters, and try
If in answer to mention of any
The Spirit, or Stand, would reply. It worked like a charm, and the Spirit Informed us that while in this life, woman who sat in the circle

Now, she, whom the Spirit had mentioned, Was known, if the truth must be told, As a vixen—a perfect virago—
A notable neighborhood scold! The widow was all in a flutter,
To think that her "hubby" was near,
And asked him abundance of questions
About his condition and sphere.

"Dear John," she remarked to the Spirit,
"You long ago left me behind; But, perhaps, even yet, you remember Sometimes you were not very kind!" At this the invisible Spirit
Spelled out, through the stand a reply,
With apparent reluctance, "I know it"
And shivered as though with a sigh. Said the widow, "all that is forgiven,

With tippings, and kickings emphatic, That almost the stand overthrew, It answered, "I'm happier immensely, Than when I was living with you!" "And, where is your home?" quoth the widow
"In which of the spheres do you dwell?"
The stand fairly quivered with anguish,
As it slowly spelled out, "Down in h-1!"

But now that your Spirit is free.

Are you, my dear husband, as happy
As when you were living with me?"

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me, I tried it, and with the most gratifying results.

The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. MARY A. BEARD, Claremore, Ark. Sold by lruggists.
