THE WHIG.
PUBLISHED BY THOMAS BLAND and
JAMES MARTIN

Have been nominated by the orthodox democrats of the Town and Point, to represent this city in the House of Delegates; and they are accordingly recommended to the republican citizens of Baltimore, for their united support.

Let voters for members of congress observe the STATE LAW; they cannot vote for two persons resident in the city, or for two persons resident in the county of Baltimore.

THE LAW IS,
That "Baltimore city and Baltimore county shall be the fifth" district;— "which district shall be entitled to two representatives, one of which SHALL BE a resident of Baltimore county, and the other a resident of Baltimore city."

SECOND WARD.
The inhabitants of the 2d Ward are invited to attend a meeting at Fulton's tavern, at 7 o'clock THIS EVENING, to nominate candidates for the Assembly at the ensuing election, and for the other offices which are vacant. They are urgently begged to attend, as the occasion is important.

THIRD WARD.
Messrs William Lozman and James Mosier for the first; and James Calhoun for the second Branch of the City Council, will be supported at the ensuing election by

We are authorised by the representations of several respectable gentlemen to state, that Mr. COMEYERS is and was ever in their estimation, a republican; that he is a liberal, humane and generous man, who has often contributed to the relief of the indigent, and has freely opened his purse in aid of the patriotic cause; that Mr. COMEYERS has not nominated himself but has been solicited to become a candidate, and has no other wish than that the people decide; that he never countenanced division, but was always ready to make sacrifices for harmony in the democratic party.

Our relations with France.
There are many reasons for concluding that France will restore all the genuine American property confiscated. We will glance at a few of them.

Our relations with England?
The ministerial remarks in the London Courier published yesterday, offers hope that England will not play the part of Pharaoh—A letter also, from Messrs. Hughes & Duncan of Liverpool, to their correspondent in Baltimore, of the 20th Aug. says, "France however requires that England shall renounce the new principles of blockade;" which, we conceive our government will never accede to. Be it so! but, we have not space, though we have the wish, to discuss this truly interesting subject.

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF BALTIMORE.
Fellow Citizens,
Whatever may be the conduct of others, it is not just to depress the character of one candidate for sake of elevating another in popular esteem.

SEVENTH WARD.
Messrs William Lozman and James Mosier for the first; and James Calhoun for the second Branch of the City Council, will be supported at the ensuing election by derive itself of the services of a citizen of this city.

By abolishing the 45th article of the constitution, it is proposed to admit militia officers of all grades into the legislature. At the time our constitution was framed, it is said there were so many military officers in the legislature and convention, and their influence was, as may naturally be supposed, so great, that this clause was inserted to exclude them; but experience has since shown, that it is attended with some inconvenience, and the apprehension of undue influence was groundless.

The act extending the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace from 101 to $50, was warmly opposed by the federalists on general principles, and also on the ground of its being a violation of the 7th article of the amendments of the constitution of the United States.

As the constitution now stands, the citizen must have resided twelve months in the county in which he offers to vote, previous to the day of election, in order to entitle him to the right of suffrage.— This, it is supposed by many, is not the true meaning of the constitution; yet such is the construction that has been put upon it. The consequence is, that if a citizen moves from one county or city to another, he is sure to lose the right of suffrage for one election.

The justice and policy of the act to prevent insurance by foreigners, is too manifest to require a single remark. I can only express my surprize at the federal opposition.

The act respecting the writ of Habeas Corpus, is taken from an improvement of the statute which the English boast so much of as their second Magna Charta, and the palladium of their liberties.— The English statute relates only to cases where the person is detained for a crime, or a supposed crime. Our law embraces every species of detention. It could only have been by an oversight, that so excellent a law was not placed on our statute book long before this.

The act concerning crimes and punishments, is, in itself, a complete digest of what is commonly called the penitentiary system. The good effects of this system are no longer a matter of speculation. Experience bears ample testimony in favour of its good policy and utility; yet the ill judged parsimony of our legislators has hitherto delayed its operation.

The act concerning the amendment of judicial proceedings, was intended to be complete in itself; and I believe will be found to contain in three short sections, every thing to be met with in the ponderous volumes of English statutes upon the subject.

In consequence of the multitude of lottery tickets for sale in the city of Baltimore, a practice began among us of swindling the ignorant and poor of their money by insuring lottery tickets. This was reported to the legislature, and it passed a law to prevent such insurance.

It has often happened in this state, that honest purchasers of lands have not had their deeds executed and recorded in the manner and form prescribed by law; in consequence of which, their titles were defective. To cure such defects, and prevent honest citizens from incurring great loss by mistakes in which there was no fraud, the legislature have from time to time passed laws; and for that purpose they passed an act at the last session, intitled "An act for quieting possessions," &c.

The act to prevent vestries from taking up lands for the use of the church, and the act to alter the constitution so as to prevent the laying of a general tax for the support of religion, were intended as checks upon the evil consequences of church bills, should any such hereafter take root among us.

The republican principles of the act proposing to abolish those parts of our constitution which require a qualification of a certain amount of property to be a member of the assembly or to fill certain offices in the state, are too evident to need any remark.

Much inconvenience is experienced by the traders and people of this state
