The good Republicans of Philadelphia are making their periodical protest against the corrupt Republican machine they favored. Nobody knew exactly which has ruled their burg for many years. The scandals which have been so disgraceful and so transparent that the "better element" among the Republicans now feel that "reform" is a crying necessity. Accordingly, a "Citizens League" to compel the choice of a city ticket untainted by connection with "the machine" has been formed. This last spasmodic attempt to purify Philadelphia | the Mauser possessed the advantages of a politics by the party which is responsible for the corruption will be watched with

Ex-Gov. Wm. J. Stone, of Missouri, has always been a leading Democrat out in his section, and he has placed in the van the subject of territorial expansion as a present party question. In a late address he declared that the traditions of the party were on the side of expansion, and he proved from the records that Jefferson, Pierce and Buchanan had all been in favor of the anexation of Cuba. Gov. Stone also declared for the building of the Nicaragua canal, and wants the American Navy, to be the greatest on the waters of the globe.

One of the difficult questions which the Republican campaigners will have to deal with this fail is the deficit of upwards of $42,000,000 that the Treasury statement shows to have existed at sanitation of Cuban seaports and the the close of the fiscal year on the 30th health of the United States has long been of June. Goode describes it as he too saw it from Admiral Sampson's flagship, the "New York." Together the two papers give a complete and most vivid account of what was undoubtedly the most plc turesque event of all the war; and being llustrated with portraits of all the commanders, pictures of all the ships, and views of all the wrecks, largely from photographs taken by the authors, they leave nothing to be desired.
