Mabel Gifford elsewhere in this issue discourses on the failure of the church to come up to its professed privileges, according to scripture. We don't know exactly what she is endeavoring to prove, but what she says will strike the average thinker as lamentably true. It is the complaint of the churches, particularly of the various benevolent boards, that contributions have so failen off as to materially interfere with the operations of missionary work, in many cases necessitating the annihilation of stations where missionary work had already been in operation. It is a serious question for churchmen to consider.

Our muncipal election is approaching Are our citizens in a mood to endeavor to fortify themselves against that same old aggrandizing spirit which has heretofore sought to get charge of affairs, at the expense of good order and a clean government? What we want it a non partisan ticket and let there be early action in the matter. We don't want the old order of things changed. It has been good enough, as the annual statement has shown. Make the ticket and let it be a representative one.

We are indebted to The Washington Post for a copy of its almanac for 1899. It requires but hasty perusal of its pages and contents to show that it is a work of more than passing value, entirely too voluminous for us here to recount. The work is in line with the dignity and wide spread influence of The Post, now enjoying an enviable reputation in foreign lands as well as our own country.

The sword that Congress had made for Dewey is on exhibition in Washington; also the sword which the Royal Arcanum had made at a cost of $1,500 for Schley, but nobody is exhibiting a sword that anybody intends for Sampson, who not being able to pull a presentation sword will have to be content with having pulled more promotion than he was entitled to from the Navy Department.

It is stated in Washington that the resion, soon to be submitted to Mr. McKinley, will censure Secretary Alger, Gens. Miles, Shafter, Breckinridge and Brooke, the Medical Department of the army and the others for various defections.

President McKinley has decided that Commissary-General Eagan must appear before a court-martial and answer for the abusive language incorporated in the testimony submitted by him to the War Investigating Commission. An announcement to this effect was made by the Chief Executive at Tuesday's Cabinet meeting.

The Wm. J. Bryan idea concerning the Phillipines is correct. Ratify the treaty and fix the status of the islands afterwards. It has been our history that the party which opposes the results of a war is doomed to defeat. The patriotic impulse of this country is, don't pull down the flag as long as it can honorably fly.

Senator Allen's resolution for the investigation of the war by a committee of five Senators, not more than two to belong to one political party, is too good to be pigeonholed; and, if he can get it to a vote, we believe it would be adopted.

Miles should tell the country everything he has learned about the beef served to our soldiers; it may get him some more abuse from interested parties, but the people will thank him, even if they cannot, at this time, reward him.

There are several problems agitating Baltimore City just now, one of which is with moderate taxation. The Baltimore News hasn't much faith in either party.

Gen. Eagan forgot that the inherent right of every man to make an ass of himself has a proviso-that he shall not injure another in doing so.

The condition of affairs in the United States Army is scandulous and disgraceful. President McKinley is undoubtedly to be blamed for this shameful fact. He seems to be a quiet, temporizing gentleman who aims to subserve his own peace of mind to inevitable duty.

REVOLUTION AND EDUCATION.

EDITOR TIMES: John Gaynor replies in THE TIMES of Jan. 14th to my brief article in your is- | 17th and 31st ult. articles by John Gaysue of Jan. 7th. Will you kindly allow a nor relative to statements made by "Obbrief dialogue?

Gaynor-Fascinated, possibly, by the fame of our U.S. weather forecaster, "Observer" has elected himself U.S. forecas-statistics, but everywhere I go, and every ter of revolutions. O.—"Observer" began his forecasts some twenty-five years ago, before the U S. weather forecaster became quite as famous as he is now. In the language of the up-to-date store keeper, "'Observer' leads, others follow.' G.—He has a different revolution in

THE TIMES nearly every week.

O .- "Observer" gives The Times editor the option of publishing them all. Receiving, as he does, exchange papers from all parts of the country, he is qualijudge whether or not there is foundation for the revolutions "Observer" seeks to point out to the readers of THE TIMES. To a man of Mr. Gaynor's deptness at dismissing momentous matters as of the utmost insignificance, a revolution, like everything else, to him, can be dissipated as carelessly as a puff of tobacco smoke. However, his friend, Cardinal Gibbons, unless he is joking, takes the matter of the negroes as seriously as I do. In the Baltimore Sun of Nov. 26th an interview with him appeared, given under big head-lines. One paragraph reads: "The race conflicts, antagorisms and bloodshed which have recently occurred in several States of the Union can be largely traced to two great causes-the one-sided and ill-directed system of negro education and the indiscriminate exercise and consequent abuse

Mr. Gaynor can now proceed to interview the Cardinal and get him to pronounce all this evidence in my favor as unqualifiedly false as he has some other utterances of the Cardinal that have appeared in the leading Baltimore papers, under big head lines.

The conservative Baltimore Sun of Dec. 30th had a dispatch from Washington, headed. "Afro-American Council. Bishop Walters says, the Time Has Come For Colored Men to Act with Firmness,' and this comes to us after the North Carolina troubies have been quieted. J. Thomas F. itune, colored, editor of the New York Age, said previously in Washington, "I want the man I fight for (refering to the President) to fight for me, and if he don't I feel like stabbing him. I want mixed schools, mixed marriages and mixed churches." This was delivered at a mass meeting along with simi lar declarations from other of the colored brethren, the whole of which were set down by the press, as "Incendiary speeches of an unprecedented order." Ordinary men regard all these demonstrations as revolutionary. A whole page of THE Times could be filled with quotations from leading papers that so regard them. If, to Mr. Gaynor's big mind, they are insignificant trifles, which THE TIMES and all other papers betray their imbecility in publishing, he should at once offer to the country the services of his wisdom toward their dissipation. "Davids | Saviour, are not practical. There are cerare Wanted," as Dr. Talmage says in THE TIMES of Jan. 14th.

G -Last week it was a portentous uprising of "negroes and the poor whites, these one-sided educated monstrosities multiplied upon us by the State public school hatcheries"—"Observer" said. If that is not ridiculous, it is insane.

O .- Like Rev. Father Matthew O'Keefe, editor of The Catholic Mirror and Superent of Catholic Parochial schools Mr. Gaynor immistakably sides with the public schools. Sup't. O'Keefe has lately declared in the Mirror that his highest aim is to make the parochial schools the duplicate of the public schools. This is Congress. Congress is to be blamed for a great victory for the Freethinkers and not having provided smokeless powder, I have for twenty-five years said they were-to education. In the words of the poet, Pope:

"'Tis education forms the common mind. In the words of Cowper:

"From education, as the ruling cause, The public character its color draws: Thence the prevailing manners take the Extravagant or sober, loose or chaste."

While the churches have to do with men's nominal faiths and ideals, to whatever extent they go beyond being mere amusement bureaus" as a minister calls them, they leave to education the moulding of men's practical every day lives. The article which Mr. Gaynor brands ridiculous or insane is only one of many of a similar character that have appeared from my pen in larger papers than THR TIMES, and prominent citizens have written privately and publicly their appreciation of the same. A leading Maryland Judge, now on the bench, wrote me he was 'deeply impressed" by them. Mr. Gaynor has a perfect right to run counter to the opinion of the country generally on all subjects and I trust that THE TIMES will soon be able to offer him a a whole page, weekly, for its general rectification. In the meantime, the circuses that come this way ought to do a poor I trust no apology is needed to the intelligent readers of THE TIMES for my failure to continue discussing with Mr. Gaynor in the realm of polemics. Several of the intelligent correspondents of THE TIMES have sufficiently indicated the William Childs, of Olney, Montgomery county, was killed Wednesday afternoon while at work felling timber in the woods dict a few of our Protestant friends on his father's farm. A tree in failing whose supposition is that a certain crashed into some other limbs, breaking missing Miss Jones, of Mt. Airy, Md., is off and throwing a very heavy one on in a convent. This is without doubt a Mr. Chieds unexpectedly as he was makstatistics, but everywhere I go, and every place I hear from, and in every religious paper that comes to hand—and I have occasion to handle quite a number of papers—I find the same complaint—lack of life and lack of numbers in the churches.

In order to enter not only a conflict and lack of numbers in the churches.

In a convent. This is without doubt a ridiculous supposition. Among many other reasons these are a few which will show our enlightened friends that they are wrong.

> was twenty-one years old It is said that Douglass Bros., of Millerstown, Pa., who built the electric road from Middletown to Myersville, in Frederick county, contemplate organizing a company to extend the road from Myersville to Funkstown, Washington county, a distance of eight and one-half miles, to connect at Funkstown with the Hagerstown Electric Railway Company's system. If this extension is built Frederick and Hagerstown will be connected by twenty-six miles of electric road.

> Mrs. James Meredith, wife of a prominent farmer near Rockville, Montgomery county, was shot Saturday while driving along the public thoroughfare by a colored man who was hunting rabbits. The man shot twice, both loads entering Mrs. Meredith, peppering her head and face. She was taken to Rockville, where Dr. E. E. Stonestreet dressed the wounds and says they are not serious.
