8. Trio- Piano, violin and violoncello-Selections from Tannhauser, (Wagner.) Audiences in this community have heretofore enjoyed the talented performances of these sisters and it is hardly necessary to say that the music given on Friday night was classic and in the highest style of the art. They come back from Europe equipped with all that has power to enchant, having brought forth praise from the most highly cultured in New York and elsewhere in the North. Their auditors here were certainly delighted and the encores were frequent and persistent. The last selection, especially, from Tannhauser, was given with exquisite sweetness and skill, embowering the audience. as it were, with a wealth of music not soon to be heard again in Ellicott City.

Isaiah Saxs, a Pole, the Victim of an Unknown Assailant, News reached Rockville, Montgomery county, Sunday evening, of an attempted murder committed upon Isalah Saxs, a Polish pedler, at Damascus, on the Woodfield road Saturday morning. Robbery prompted the assault, and the unknown assailant of Saxs succeeded in carrying away a considerable sum of money, the savings for many months of the victim. According to the story, Saxs was seated on a log beside the road counting his money, when a shot was fired, which struck him in the left temple. Saxs fell to the ground, and lay there for some time, until discovered by Josiah Warfield, who was passing the place, and conveyed to Mr. Warfield's residence, a short distance away. Dr. B. F. Lansdale, who He was told that the carriage was of the was summoned, took from the bleeding man's head and face 68 shot. Saxs was then sent to the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore for treatment. He has for some time past been making his home in the neighborhood of Damascus. It is said that his condition is critical, and little hope is entertained of his recovery. Shortly after the shooting occured sheriff Thompson was notified and he and his deputes began at once to work Further developments in the case show that on Saturday morning about 9 o'clock Saxs was at the home of Thompson Williams, at Cedar Grove, which is about found lying in the public road unconquestioned about the matter, claimed he mention of this tournament causes. had spent the entire day at Mt. Airy. This is believed to be untrue as several persons saw the man go through Damascus about 11 o'clock on his way to Mt.

In the search for clues some silver money was found near the place where Saxs was discovered by Mr. Warfield. A shotgun, No. 12 bore, was used. There was undoubtedly a small load of powder in the cartridge, for, from the manner in which the shot was imbedded in the man's face and head, the robber and would-be murderer was very close upon from the left temple. ELKRIDGE AND VICINITY. ELKRIDGE, Aug. 9.—The late rains have helped the crops wonderfully, and we hear very little grumbling from our rural is bringing paying prices, although we heard of one party getting in on our overstocked market and only getting a cent a dozen for corn, and 15 cts. a bushel for tomatoes. The new management of the B. and O. R. R., has evidently gone to work pruning along the route, as it has chopped off a good many heads from around here and we understand more will follow. Our political friends about here are not altogether well pleased with the outcome of the convention on the 1st but will support the ticket. If we did not get all we expected, we must recollect there are others, and half a loaf is better than no bread. Mr. Jacob Kirn has started on the new silk mill at Thistle, and the building site presents a scene of activity. Mr. Peter Link has located his stone crusher near the town, and is supplying the building Campmeeting at Wesley Grove breaks up tonight and quite a large delegation went up from here. Officer Brohawn, of the St. Denis police force, has returned from his vacation and is again on duty. We have never seen our officer take a vacation vet unless it were for a day. Mr. John H. Trainor, who has been living in New York for some months, is visiting his friends here. The tournament at Dorsey's, next Wednesday, promises to be a success, many of the gallant knights are daily practicing and racing over the courses.

OELLA NOTES.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Conrad, here, on Tuesday the contracting parties being their eldest daughter, Miss Mary Adela Conrad, and Mr. Joseph L. Pace, until recently of this place, but now of Fork, Baltimore county. The ceremony took place at 12 o'clock and was performed by Rev. Henry Branch, of the Presbyterian Church, of Ellicott City. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. Immediately after the happy couple left for their future home at Fork Mr. James Kelly spent last Sunday in Washington with relatives. Mr. Henry Kelly, his uncle, who is now 81 years old, accompanied him home, and will spend some time here. Mr. Kelly was a resident of Oella 57 years ago, when he was employed in the machine shop of the old Union Manufacturing Co. This is his second visit to the village in that time, and there are now only three persons living here whom he knew then, they being Mr. Thomas Webb and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Hogan. Mr. John R Davidson, who has had charge of the Kersey department in the mill here for some time, removed to Dickeyville this week where he will assume a similar position. Mrs. Mark Hobson has been spending places to learn it. Well, if I may be alseveral days in Baltimore the past week lowed to say it, I have been over on the with her sister, Mrs. Fred. Baer. The remains of Mr. William Gillespie were buried at Laurel last Saturday. Miss Mattie West has returned home after a month pleasantly spent at Newport News, Va., with relatives. Miss Maggie Williams and Mrs. J Wesley Tice, of Baltlmore, were the guests Sunday of Mrs. Ann Lauman here. Mrs. Maggie Bell, of Baltimore, came out Sunday and spent the day with her sister, Mrs. Janie Grav. Miss Annie Thompson has returned to her home on Westchester avenue after a protracted visit with relatives in Balti-Mrs. Emanuel Pearce and daughter diss Henrietta, of Baltimore, former well-known residents of this place, were here Sunday calling on old friends. Mrs. Annie Lowe and granddaughter diss Grace Brown, have been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Lowe, of Ramsey street, Baltimore. Mrs. Annie Ober returned to her home a Baltimore this week after an extended visit to her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schotta.

The Critical Ages. At 40 men begin to feel the strain of girls want to learn industry, the fields hard work. If they have been careless or and the kitchens of the farmers are the reckless, they are liable to break down. Another critical period is 60, when those holding positions of responsibility, who are too absorbed to take proper rest, go to the people in my peculiar style, not pieces. Yet a man who has lived to that age ought to continue for ten years longer provided he takes care of himself. It is the pace that tells. It would be laughable if it were not so serious to see staid bankers and merchants rushing along to save a few minutes' delay, or, like General Scott in his famous letter of That Easton paper had in 1898 returned | acceptance, "swallowing a hasty plate of soup" for luncheon, or constantly smokpendages of the public schools and the ing long, black eigars, as Governor Flowlack of training to work at home. > A Monster Block of Granite. The little town of Redstone, N. H., has reached a pleasing distinction, industrially considered—that is, the largest block of granite ever quarried in the world has lately been blown there, its dimensions being 145 feet in length, 35 feet in width and 28 feet in depth. The blast took as many as 800 pounds of powder, and the concussion shook the entire village; the cleavage was absolutely perfect, as the rock split like a block of wood. Previous to this, the largest block of granite ever quarried in America was the military monument cut in Vinalhaven about ten years ago, but as that block was only 57 feet long and 5 feet in diameter at the base it was simply a toy compared with the one in Redstone. Further, if the thing were desirable, an obelisk could be carved from this block of granite, by the side of which the largest obelisk in Egypt would sink into insignificance. In the ruins of Karnac, near hown stone in the known world, and it has always been a marvel how it was quarried.
