SCARCITY ABROAD. - I'he foreign journals by the last steamer give fearful accounts of the occupied by on father HEN scarcity prevailing in various parts of Europe, with statements of actual famine in some quarters. While the potato crop has failed in the from the fact that the scarcity is chiefly con- (if fair, if not, the next fair day) commencing much depended on in Germany, has failed in France great apprehension is felwith regard to subsistence. A riot occurred in Patris on the last of September in conseou ned of a rise in the price of beggt. The s tops of the bakers were ittacked. The Paris Refine of Seprember 24 has the following

The apprehensions of scarcity are not les Berious in Germany than in France. In the no them states rye in ! potatoes, which constitute the principal rood of the inhabitants. have completely failed. They will, of course be obliged to make up the delicienty with wheat, the surplus of which is annually exported to the northern harbor of France, This ace was for the extraordinary rise in the price o wheat on the shores of the Baltic, and the in adity of the orders sent by French mercames to the markets of those equatries,-S uthern Germany has, in its turn, become marged, The Government of the Grand Dacay of Bailen has decreed the free-importato a of foreign grain and flour. The King of W members, by an ordaine of the 14 h ins. 41, also perm el the fer importa i mel flow all fregue impices spod cions un to de ts: 1 - Itt, 1347. In Burnia, the we it y ith Davis of Niremberg have just D. Kurtz of Centreville, to Miss Arietta D. fraited it is ea in ir the supply of grain. That sepiety, which has been authorized by the ing, will manufacture bread and sell it to the poor classes under the market price.

But it is in Ireland that the greatest distress is few. Four millions of people dependant on po atoes for subsistence are now by the failure of that art cie reduced to the verge of starvation. The Government has been actively busy for some time in endeavoring to alleviate the pressure of his terrible evil. Victualling es ablishments a:e in operation to grind coin and manufacture bread; work is provided for the people who are destitute of employment; and not tess than twelve Government steamers are engaged on the Irish coast in the transportation of corn meal, and in otherwise ministering to the distressed and distracted condition of that unfortunate island.

submission to Providence, but a murmur ablighted by a decree from on high, but labor is defrauded by the machinations of disconer. Such are the first aspirations of discontent, inflamed by rumor, and diffused by fear. A London journal of later date, the Sun, of October 1st, gives a more distinct picture of the sufferings experienced in some parts of Unhappily the patience of the unfortunate Trish is at length extrausted. We have now before us that most appalling speciacle of national agony—a people driven to desperation by the pange of hunger, and braving a violent der an accumulation of all human misery, penury, inanition, neglect and despair, and ai er bearing these extreme sufferings with a uttermost limits of endurance, and have now risen against their more affluent neighbors. Towards the conclusion of last week a slight giunmer of the approaching insurrection was where a vast concourse of the emaciated peasantry assembled together in the village of Golen, to proclaim that their wretchedness was no longer endurable.

The sullen anguish depicted on every one of these melancholy faces is discribed by an extremity of their distress, "A more appalling spectacle could not be witnessed," writes one just ppened a fiew & extensive stack of FANCY & correspondent. Want and despair was the STAPLE DRY GOUDS. Hardware, Crockery, THE REMINIOND RAGEDY .- The trial of Mes pervading characteristies of the multitude .-That dark promise of violence and insubordination has been fulfilled. At the very commencement of this week, namely, on Monday wholesale houses in Ba innore at a bare commission in raing, the peasantry at Dungarvin assumed such a threatening aspect, and congregated otherst is in the County together in such dingerous numbers, that the mili ary were called out-several shots were well to give an early call and examine his took. fired upon the mob many of the starving rio ers were wounded, and on Tuesday two of them died tram mullation. By the contest of thi; miserable intelligence from Waterford, w : are informed that brickbats and other missi es were hurled at the dragoons; and that no withstanding the recent discharge of musiketry, a dwelling house at Cappa was assailed and that knots of insurgents were scattered

The severity of the distress in Ireland and for shipment to France, are making in the English markets, and as the prices of grain are now higher over a large part of the Coninent than in this country, it is highly probable that until some change takes place, in this respect the exports from England will exceed he imports." It will be incumbent on the wealthy classes in Great Britain and Ireland to minister out of their abandance to the wants of their poor and destitute neighbours; for it will not be in the power of the working class-
