SUSPENDED.

The discussion which has been running in THE TIMES for a number of weeks past may be considered closed for the present. We have a number of communications in all in a manner contending for right of way. Rev. John Gaynor has asked for a parting word and we have yielded, having about that much space to spare after getting in our report of the Teachers' Institute proceedings We have not constituted ourself umpire to decide upon the merits or demerits of the discussion. There is every shade of religious belief and sometimes non-religious belief and every intelligent man feels himself well-grounded in his belief, and it would give us pleasure to publish short, well thought out arguments supporting any opinion involving the betterment of man, but the discussion had got into such shape and grown to such proportions that it became impracticable for us to continue it. The world is working out its destiny slowly but surely. We are in better shape than we were one hundred years ago, socially, politically and religiously. Democratic ideas are rampant and the world is ready to burst the bands of mere creeds, without denying the essentials of the Christian religion, to step out into the broad light of reason and to practice principles of justice between man and man. This is what the world has been struggling for in the gloom of the past. America has demonstrated that a Democracy is possible, and the world has noted the foundation on which we have built and no system can now blind the people as to true destiny. We don't believe any system of religious belief will ever capture this country, but we believe the people will become more and more permeated with those principles of justice, purity and government, given to humanity by what we choose to call revelation, in other words, the scriptures.

We regret exceedingly that we are not able at this time to gratify our correspondents. No one should fear a full and free discussion of any topic. Just what is best for the world still remains a mooted question, but the world has never been so well equipped for or in a better mood to entertain discussion as at the present.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE FOR FEBRUARY.—The complete novel in the February issue of Lippincott's is "For the French Lilies," by Isabel Nixon Whitely. The action is chiefly in Italy in 1511-12, and in this remote period the author shows herself at home. Wardon Allan Curtis tells "The Tale of the Doubtful Grandfather," and a most extraordinary tale it is, such as surely was never told before. In "A Night in Devil's Gully," Owen Hall records an Australian experience of a kind now happily rare. Austin Bierbower, in "A Diplomatic Forecast," predicts that the leading and predominant powers will soon be England, Russia, and the United States, with Germany as a bad fourth—unless she attacks and overcomes Russia before the latter has carried out her Asiatic plans. The poetry of the number is by Viola Roseboro, Dora Read Goodale, Clarence Urmy, and Harrison S. Morris.

For La Grippe.

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash-av., corner Jackson-st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by druggists.

REVIEW OF REVIEWS FOR FEBRUARY.—In the February number of the American Monthly Review of Reviews the editor seeks to apply the lessons of our national failures in the South during the reconstruction period following the Civil War to the present problems of a similar nature in Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines. His deductions are interesting and instructive. He says: "The true way to restore the South to the Union after the war was to restore the South to its own people." The same principle applies today in the new territories just coming under our control. The editor warns us against a new type of "carpetbagger" who is threatening to invade Cuba—namely, the franchise-grabber. A large proportion of space in this number of the Review is given up to editorial and contributed articles on the management of foreign dependencies. Sylvester Baxter contributes an interesting study of the Dutch rule in Java, and Dr. Daniel Dorchester makes a statistical exhibit of the recent drift toward colonial and protectorate governments.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by Dr. Isaac J. Martin's Sons, Druggists.

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE FOR FEBRUARY opens with a notable poem by Rudyard Kipling, in which the "White Man" (unmistakably the White Man of the United States) is urged to take up his burden and go forth and fulfill his divine office of master and teacher to his "new-caught sullen peoples, half devil and half child." Following this is an interesting account, by Franklin Matthews, of an actual descent in the Holland diving torpedo boat, illustrated with drawings from life. Hamlin Garland contributes a delightful description of the daily life of the trail, drawn from his own close acquaintance with it; Captain Brady relates some more good stories from his own experience as a telegraph operator and train-despatcher; and Stephen Crane depicts, in his own vivid manner, some striking instances of bravery on the part of marines to whom it fell at Guantanamo to signal from shore to the ships under full exposure to Spanish sharp-shooters.

NO LADY'S TOILET IS COMPLETE without Dr. Isaac J. Martin's Sons' new line of toilet articles. ROYAL CREAM has no superior for curing chapped hands and lips, and a roughened complexion can be softened to equal that of an infant. Their VIOLET TALCUM POWDER, at 10 cents, has no superior where a toilet powder is needed. QUININE HAIR TONIC and CARBOLIC TOOTH WASH speak for themselves whenever used.

A LAST WORD.

EDITOR TIMES:

I had supposed my last word relating to "Observer's" assertion that all churches had lost all spiritual power had been written. But as second party in the argument, custom gives me the privilege to reply so long as you permit an opponent to continue. Your readers cannot be asked to interest themselves in mere personal defence and justification. Yet that is the whole burden of last week's letters.

Your editorial says that "Observer's" original assertion that all churches had lost all spiritual power is obviously wrong, and Mr. Small makes an admission which from a supportor of "Observer's" false position is to the same effect. That was my contention, and the entire and only reason why I wrote to THE TIMES at all. Your various correspondents pretending to be occupied and interested in this one point introduced all sorts of different subjects hoping to obscure "Observer's" wrong and hide it. So long as there is one church in all this world with one member attending it through the single motive to please God, "Observer's" assertion must remain utterly false. I told him so. Yet he simply reiterated the audacious phrase and trusted to his own and others' trick abilities to smother up his defeat and confusion.

My opponents in their communications have made strange voluntary confession that I am "serious, sound, logical, gallant, heroic, creditable and evidently of liberal educational advantages." Some other things they have said of me lately are not of the same pattern. I have not the smallest possible objection. Only I cannot quite reconcile the change.

I have not the remotest quarrel with any man who is sincere. God will judge each one of us according to our individual lights. Whether a man's religion be that of the Jew or the Catholic, the Turk, the Chinese or the Protestant, so he is thoroughly earnest and honest in practical endeavor to serve God as he is sure God wants to be served, his salvation in my humble conviction, is unquestionably secure. But when an infidel infringes the rights of other people by posting in their faces a libel upon Christianity, then I have the right and the duty as a man to jump in and interfere, to fight error with truth; let onlookers judge of the merit of the contest, and let the best fellow win.

JOHN GAYNOR.

Clarksville, Saturday, Jan. 28.

GLENWOOD.

GLENWOOD, Feb. 2 —"Gess" wasn't as plain as we wished he had been last week. I would like to know who gave out the contract to them? Had they bids on the engine, coal and hauling? Have they fixed prices, and by whose orders? Have they a committee looking after the tax-payers' interests? Glenwood is the home of the Farmers' Club. Are these young farmers doing their duty? All of its members are tax-payers, some of them large ones, and have represented us in State affairs, and all tax-payers are interested. Soon another district will have the crusher.

Can't engine be furnished per day at...	$ 2.00
Engineer	1 00
Feeder	1.00
Water cart, horse and boy	1.00
Coal, one-third ton	1.50
Two horses, carts and drivers, $1.50 each,	3 00
Three 3-horse teams $2.50 each, and drivers to run the four wagons	7.50
Hire of four wagons, 25 cents each	1.00
Total expenses one day	$18.00

An average of 40 perches per day would be 45 cents, or nearly as low as prices allowed the farmers by our commissioners (20 cents per perch for hauling and 20 cents for breaking them.) The lower the work can be done the more miles of pike.

TAX PAYER.

GLENWOOD, Feb. 1.—Mr. Chas. Hammond an enterprising young agriculturist and dairyman, of Glenwood, has put in a boiler with which to run his steam separator. It was completed on January 25th, and was started by Messrs. J. O. Duvall and Thos. Bazzell, of Glenwood and Cooksville, respectively.

Melvin Day, son of Senator George D. Day, of Glenelg, is now suffering from an attack of la grippe.

Mr. Winfield Dorsey, who has charge of the engine with which the stone-crusher is run, met with a painful if not serious accident on Monday. The cause from which the accident resulted was the slipping of a wagon spindle from the top of the jackscrew upon which it had been resting. Mr. Dorsey was in the act of greasing the spindle, when it fell with a crash, striking him on the head and inflicting a ragged wound of about an inch in length.

Dr. Evan W. Warfield, an old and prominent physician of Glenwood, has had a severe attack of erysipelas in his limb. We are glad to say that he is improving.

The recent cold weather affords an excellent opportunity for those who have not already done so, to fill their ice houses. It will be well to make use of the present freeze, as it may be the last of the season.

Miss Louisa Warfield, a much beliked and very popular lady of our town, has had a great deal of trouble with one of her eyes. She is now much better.

OELLA NOTES.

The birthday of three of the young daughters of Mrs. Alice Grine occurring in the month of January, they were given a birth-day party last Friday evening by their mother, which was a very pleasant affair. Various innocent amusements, a plentiful supply of confectionery, fruits and cake made the evening pass all too rapid for the large number of their young friends present, who were: Misses Grace Conrad, Ella Lingenfelter, Mattie West, Grace V. Brown, Annie Schaffer, Janey Kaiser, Stella Clements, Jennie Rockenbaugh, Bessie Leister, Christina and Hermena Treuth, Addie Kaiser, and Stella, Ida and Minnie Grine; Masters Frank Green, Arthur Hobson, Grover McKenzie, Joseph Hogan, George Leister, Edward Gray, Bruce McCall, Theodore France, Chester Jones, Lawrence Hobson, Harry Tracy, Marcy Murphy, Thomas Jenkins, Wesley Frey, Ephraim Burgee and Ernest Treuth.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts., guaranteed, at Dr. Isaac J. Martin's Sons' Drug Store.

Secretary Alger's decision that "Teddy" is not entitled to an honor medal is not calculated to increase the love between the two men.

SYKESVILLE NEWS.

SYKESVILLE, Feb. 1.—The Patriotic Order Sons of America, held their first of a series of religious meetings tonight. The attendance was large. The services began with a 30 minute song service accompanied by an orchestra of ten pieces. Then followed a sermon by Rev. W. L. Nicholas, of Messiah Lutheran Church, Berret, Md., on "Liberty, Love and Patriotism," which was ably discoursed and attentively listened to. Then two hymns from Pentecostal selections, after which Rev. W. E. Curley, of the M. E. Church, talked on religion as it should be, plainly explaining and forcibly presenting all of its great advantages in all the walks of life. The services concluded with the hymn, "Our Country, 'Tis of Thee." Mr. E. M. Mellor led the singing and Mr. Wm. M. Chipley was the musical director. Miss Emma Favour was the organist.

Mr. C. E. Brown has begun improvements on his newly purchased property.

Our colored folks held an entertainment on Friday night last for the benefit of their new church, now nearly completed. Various amusements were indulged in, the most laughable being an eating contest by several whose consuming capacity cheered them to quite a rivalry. The winner in the three contests was Thos. Green, Jr., aged 18, who ate eight soda crackers in two minutes, one one-half pound cake in two minutes and a pie, 10 inches in diameter, 1½ inches thick, of dry material, in 2¼ minutes.

FORD'S GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Week of February 6th—The Distinguished Metropolitan Favorites—Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon—In Clyde Fitch's Successful Society Comedy of New York, Life "The Moth and the Flame."

Those delightful artists, Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon, who for a number of years were the idols of the Metropolis, while at the head of Frohman's Lyceum Theatre Company, will appear at Ford's next week in their great success, "The Moth and The Flame," a realistic and absorbingly interesting comedy depicting the fashionable life in New York at the present day. It is a powerful play strong in dramatic situations, and superb in its interpretation. The stars have surrounded themselves with a company of exceptional merit and the performance combines both an abundance of comedy with much pathos. The ball scene during the first act where all is life, gayety and happiness, where the hostess is wealthy and courted, contrasts vividly to the next act when speculation has swept away all but a few staunch friends, and the church scene where a wedding is in progress with the practicable pews, the altar, the aisles with the ushers active in their duty of seating the people, the fashionable critics, the handsome gowns, the bride groom's best man, etc., is one of the most realistic representations of the kind ever presented on any stage. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Admission 25 and 50cts.

Week Feb. 13th, the greatest spectacular performance of the year, "The Evil Eye." Over one hundred people in the production.

Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by druggists.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
