The latest gossip in Washington has it that the Alger-Pingree mix-up is the personal work of Mr. McKinley, and that the entire influence of the administration is to be used to help Alger defeat Senator McMillan, provided, of course, that the Republicans can elect a majority of the next Michigan legislature—a very that insures perfect health and great en important proviso, by the way. In view of what Alger has done to discredit the administration, this seems to be an astonishing sort of a deal, but those who have closely followed the various Hanna-McKinley political deals from the spring of '96 to the present time find it difficult to be astonished at anything. According to this story, which may or may not be true, Alger has succeeded in convincing Mr. McKinley that all of the attacks on Algerism have been in reality attacks on the entire administration, and that unless Alger can be vindicated by an election to the Senate all these charges will be placed against the McKinley administration by history. It is plain that the support of Alger by the McKinley administration will be an act of treachery to Senators McMillan and Burrows, both of whom have been steadfast administration men, but treachery to friends has long been a Hanna specialty, and administration Senators will not be as badly needed during the remainder of Mr. Mc-Kinley's term as they were when the Republicans were short of a majority in

Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. DEMOCRATIC GUBERNATORIAL CAN-DIDATES DISCUSSED."

are vain" of the Sun, it is apparent that its proprietors called up some of its young men, those warranted to report only what their employers desire to have made public, and giving them little, if any, scrip in their purses, brand new note books and well sharpened pencils, sent them to interview certain gentlemen. It is curious to note how the gentlemen, in speaking of their especial favorites, for governor, Lave, perhaps unconsciously, but most likely knowing him to be the ideal candidate, ascribed to them qualifications that, notoriously, are those of Mr. Edwin Warfield.

Governor Whyte in praising Mr. J Walter Smith (he was given no opportunity to speak of any other candidate) described accurately Mr. Wartield as State Senator and campaigner. Said the Governor, "I believe that the party and people can trust him in any office to ing over his glasses with a far off look as if viewing Mr. Smith in his seat in the House of Representatives, whilst he added, "as president of the Senate he was ledge of State affairs will well fit him for the Executive office," "he is a cool, conservative but hustling campaigner and the Democratic party needs that kind of fact is that the Governor does not really believe that Mr. Smith will be the nominee for he is careful to say "as it seems catch the political worm. He shows that he is not going to pull off his coat and life when it is useful to do so. There lives no man for whom I have more sincere respect, admiration and affection than I have for Governor Whyte, and intimate social and business relations many years, from boyhood, enable me, I think, to know or guess mighty nearly what was in his mind during that interview. He does not believe that Mr. Smith will be the Democratic nomince. The Governor couldn't say of Mr. Smith what Mr. Douglas H. Thomas said of Mr. Edwin Warfield, "He is a man of remarkable executive ability." "He has given special attention to the bonding of municipal, county and State officers, and has thereby gained intimate knowledge of acquainted with the faults in our own laws, and prepared to suggest correcting amendments.' Mr. James Bond speaking of Mr. Smith onless the likenes simple frankness, and at the same time earnestness in his intercourse with those fications which will make him a popular candidate." Now, Mr. Bond is an imitator and competitor in business of Mr Warfield and is not likely to shout very oudly for him, but he had him evidently in mind when he described his favorite candidate-Mr. Smith. The angelic Mr. Keyser praised his brother angel, Ex-Judge Fisher, and showed him to be sui generis in purity and with wide-spreading wings soaring skyward. Mr. J. W. Smith is an intimate friend of Governor Whyte and that is the real reason, I verily believe, that he spoke so gro suffrage, high tariffs, a policy that well of him; for the Governor is noted for the strength of his friendships and the earnestness with which he advocates nations that stalked boldly into our halls their claims, but all the same he wasn't a bit enthusiastic this time. Note the diference between what he said of Mr smith and what he said of Mr. Denny congressman-elect, when he was advoating his election.

As has been the custom in the past two years, it is desired, through your columns to call the attention of our rural communities to the record of the year, in order that they may be kept informed of the work of our institution, devoted to the development of

may be kept informed of the work of our Institution, devoted to the development of their interests.

The Educational Departments of the College have advanced their standard decidedly. Its graduates in the Department of Mechanical Engineering, all secured positions upon graduation. In the Department of Chemistry, two are provided for in professional work. Among its recent graduates, one has been elected to the position of Commandant of Cadets and Professor of Natural Science in a Maryland School: one, upon completing his course at Johns Hopkins University, has been assigned to duty in this Institution; another has been elected Professor of Chemistry in Columbia College, N. Y.; another advanced in Ciemson College, S. C. These facts bespeak the soundness of the course of study in the College, and the spirit of work inculcated in the earnest student under its guidance.

During the past year, facilities and buildings have been added to the extent of $22,000. The new Morrill Buildings accommodate the Departments of Agricultural, Horticulture, Biology, Physics, Entomology and Pathology. Each with its lecture room, laboratory and office,—all fairly equipped. The Institution, in the past seven years, bas added $77,000 to its equipment, and is to day fitted to do a high order of work in all departments of Science, and especially those reputed to Agriculture and Mechanical Engineering. The courses of study equip for life's work; the young man graduating has his profession. It zeal has characterized his course, he has the young man graduating has his profession.

It zeal has characterized his course, he has little difficulty in securing something to do to demonstrate his worthiness of advancement and increased emolument.

The Department of Agriculture in our College offers upsuel advancement of the large offers upsuel advancement.

The Department of Agriculture in our College offers unsual advantages to the boy who is to work the Farm. It is well known today that brains must direct brawn, if success is to follow. In no department of human activity is this more true than upon the farm; more complex conditions confront the successful tiller of the soil than in any other division of human labor. We must meet these and training is processory for the four division of human labor. We must meet these, and training is necessary for the fray. This College gives that training.

The State Departments connected with the Institution are growing more into the confidence of the people of the State each year. The Heads of these Departments have, by their energy, convinced the people of the State that the work which has been done is of great value to them.

The three years of Farmers' Institute work ended with a most gratifying record. George T. Powell, of the State of New York, an expert in the work says of its present management:

management:
"Through the very competent Director, the most important needs of Maryland Agriculture are intelligently studied. The able instructors of the College and Station, tostructors of the College and Station, to-gether with instructors from other states of wide, practical experience, and of State and National reputation, give direct to the farm-ers, fruit growers and gardeners, the in-struction most needed in their special lines of work. Another unique condition in Maryland is the centralizing of all Agencies, in care of the Agricultural interest, in the hands of the Board of Trustees of the Mary-land, Agricultural College. This avoids much hands of the Hoard of Trustees of the Mary-kan Agricultural College. This avoids much friction, saves expense and in every way advances the interest ma business-like man-ner. The co-operation of Johns Hopkins University, and the influential Arundel Club of Public Spirited women of Baltimare City, shows the estimation in which the work is held at home."

The Department of State Fertilizer control still maintains its high standard of usefulness still maintains its high standard of usefulness, and the demands for its publications bespeak the appreciation in which it is held. We regret to find that so few of our farmers pur-chase their fertilizers by the unit system which would save them much money and greatly improve the quality of the material purchased. Upon every bag of Fertilizer greatly improve the quality of the material purchased. Upon every bag of Fertilizer sold in the State, the percentage of "Plant Food" is required to be stamped. It should go further and state the source of it. One per cent. is a unit; this stands for 20 lbs. The available Potash, the available Phosphoric Acid, the available Nitrogen are the only things to be considered and to which farmers should give any attention. All else is confusing and tends to deceive. If a bag is marked:

Available Potash 6 per cent.

Available Phos. Acid 8 per cent.

Available Amonia 5 per cent.

The calculation of the value per ton is plain. 1 per cent. is 20 lbs., 6, 8 & 5 per cent. would mean a number of lbs., easily determined from the figures given above.

The value of these articles, based upon their sources, is given in our Quarterly per pound.

sources, is given in our Quarterly per pound. This publication can be had for the asking by addressing the undersigned, or the Chemical partment, College Park, Md. Let the Farmers adopt this system of purchase, and they will soon see the difference in results. No manufacturer would think of purchasing No manufacturer would think of purchasing in any other manner. Then, why should we buy by the ton, with little regard for the value as based upon the plant food it contains? We are in possession every week, through the daily press, of the market value of these purchases. of those ingredients and should, as business men, keep posted. This information must be ours if we are to deal intelligently and on business principles in our profession.

The State Horticultural work, under able heads, has made its impress upon the people whose interest it serves. It is in close touch with the same, and pronounced good has fol-lowed its work throughout the State. The numerous inquiries tax the powers of the energetic officials to the utmost extent. The work claims state and National attention.

The Experiment Station continues its good work under the able Director. Some experiments and its continues its good work under the able Director. ments upon insoluble plant food in the soil seems nearing solution, and, if confirmed by future experiments, will certainly revolutionize Agriculture in the East. To this station is due the initiatory steps in the demonstration of the value of our corn product as a whole, and hundreds of our best farmers are today availing themselves of the value of its teachings.
We cannot rest with what we have. Progress must be our watchword. Every interest is advancing its claims and seeking points of advantage. To rest upon our oars, means to be caught in the backward drift of life. The Farmers in the State of Maryland today, need badly the protection which a law would give requiring a guarantee of the purity of feed requiring a guarantee of the purity of feed-ing material for animals; a guarantee as to purity and germinating power of seeds, and lastly, for the present, an incorporation in our school law of a requirement that instruction in our public schools be given in the princi-ples of Agriculture. This requirement can be carried out without material interference with the present curriculum. The Agricul-tural College will issue, from time to time, leallets of instruction on this important work leadets of instruction on this important work.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, permit me to add that as one directly interested largely in Agriculture, and as one who has studied carefully the value of the Agricultural Colleges in this connection, I wish to say to my brother farmers, that we have to take to our agricul-tural work the same trained mind and trained tural work the same trained mind and trained hand that make success in all other vocations of life. Our Agricultural Colleges afford this opportunity for our children and for ourselves. We must not neglect it; it is a trust committed to our charge. We can have it what we wish it to be—its failure is our failure. Much of its past history is due to our neglect; its hopes for the future hang upon the attention you are to give its affairs. How much is this to be?

Trusting, Mr. Editor, that you will aid us in our work, I am, with gratitude for your past favors.

Very truly yours,

k. W. SILVESTER.

President Maryland Agricultural College.

PROGRESS OF MR. WARFIELD'S CAN-VASS. Baltimore News, Monday: The War field headquarters, 109 North Charles street, second floor, opened this morning for business, and were soon in full go. At noon a perspiring crowd of 15 workers were shouldering each other about the ante-room in order to get closer to the door of the inner chamber, where Secretary Howard was just receiving his 200th caller. The ward men were reporting all the morning, he said, and the Warfield cause is booming. The men at the headquarters seemed to be in no way alarmed about the intention of Mr. Smith's supporters to plant a camp here and carry on the war in Baltimore. "Mr. Smith will find the Warfield people stronger entrenched than Senator Wellington behind his breastworks," was the prevailing idea at the Charlesstreet rooms this morning.

The canvas of Mr. Edwin Warfield for the Democratic nomination for Governor is becoming stronger every day. Mr. Warfield is conducting himself in a man ner which is gaining him hundreds of friends. His method of appealing to the people directly for the nomination is something new to them. Mr. Warfield's sections in endeavoring to secure the Warfield is conducting himself in a man actions in endeavoring to secure the honor of leading his party in the gubernatorial campaign is that of an aspirant who recognized that elective officers are the property of the people and do not belong to the political boss. It pleases the people to find a man who recognizes their rights, and for that very reason Mr. Warfield's candidacy is growing in strength with the masses .- Catonsville Argus.

Discovered by a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. 'Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Insurgents Must Submit or Be Annihilated. According to recent advices from Washington the campaign in Luzon in the fall is expected to be brought to a speedy conclusion. It will be remarkable because of the use of three effective agencies never before applied by the United States in battle. These agencies are: One, the explosive shell; two, the mountain, or mule-back, artillery; three, the violet binoculars and goggles, for the purpose of locating smokeless powder. The shells to be charged with the new explosive should be in the Philippines within three months. Dynamite charges as thrown by the Vesuvious are expected to be feeble, proportionately, as comnared with the new explosive.

The experiments warrant predictions of the most sanguine character. The heaviest shell that can be thrown by our field artillery will carry a charge weighing 134 pounds. It is estimated that a shell of this size cast into a battalion of Filipinos will annihilate everyone within the radius of its influence. Not only will the flying missiles deal destruction, but concussion is described as sufficiently great to explode and tear asunder the rifles of the enemy, to kill instantly men who have not been struck by the shell itself, to rupture ear drums, arteries and blood vessels, to shatter cannon; in a word, to shock to death every living thing within the radius of its influence and destroy every mechanical organiza-
