Creston alias Wellingham, says the Lynchburg Star of Aug. 17, who carried off Tutheli's wife and child, put an end to his existence in Fincastle jail, on Friday night last, by cutting his own throat, thighs, and face in a most shocking men-ner with a rizer. The desperate resolution of self-destruction formed by this unfortunate man was carried into compiete effect, as the principal blood vessels the jugular and femoral arteries were entirely cut through. It is conjectured that the molives which induced him to disfigure his face were to prevent his being readily identified; as he was heard to declare that, he should never appear in any court of justice, and that the principal circumstances of his case should for ever remain a secret. He was in possession of very large sums of money, of which a considerable portion, report says 16 or 17 thousand dollars, was in Bank Notes These it is said he destroyed before he perpetrated his last a huminable crime. bominable crimo

SIR PRANCIS BURDETT. The conduct of this gentleman on the most trying occasions has been as prudent und modest as his principies are correct

He retired privately from the Tower and with a few friends got into a boat, was rowed down the Thames; and e'ud. ed the throng of friends and patriots, who were anxiously waiting for him to join the procession His disappearance gave disgu-t to the crowd; and two of the committee of arrangement afterwards wai.ed on Mr. Burdett at Wimbledon for an explanation. Burdett told them frank ly, that his conduct on the day of the procession was the result of much reflection; " that notwithstanding the public might feel disappointed, and would no doubt express that disappointment strongly, yet he was convinced that in less than six weeks there would not be a reflecting mind in the kingdom that would not approve of what he had done. Our enemies, he said, had been base e nough to charge him with the blood that had been thed; and had he, by gratify ing his personal vanity, been the cause of a single accident, or the death of any person, he should have reflected upon it with pain for the remainder of his life."

" We [Nicholsen & Powell] stated the little probability of, and the precoution that had been taken to prevent, even the possibility of mischief Sir Francis re plied, there was no answering for public

feeling
We further stated that his determi nation ought to have been made known; to this sir Francis remarked that it was absolutely necessary there should be an expression of public sentiment; that was new complete, and his being in the pro crassion could not have added thereto. We said, we wished that some of our friends had been in the Tower, to have forced him into the carriage

" Sit Francis expressed his gratitude far that expression of kindness, as indeed he did toul his friends, but this would have had the appearance of finesse; that he looked only to the public cause, which he was convinced would be benefitted by hts conduct, and of this all his friends would no doubt be convinced."

(COMMUNICATION.) TO THE ELECTORS OF BALTIMORE CI-

TY AND COUNTY.

You have been called upon by an "Flector" to support Nicholas R. Moore, and Mexander M. Kim, as our representatives in the twelfih congress. I hold these gentlemen in us much respect as any person but supposing them incapable of representing us in the manner which the present situation of our national affairs requires, I shall not vote for them Mr. Moore certainly did vote for the repeal of the embargo-what were his motives?-Why did he act in direct contradiction to the expressed will of his constituents? His friends will say that the embargo would have been repealed at all events - that he thought it better to come to a compromise with the federalists, quids, and disaffected republicans, and substitute the non-intercourse for the embargo-But was this acting us a man-as a representative of a free people, who were entitled to have their will represented-especially when this will had been fublicly and collective ly expressed? No-1 say it was a de sersion of his duty; by which he centri buted to the present disgraceful situation of the country If his vote on the cui brigo question was given through igno rance of the proper interes's of the country—then I say he is unfit to represent us. Mr Meore's revolutionary services are brought in to aid his re election I admite and respect him for his exections in the revolution : but I never can consent to have the country sacrificed through the ignorance or of even a revolutionary officer ! I cannot suppose Mr. Moore so anxious to be reelected - I should be witting to suppose he would decline a poil but for the overzealousness of his friends-he certainly the laurels he has earned, the good of his country requires it—and I should be sorry to suppose that a gentlem in who fought for our independence in his youth. would be willing to sacrifice it to his am bilion in his old age.

As to Mr. M'Kim -he is a merchant -a very intelligent merchant: bus in my humble apinion, he is better qualified for the counting room than for congress hall, - particularly at the present time. We ought to have men of ability, -rich of energy,-men who are not only capable of following advice-but of giving it; and lastly, men who will not yield their opinions and principles to the directions of others Is there a man in Baltimore city and county (save the representatives) who will say, or who even thinks we have been as well represented for a considerable time past as we might, as we ought to have been? I have conversed with many,-but never found one perfectly satisfied.

We have been offered Mr. Peter Little, and commodore Barney, as substiintes for Messrs. Moore and M'Kin .-What protensions have these gentlemen to represent us? Much as I wish for a change I cannot consent to such a substitution as this. Is it possible that the good people of Baltimore city and coun ty are reduced to such a dreadful dilem-ma that they cannot find better representatives than either of these four? The your arms?

present is a critical time-many among us have had to feel the mon-hand of poverty who once had plenty. Many of us have been precipitated from affluence. and ease to penury and want-and the thief cause is the weak, pusilian mous, cowardly conduct of our government.-Should we not then set an example by discerding every person from office, who ei her sanctioned the proceedings by his approbation or his silence? Is it any execuse for a member to say, "I was absent when the question of repealing the embergo was taken"?-Surely not -if he could not find leisure to be in the house at such a time, he had better have remained at home, and permitted another to go whose private concerns would not be the alter on which the na-tional honour would be sacrificed. I trust such an apology will never again be brought before the public .

I wish the citizens of Belumore to judge for themselves; to look round and see whether it is not possible to find persons better calculated to serve them on the present occasion than either of the four proposed candidates. Should they not succeed, -I have only to regret the deplorable condition to which we are te-

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

August 23.

FOR TH WING.

To the Foters of Anne Arundel & Prince George's Counties.

Who is to be the republican candidate for Congress, at the ensuring election, for the district of Anne Arundel and Prince George's?

This is a question that has been egitated for some time, yet no arrangement has been made for the appointment of committees to fix on the cardidate --Certainly that ought to be done: I consider it the only correct made of naming a candidate; and it is more particularly necessary at this time. In this district, in order to produce concert. I would set my face against any man who would have the effrontery to endeavour to palm himself on the district, by declaring himself a candidate. It may be consistent for such apostates as a Me-cer and a Dorsey to adopt that mode; but I hope not one will be found among the tel ublicans that will do it. Can any man tell me what are the political principles of either of these gentlemen? I believe notthey are neither federal nor republican, but are generally denominated quilts—by which is meant a party of no principles, of which John Randolph is the head. Their principal object ap wars to be anarchy and confusion. Whitess the unparalleled mis statements, cutting and twisting of John Randolph. Any man who will be at the trouble of reading the publications in the National Intelligencer, under the signature of Americanus, must be satisfied that John Randolph is either a fool, or wore than a fool-a trattor to his country.

Republicans beware!—a deep plot is laid to ensuare you. You have seen enough of the insidious designs of the lederalists: they know the district is republican, if the republicans will only be true to themselves: therefore, they will not start a federal candidate, lest they should thereby produce unanimity amengst the republicans.—But you will find the federalists to a man supporting MEUCER; whilst Dorsey will endeavour to make a diversion of the republicans in his favour, and thereby indirectly aid Mercer-for no man ever had a senious idea of electing Dorsey.

Remember the old federal motio-divide et impera Mercer has lived long enough among you to be well known. Whilst in Virginia, he was tried by his fellow citizens of his native county, and found deficient : they discayded him. has been tried by the people of Mary-land, and by the people of this district, he always abandoned the ir portant trusts assigned him is the man worthy of your suffrages? I anticipate your answer-no, he is not. Then from indignant upon his attempts to impose himself upon you. One disappointed man, of great declamatery talents, already produces too much confusion in your national councils: for Heaven's sake then, if you love your country, or wish for your own welfare, place not another one

In my opinion you ought to elect a man of good sound republican princi-ples—who has firmness enough to resist the inroads made on our rights by foreign nations-whether they be by France, England, or any other power, and who would spurn the idea of submission; and at the same time he ought to be a men of talents If John Johnson, esq could be prevailed upon to become a candidate, he would certainly be my choice It would be asking him to make a great sacrifice; but he knows his own atters best, and will decide accordingly,-Should be decline it, I am decidedly of opinion that Dr. Kent is the man that should be brought forward. He is a man of firmness; his politics are not wavering; and with his decision, he has prudence. In him you would find a representative of respectable talents, who would support your best interests on the floor, and by his votes. He is also a planter, and a very respectable one .-His interests are the same with those of the whole district; and I undertake to say if he was to be your choice, you would find in him a faithful and viggant servant;—ever persevering, ever-attentive to your best interests. The hour of election is now close at hand; your political enemies have marshalled their party ;-pray then why are you esleep on
