OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM. One reading Mr. Livesey's attacks on the public school system, as it is found in this country, would suppose that he is unequivocally opposed to any system at all whereby children are educated at public expense, on the ground that it smacks of paternalism, and is Socialism, pure and simple. We have not learned his ideas had he the power. One thing seems to be true that no country or form of government like ours could be perpetnated without general education. People need to be protected from the wiles of politicians and ambitious leaders who would destroy the best government on earth for self. How better can they be protected than by the voting fran-

Compare the northern states with all that large extent of country reaching from the Potomac river to the Gulf of Mexico, and a hundred or two miles wide, (we refer principally to the mountain regions with a population of about five millions) which has been left without educational advantages. Poor, ignorant with such squalid surroundings that with pitying eye the churches have turned to their relief and are establishing schools among them and praying for more money to extend the work. In many places their ignorance is appalling and did they not occasionally come in contact with civilization would not be much better than the hill tribes of the Himalayas. Surely Mr. Livesey would not want this state of things to extend to all parts of chise and ability to read and decide for

No perfect system of government has ever yet been devised, and it may be, intrue, that we have gone too far with our public school idea, but not too far to be corrected-corrected in time to save our nation from a horde of idlers, "or half educated" people, as Mr. Livsey terms them; educated to repeat parrot-like, but unfit for the duties of life or to be useful

The first to catch the gleam of Liberty's torch as it is held aloft in this country are the educated. Russia has trouble with her students because they know the truth and are impatient for the hour when her oligarchy will be shattered to pieces The dense ignorance of Cuba has prevented her population from appreciating the good offices of this country. The people of the Philippines need only to be able to read and the U.S. would be welcomed to their shores. Europe, save England, must keep up standing armies | the public schools is augmenting. What to suppress the aspirations of her intelliligent populations. China's most patriotic subjects are those that have been educated in this country. Probably Mr. Livesey would do well to express himself more clearly on this subject (it has scarcely become a question yet.) We are at all times, to limited extent, ready to publish correspondence that has for its object the unearthing of the defects of any system hurtful to the public good and welcome Mr. Livesey even if we do not agree with him, if he can point out errors the public mind is laboring under. That the laborer, as long as he has the right vote, should be able to read and decide for himself, is ments he may be unsteady and unreliable, how much more so if he knows nothing but hearsay. That vileness exists to a more or less extent among the boys attending our public schools is evident to any one who has ever attended a public school; but to do away with the system would be entering upon a doubtful era. Let there be a revision, not ab-

than a hundred persons. The fierce hailstorm that passed over a section of country about half a mile wide and three miles long, south of Middletown, Frederick county, last Friday, was very destructive. The crops of 11 farmers were seriously damaged, and in some instances almost wholly destroyed. In King's Valley, Montgomery county the hail was the largest ever known, much of it being larger than hen eggs. The wheat, corn and hay crops for a radius of five miles were beaten down close to the ground, and the loss sustained by the farmers is heavy. Most of the wheat would have been ready for harvest by the last of this week. Several houses were blown over and some three or four horses killed by the severe pelting of the hallstones while grazing in the fields.

PURLIC SCHOOLS, SOCIALISM, NE-GROES, RUSSELL SAGE.

EDITOR TIMES: A Socialist writer, Alex. E. Wight boasts in the widely read Boston Investigator of May 27th that public schools are stepping stones to Socialism; that they are making people dissatisfied with "ordinary daily labor;" that they are making both Catholics and Protestants 'ashamed of their religion," and that they are merging both whites and negroes on to discontent and revolution. Before these facts-for such they are-all other objections to the public schools pale into insignificance, and it is time that the most ardent friends of the schools looked them squarely in the face and choose between public school abolition or straightout Socialism. Socialism demands also a full university education, at the expense of the tax-payers, to every poor boy and girl who want it. I doubt if even Hon. John G. Rogers himself would welcome the Socialist demands Mr. Wight says of the schools. "Children that have been taught in them are now demanding State food, clothing and helter upon the same grounds that they received State education." Exactly And in some places poor children are already receiving all these and in addition are being conveyed to school at State expense. People are opening their eyes to these alarming demands. Even educators are seeing them as such, and Dr Woodrow, at the recent Presbyterian Assembly at Richmond, emphatically protested against the State maintaining any system of education whatever, as, he in yet how far he would be willing to push sisted, it was an obnoxious paternalism.

Dr. Woodrow, be it known, was, until recently, the president of the South Carolina College. A Times reader, who is a big tax-payer, writes me that he thinks the public schools should go no further than he teaching of the three Rs. But this primary teaching is altogether too humiliating for public school teachers and professors to entertain, and will at this late day be only rebuffed by the extreme ly opposite Socialist demand for State universities for all

Socialist Wight further says of the schools: "They are making their graduates dissatisfied with the drudgery and monotony of ordinary daily labor, and that dissatisfaction is leading them to examine into social problems, and that examination is turning them into advocates of State co-operation, of which the consummation is fraternity and liberty through evolution." Exactly! We see on every hand how dissatisfied with ordinary daily labor every public school pupil be comes, and what Mr. Wight calls co-op eration, fraternity and liberty simply means that the State take a fatherl charge of everybody and divide up the savings of the industrious and econom ical with the lazy and the shiftless. Fo working people they have it planned that four hours work, daily, will be amply sufficient to supply them with all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life But all this has been tried time and time again in Socialistic colonies. These colonies have always been started with the intention of showing on a small scale just what would be realized under national application, and, one by one, they fail. In deed, we are willing to admit that it is The People, of 184 William St., New York, of May 28th, under the heading of "Ruskin Colony's Collapse," is given the rise and downfall of the latest of these utopian schemes.

When a man conde a working model the procession to call in this vicinity again it with our only mule. When a man sends a working model of something to the patent office and I fails to do that which is promised of it. he fails to get his patent on it; but not so with the Socialists. They have a handy excuse for their every failure with models and demand all the more strennously national recognition for the per fect illustration of their schemes. Fresh advices from Europe are very promising in their direction. Knowing as they do. that every year millions of disgruntled young men and women are turned out from the public schools of all civilized nations to find themselves necessitated to accept their doctrines. They cheerfully lie on their oars and float with the lance.

Mr. Atwood Blunt had a narrow escape from Mr. Atwood Blunt had tide, saying, "all things come to him who waits." This is the situation that every solitary defender and supporter of I want is to encourage a peaceful turn in affairs at once. Socialists are congratulating themselves that the people will be led gullibly along until their plans are universally accepted; but at the turning point actual revolution is only too sadly to be expected. People will not give up. Mr. Wight again says of the schools:

"They have given the colored race an opportunity for advancement in the South, are making them dissatisfied with their lot, and are forcing on a solution of the race problem." Exactly! Everybody in the South sees something is the matter with the colored brother. There it is! The Socialist has told the truth in a nutshell. Like the colored ministers of the North who are forcing on a solutoral nutshell. Like the colored ministers of the North who are forcing on a solutoral nutshell. of the North who are forcing on a solution of the race problem by proposing revolution, so the Socialist wants to see the same. We all see here in the South that the colored brother has gotten strangely dissatisfied with labor, and that he vies in living by his wits with the best educated Yankees of the land. But the colored brother would have noth ing to complain of in point of discrimination, were the public schools abolished for all and children set to work more than to books. If the mothers of the land would follow the noble example of Mrs. M. O. M., as given in The Times of

June 3rd, they would prove the reformers and the saviors of the race. In THE TIMES of May 27th I mentioned the opposition of millionaire Collis P. Huntington to the schools. I now see rom the Chicago Flaming Sword May 26th, that Russell Sage has ranked himself as another rich man whose investigations have compelled him to denounce the schools. The Flaming Sword as itself scientifically probed the schools and is one of my very staunchest allies the anti-school crusade. It says: "Millionaire Russell Sage sifts the entire product of modern educational instituions, and finds nothing that is not outstripped by men who have educated hemselves through hard lines of experience. The Sage denounces the methods employed in schools as weakening instead of strengthening to the mental and moral character, and holds that the rising generation is being overeducated. We disagree with the Sage; they are not being educated at all; they are simply be-"Base" Dorsey, colored, was struck by | ing converted into parrots to repeat what lightning and killed during a thunder is taught them, while the rational faculstorm at Spencerville, Montgomery counties are left undeveloped. Education means to draw out; the usual method is the opposite—it is the process of stuffing the mind" "Teacher" can consider these FRANCIS B. LIVESEY. things.

The Catholic Church and Schools.

EDITOR TIMES: Your friend from Sykesville says: "By the by, no orthodox Catholic can countenance any other than the parochial schools if Catholic authorities are to be recognized." That assertion is false. There is a large percentage of Catholic children as orthodox as the Pope attending public schools in Howard and Carroll counties. This simple fact can be ascertained from any teacher, or from the school commissioners and ought to be known to you.

The "authorities" quoted are as queer as ever. The Baltimore Tablet is an advertising sheet issued quarterly by Murphy & Co., the publishers. It has not and does not claim any authority. No one who has any relationship with this firm can believe any such flagitious language as that ascribed by your cor respondent. Pope Pins IX did not write English and could not have used the ex pression attributed to him. As phrased t has no sense anyway.
