Wm. L. Nichols, Mr. Rogers for Congress.

In the Elifcott City correspondence of the Baltimore Herald Thursday we find the following, which we may accept as a tribute to the worth and ability of Mr. John G. Rogers:

"There is a strong sentiment in Howard G. Rogers for Congress, and his friends here claim that if he will consent to enter the contest no honorable means will be spared to secure him the honor. His friends claim that his past political give assurance that he would have the support of the entire Democracy of the district, and that, in addition, he has both the financial means and the intellectual ability to more than compete with the prospective opponent, Mr. Mudd. Mr. Rogers would, of course, encounter no opposition in his county in case he consents to become a candidate for the position.

Serious Dog Bite.

No little interest is just now being manifested over the probable results of wounds inflicted several days ago on Joseph Easton, a resident of the Fourth district of antagonist. this county, by a supposed mad dog. On Tuesday of last week Mr. Easton's watchdog suddenly exhibited signs of rables and made a vicious attack on its master. fastening its teeth in his flesh in several places before the brute could be subdued. The wounds began at once to swell, and Saturday the pain had become so intense that the sufferer was advised by his physician to avail himself of the Pasteur treatment, and he left home immediately, in charge of friends, with that intention. The dog continued to show symptoms of hydrophobia, and was killed.

Mr. Easton will remain at the Pasteur Institute for at least twenty days to await the results of the treatment. So far, it is stated, no serious symptoms have devel-

Interesting Occasion,

The Orange Grove puplic school as a token of their esteem and appreciation of his ability and faithfulness while in office, Thursday, presented ex-Examiner Dr. L. M. Shipley with a handsome chair and cushion. The presentation took place in the school board office in the presence of the board, Miss Pindell, the teacher, and the scholars. Dr. James E. Shreeve, president of the board, in a very happy and impressive manner, made the presentation, to which Dr. Shipley feelingly and appropriately replied. Miss Mabel Phillips recited a selection dedicated to the out-going examiner. It was the intention of the school to complete the round of this interesting occasion, and present Mr. Harman, the new examiner, with a magnificent bouquet as a welcome, but through some misunderstanding the flowers falled to arrive and the event had to be postponed.

SCOTT. Mr. George Scott, perhaps the oldest and most widely known horse dealer in Maryland, died at his residence, 1338 West Lombard street, Baltimore, Tuesday morning, aged 78 years. He was born in Howard county, near Ellicott City, and when quite young drove a stage coach from this place to Baltimore. About 45 years ago Mr. Scott went to Baltimore and engaged in the horse business, conducting the business until his death. The deceased was a prominent member of Bethany Methodist Church, Baltimore, and enjoyed the respect of all those with whom he ever had dealings.

THE TOURNAMENT SEASON. A Fascinating Festival Perpetuated by

The reign of the tournament is now fairly on, already some half a dozen having taken place in Howard county, and three were announced to take place the past week tournament held in fair sister states, and mingled with its other pleasant features pitality, which gives it an ever-inviting ring. There is no truer nor cleaner sport in the world than the riding tournament, are worthy of the highest praise. For fame and sweet smiles the knight rides, and, of course, spurred on by these, he always rides his best. No more interesting sight is there in the world than a wellridden and closely-contested tourney. The fair landscape, for it is, as a rule, a garden spot upon which the trials of skill are held the gayly-clothed holiday crowd, the arches hung with both the national and Maryland colors, the prancing, restless steeds and the inspiring sounds of the band in attendance, all go to make up a scene that dwells upon the memory for many days after the tourhament is over. Nothing can be more enchanting than to watch the knights, under fanciful names, contesting for the rings. The horses in rapid succession go dashing through the lists; at each turn showing more and more the strain. The strain on the rider, is, also, tremendous, and a knight who passes six or seven times through the arches, taking all three of the rings each time is, proved beyond all question as a man of steady nerve. At each turn the rider is keyed higher and higher, and the interest of the crowd always gets more and more intense as the contest grows hotter and After the tourney is the time of the crowning of the queen and maids of honor, and here the knight has a chance to more than repay himself for his labors in placing the crown upon the queen or her maids of honor. These honors are Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock Mr. De greatly coveted by the fair young damsels, and their interest is often more in-Miss Minnie Mitchell, daughter of Frank | tense if possible than that of their

To the light of a dozen or so brilliant lanterns and to the music of a good band, this delightful dance is generally given. A gayer crowd never assembled in a ball room than that which gathers on the oc casion of a tourney dance.

SCAGGSVILLE TOURNAMENT. Not the least among the successful tournaments held in Howard county was that at Scaggsville Tuesday. Many people from Laurel went to witness the tournament, and the attendance from the countryside was very large. The orators were Mr. J. Malcolm Dorsey, of the Howard bar, who delivered the charge to the knights in an eloquent strain, and Mr. William E. Linn, of Laurel, who made a witty and sentimental coronation address. The professional knights crowned Miss Bettie Gaither Queen of Love and Beauty and Misses Mary Kruhm, Jessie Harding and Lizzie lager maids. Mrs. Alice Jackson, an esteemed old lady, wife of Mr. Ralph Jackson, died at an early hour Sunday morning at her home near this village, from the infirmities of old age, after an illness of six weeks, in her eighty-first year. She was a native of Lancaster, England, but came to this country in 1848, a short time after her marilage to Mr. Jackson. Her husband was for many years a forcman in one of the departments, both in the old Union and Thistle Cotton Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were probably the oldest married couple in this community, they having celebrated their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary a short time ago. Mrs. Jackson was widely known, having made her home where she died for many years on the road leading from this vilage to Ellicott City, where she conducted a small store. At the time of her death Mrs. Jackson had in her possession sev eral pieces of chinaware over a hundred years old, given to her by relatives when she came to America. Her funeral took place from her late home at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. R. Andrews Poole, of St. Peter's P. E. Church, Ellicott City, conducting the services, and the interment was in Oella Cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. John Norton, William Riley, Horace Mc-Call, John Shipley, Robert Burgee and Frederick King. Mr. Jackson is in a very enfeebled condition, and was unable to accompany the remains to the cemetery. Mrs. Jackson's only near relatives in this country are Mr. Riley Andrews, a nephew, and Miss Mary Wade, a niece. Mr. John Wesley Jones, of Baltimore, died about 6 o'clock Monday morning at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Walter Clements, here, after a long illness, from consumption, aged 54 years. He was the son of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late John-sie Jones, of this place. Mr. Jones came to Oella about two months ago with the hope of prolonging his life, but he grew rapidly worse and his death was not unexpected. His wife, Mrs. Roberta H lones, and a son and daughter-Harry Jones and Mrs. Nelly Boyed, wife of Mr. William Boyed, of Baltimore, survive him. His funeral took place from the M. E. Church here Wednesday afternoon and S.P. M.; Bethany, 3 P. M. Wednesat 2 30 o'clock, Rev. Wm. Rogers, of Elday, prayer meeting at 8 P. M. Friday, licott City, conducting the services. His 8 P. ## DAISY.

Daisy, Aug. 17 .- The rainy and cloudy weather for the last three weeks has put back farm work greatly. Many places in the roads are badly washed out, which will cause the county more expense as nearly all the roads had been worked for the year. We hear many complaints about the bad weather. How fortunate t would be if we could all realize that life was given to enjoy, not to drag out n complaint.

Daisy has been visited this summer by y many strangers. Mrs. W. H. Miles, as had a number. Miss Hise, of Wash ngton, is there now. Mrs. Rebecca Griffith has had a number
