Strange news is that coming from Havana, saying that the American Military commissioners, and not the Spanish, are procrastinating. But it must be remembered that Admiral Sampson is one of our Commissioners, and he never was in a hurry but once-when he reachedafter the glory belonging to Schley.

With an even step of fate the Republican party is treading the path of the grave. The patriotic American people in a calm, steady, deliberate, but ceaseless and fatal advance, are pushing it make it almost a dead letter. As I unonward to its doom. All that is left of derstand it the law, all law, starts from it now is the name Republicanism, made luminous by Abraham Lincoln.

The party of Hanna and Alger never was the party of Lincoln. The glory of the Republican party has long since faded away, and in its place we see the heart-chilling spectre of greed, soulless in action, remorseless in purpose, and

There must b some truth in this statement for the illegally elected Senator Wellington talked an hour or more in the Senate when his friends said that he had "lost his bead." H's speech certainly lacked body.

Mr. Mark Hanna, the "alter ego" of Mr McKinley, says that "to retain a Republican majnity in Congress will require much hard work." For "hard work" read "hard money," or in fact any kind that will pass among his brand of politicians.

Mr. McKinley made a speech on the 12 inst. amid much shouting, at the Hons. G. L. Wellington and Sydney Omaho exposition, in which he said stripped of all excess of verbiage and prettily turned periods, that we ought to be mighty glad, (70,000,000 against 17,000,000) that we whipped Spain, that all talk of impeachment, &c. is unpatriotic; country enjoying the divine favor to the exclusion of Spain, and that had it not Spain might have whipped us. In the matter of lynchings. Lynchers are really the only persons who can be relied upon to execute the law, which decrees death to those guilty of feloniously assaulting women. They uncerimoniously cut the "red tape," falsely called "the orderly administration of justice," with which law-makers, lawyers, judges and Governors fetter the law and the people, then why is it illegal for the people to execute it? There is really much less doubt of the guilt of those lynched than of the proper execution of the law by its alleged guardians.

To whom belongs a family name? Certainly not, one would imagine, to any one who may choose to take unwarranted ossession of it. The law gives a man's family name to his wife and their children, and it requires the aid of the law when one desires to change his name. This would seem to imply that there is a recognized property, a valuable property, in a name. Why should it be legal, query is it? for any one, from the highest to the lowest, who fancles a name to appropriate it, without asking the consent of all who have the recognized right to bear it, and bestow it, say as a chrisian name upon a son who may be very objectionable to every one of, or even to one of those to whom it legitimately be-

Subtract this she said and he divided, add his, and six more chestnuts were found in his pockets than belonged to him. To this one she said multiply, and her troubles alone were multiplied. To a ittle blue eyed girl she said you are naughty and the innocent replied "dats what mommer says." To a boy she said she said "the Good Man sees your badness." "Guess not, he aint er worryin about no public school," he muttered. Stop that she said when one would make a noise. "I ain't doin' nothink, make Jane quit makin faces at me." The gold standard is a disastrous failure in every country that has recently tried to establish it. It has already ruined India, and recently the bankers and brokers and gold standard writers of London have united in a protest against any further attempts to establish the system in India, believing that it has not only ruined that country, but would produce a panic in London, because there is not enough tary inquiry as to England has shown that this condition is due to the gold standard, and in both of these countries the re-establishment of bimetallism. NOTIUE.

There never was a better foundation for a fortune than the proper use of your money, and if this be true, why pay any more for your goods than named in this list? We understand there are 5, 10, 15, 25, 50, 75 cent and $1.00 Pants, Shirts, Overalls, Suspenders, Soaps, Combs, Brooms, &c., but what is the quality? We have never been able to set before the people a lot of Underwear in Gents' and Ladies' to compare with our goods for the money. It is true they were bought under the hammer, but what does it concern you if you get a 65 cent Shirt for 50 cents, and a pair of Overalls for 50 cents worth 65 cents, and a pair Pants for $1.50 worth
