Cambridge Chronicle

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY JAMES JONES.

"BE JUST AND FEAR NOT: LET ALL THE ENDS THOU AIMS'T AT, BE THY COUNTRY'S, THY GOD'S, AND TRUTH'S."

TERMS $2 50 PER ANNUM: OR $2, IF PAID IN ADVANCE.

NEW SERIES-VOL. 10.

CAMBRIDGE, MD.—SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 9, 1847.

NUMBER 15.

Message of Governor Pratt. TO THE LEGISLATURE OF MARY-LAND.

Tuesday, December 29, 1846. The Message opens by referring, in terms of satisfaction, to the settlement of the Oregon question.

The Mexican war is then treated of. It appears that the original requisition on Mary land for troops, was for two regiments, which the Governor notified the Secretary of War would be furnished at once; but on being advised that it was not the intention of the Government to receive into its service any portion of the troops organized in this State, the Governor, very properly, promptly abandoned the organization of the two regiments. In the meantine, the three companies that went from this city were organized, and their claim to be mustered into the service of the Government was recognized by the President. This statement is given for the purpose of accounting for the small torce furnished by Maryland; which, but for the refusal of the Government to receive them into the service, would have consisted originally of two full regiments.

The war itself is then referred to, in terms that will meet general approval. The war, if other hands had been at the head of the government, could have been avoided, with honor; but the country being in the war, we must fight it out-as the Governor has every confistrict account for having, unnecessarily, proand it is suggested that some expression of 000. approbation be given by the Legislature, of the conduct of Maryland's sons, who have distinguished themselves in the battles fought.

rolment, and organization. Fifteen hundred | The interest on the public debt, militia officers have been commissioned since March last.

The important subject of the financial condition of the State is then referred to.

Our State for the last six years has been unable to meet her liabilities, from causes referred to, and fully explained in my message to diately preceding my qualification as Govern- establish. or, the arrears of interest amounted to$ 1,432, 154 51.

at December session 1840, and with the other The importance of correct conclusions upor revenue measures, subsequently passed, were this subject cannot be overrated: as an error in increase of the public debt. To the total in- must therefore solicit for the views which I ensufficiency of the taxes which had been im- tertain, and shall express, the most thorough posed, if fully paic, to meet the demands upon investigation. the treasury, was superadded the more alarm- In the first place, then, may not the adequathe revenue laws were unenforced. In this fiscal results of the two last years? Or, in oth cy and dishonor, were the necessary alterna-1844 and 1845; and the wisdom of their legisprevious, with the subsequent financial condition of the treasury. During the fiscal year ending on the first of December 1844, the treasurer paid on account of interest $395,050 62, accruing interest on the public debt. being less than one year's interest by the sum of $268,361 54: and the public debt was consequently increased during that fiscal year by the amount of that deficit. In the following fiscal year ending on the first of December 18-45, the treasurer paid, towards the liquidation of interest, the sum of $710,784 51, being more than one year's interest by the sum of $55,363 35, decreasing the public debt by that amount, and making a relative difference of $315,724 89, in the financial operations of the

If this comparison is extended to the close of the fiscal year on the first of December last, it will show that there was paid in that year the same sources will be increased or diminpon her stock in this company have not been takes away the compensation hitherto allowed towards the extinguishment of interest, the ished in future years. If you should adopt this course, you will find that the receipts for sum of $632,289 99, being $76,868 83 more this course, you will find that the receipts for the properties are the properties. than the accruing interest for the year, and les sening the public debt by that amount. But, gentlemen. I have had a double object in instituting this comparison between the pre-existing system of taxation unexecuted, and the system as perfected by the legislation of 1844 and 1845, fully enforced; my chie object has gested your attention would now be directed remote, the other more uncertain, but less remote State's investment in the stock of this compa- incumbent; and bear in mind, that I only de-

to meet the current demands upon the treasu- minished revenue. ry. I will now proceed to show that you will Upon this point, let me invite your considbe justified, without the imposition of additional eration of a single fact. By an act of the last taxes, in funding the arrears of interest, and in session, a re-assessment was ordered of the proclaiming a day upon which the State shall property in the city of Baltimore. This asresume the payment of all current demands | sessment has not been completed-but with ed upon her and her people. which it will be necessary to fund, that you have received a communication from him, in fund to the first of October next, exclusive of operates, and will increase the revenue which the interest of that quarter. You will then will accrue from that source $62,92946. I have the arrears of interest on the first of December, 1846,

One month's interest due on the 1st of January, 1837, The quarter's interest due on the 1st of April, 1847, And the quarter's interest due on the 1st of July, 1847,

Which will make the interest due and to become due at that date,

Your determination to fund will involve, as deace, it will be, with distinguished valor, by its necessary consequence, the repeal of the the citizen soldiers, who will take the field .- laws which authorize the payment of taxes in The war over, the President will be held to a coupons. If you should pass an act repealing the coupon laws, to take effect from the first o July next, I should think it fair (in view of It is recommended that a financial provision the anxiety which will be felt to pay the taxes be made, by pension, for the widows and or- by this depreciated means) to estimate that the phans of those who may fall in the service; amount to be funded will not exceed $1,200,-

331,453 00

$1,677,053 33

651,821 16

Your next object should be to ascertain what will be the current demands upon the treasury. The annual claims upon the treasury consist of tive certainty upon an increased revenue from An amendment of the militia laws is recom- the ordinary expenses of the State Governmended so as to secure their final correct en | ment, which may be estimated at $200,000 00

> exclusive of the interest on the Tobacco loan, which is paid by that fund, at

Making the present annual demands upon the treasury $851,828 16 To this you must add the interest of one the last Legislature. For a portion of that pe- million two hundred thousand dollars, the debt riod, the puche debt had been increased, by now proposed to be funded, at such rate as in the accumulation of interest, with fearful rapid- your judgment the honor of the State, and the ity; and at the close of the fiscal year, imme- just claims of her creditors may require you to

The only remaining inquiry will be, whether the existing tax laws will yield a sufficient rev The law imposing the direct tax had passed enue to meet this demand upon the treasury found wholly inadequate to arrest the progres- your estimates would entail upon the State sive accumulation or interest, and consequent the humiliation of a second insolvency; and I

ing fact, that in seven counties of the State, cy of the existing laws be assumed from the disartrous condition of the public finances, it er words, if the legislature of 1844 had funded became my duty to advise and recommend such the interest then in arrears, and ordered the remeasures as would be adequate to redeem the sumption of payment by the State, would not public faith and render justice to the creditors | the receipts of the treasury since that time have of the State. It was manifest to me at this enabled the State to maintain her solvency to juncture, that prompt and efficient action on the present moment? In the fiscal year ending the part of the legislative and executive branch- on the first of December, 1845, the Treasurer, es of the Government, or permanent insolven- after paying the ordinary expenses of the Government. ernment, paid $55,363 35 more than the intertives. At this crosis in the affairs of the State, est which accrued for the same period, and had I had a right to expect the cordial support of in the treasury on that day a surplus of $199,every citizen who valued the honor of his State; 412 16. It is therefore manifest that for that and I was consequently unprepared for the op- fiscal year the State could have met all the position to some of the measures recommend- liabilities which funding and resumption would ed, which was manifested in some sections of have imposed upon her. In the next fiscal the State. I did, however, receive the cordial year, ending on the first of December, 1846, and efficient co-operation of the legislature of the Treasurer, after the payment of the ordinary expenses, paid $76,867.83 more than the lation is now vindicated by its results. The current interest on the public debt for that beneficial effects of that legislation, united with | year, and retained in the creasury a surplus of the proper enforcement of other revenue laws, $147,91341, thus clearly establishing the awill be demonstrated by a comparison of the bility of the treasury in that year, to have met every liability which would have been consequent upon the funding of the arrears of interest, and the resumption of the payment of the the relief which it will afford by lessening the Making the aggregate amount paid

> Gentlemen, I do not desire that you should rely upon any opinion expressed by me upon this momentous subject. It is your province which have occurred to me to the appropriate to give to this subject a minute and thorough Committees of your bodies. I have in a formexamination, and it is my desire solely to suggest for your consideration, such facts as may facilitate your investigation and assist you in arriving at correct conclusions. In my judg ment you could not adopt a method of investigation which would lead you more certainly to correct results, than by looking to the receipts fully ask your attention to those subjects. of the past year, and by an examination of the resources from which those receipts were de-

And from other sources

Making the aggregate recipts $617,752.71

the existing tax laws are more than adequate future will probably yield an increased or di- ved from the first source, (the payment of the

upon her treasury, and thereby cast off forever the desire of supplying you with all the inforhe reproach which for so many years has rest- mation necessary to just conclusions upon the subject, I addressed a letter to the Mayor of Your first object in prosecuting this inquiry, that city, requesting him to inform me what will be to ascertain the amount of interest would be the result of that assessment; and I may know the consequent demands upon the which he says "that the assessment will not treasury, and it is my duty to give you the da- fall short of $80,000,000." If this estita upon which your estimation should be pred- mate be correct, it will add $25,171,764 to cated. I will suppose that you will decide to the assessment upon which the direct tax now will be for you to decide whether this increase $1,299,922 33 in the accruing revenue will prevent a decrease of receipts from that source.

51,520 00 In pursuing this investigation, it will only remain for you to examine the various sour-94,458 00 ces of revenue, other than the direct tax, from which (as you have seen) the receipts for the last year amounted to $394,70304, for the purpose of deciding whether you can rely with certainty upon increased receipts for the future, from those sources. I by no means intend to travel over this wide field of investigation, and shall content myself with referring very briefly, to two or three of the indirect taxes, and in after portion of this communication more at large to the connexion of the State with her various works of internal improvemens, and the revenue which may be derived from that source.

You are aware that the laws imposing a tax upon the commissions of Trustees, Executors and Administrators, have not until now been in full practical operation; and I have no hesitancy in saying that you may rely with posithose laws.

red te be stamped, only went into effect on the tion on your part. first of December last, and you may consequently rely with entire certainty upon increased receipts from that source. In reference to the probable receipts in future from the internal improvement companies in which the State desire in this connexion to furnish you with some facts which will assist you in the present investigation.

In the past fiscal year the receipts from the works of internal improvement were less than in the preceding year, by the following a-

$15,000

63,000

$92,250

The decrease of dividends from the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road

Baltimore and Susquehanna Rail Road Company less by

Tide Water and Susquehanna Canal Company less by Making the diminution of receipts for the present year

And in estimating your ability to maintain the public faith, you may, I think, for the future, rely upon those campanies for increased aid, at least equal to that delicit.

As it is possible from the mode in which the revenue is collected and paid into the Treasury, that a small denciency may exist on some quarter days when interest is payable, which would be certainly met within sixty or ninety days by subsequent receipts, I would recommend for your consideration the policy of confering upon the Treasurer the power to borrow the amount necessary to meet such a contingency, on a pledge of the Bank Stock of the State. This would render resumption entirely safe and practicable, As unpreferred creditor, and and would remove all apprehension or doubt of the State's future ability to meet all her engagements with certainty and punctuality.

The decrease of expenditure consequent upon the passage by you of the Biennial Session Bill will be adverted to hereafter, but in this connexion it will be necessary for you to estimate demands upon the Trassury

The laws regulating sales b, auctioneers require amendments; and I will suggest those er communication recommended a review of the existing tax laws, the equalization, or repeal of those which operate unequally; and a cordensa tion of the whole into one or two statutes, which last would abridge the labors and facili tate the execution of the duties of the revenue officers of the State; and I must again respect tax laws, faithfully executed, are adequate to Washington branch of that road. Although islation which increases the responsibility and rived, to ascertain whether the receipts from sustain the credit of the State, the period at the dividends which the State has received u- labor of the Executive, and at the same time your consideration. It is certain that the necessi er to remark, that the tax of one-fifth of the this subject, at the hazard of having attributed $523,049 67 ty for the continuance of the present taxes can 394,703 04 only be removed by the payment of the public gross receipts for passengers on the Washing- to me the disposition to overate the importdest, or by the provision of a sufficient revenue ton branch of the road, imposed at my instance, ance, responsibility and labors of the position from other sources to meet the accruing interest by the 8th section of the act of 1832, chap, which I now occupy. Remember that the law on that debt; and the public mind can only be di 175, has more than met that deficiency in the under consideration, which destroys the Exe-In following the train of investigation sug- rected for relief, two sources, the one certain but dividends heretofore declared, and that the cutive compensation does not affect the present debt,) we can rely with entire certainty upon the operation of the sinking fund already estab lished. For the relief to be derived from the provision of adequate revenue from other sources than taxation, you must look exclusively to the works of internal improvement, in which the whole amount of the debt has been invested.

By the operation of the sinking found, as now established, the regular payment of the accruing interest on the State debt, will extinguish the principal of that debt, in thirty years from the present time. This fund amounted on the first of December, 1844, to $1,276,306 70; on the first of December, 1845, to $1,411, 911 54; and on the first of December, 1846 the close of the present fiscal year, to $1,510, 922 30; thus fully manifesting its adequacy to redeem the principal of the debt within the period above designated. The people therefore are incited to the punctual payment of the State tax, not only by their obligation to sustain the public faith, but also by the knowledge that they are thereby paying off the debt itself, and gradually relieving themselves from the burthens which it now imposes upon them. The citizens of Maryland now fully comprehend, not only their duty, but also their interest, in reference to this subject; but they wil not, in future, look with indifference to the non-payment of the State tax, by any portion of their fellow-citizens. They see that the due observance of the revenue laws by all is not more essential to the credit of the State than to their own interest, and will no longer submit to the injury which the non-payment of the tax by any part of the community would inflict upon the State and themselves.

The other subject to which I have adverted. is one, in which the people of Maryland are more deeply interested than in any other, which will claim your attention. The State debt has been incurred exclusively by her investments in her various works of internal improvement; and I now propose, with your indulgence, to invite your consideration of her investment in the Treasurer to sell the bonds of the Canal The amendment of the Stamp Act at the such of those works as may be made to yield Company, and from the proceeds of the sale last session, by which lottery tickets are requi an increased revenue by proper legislative ac- purchase State Stock.

I have prepared for your convenience a tabular statement, showing the amount invested by the State as unpreferred stockholder, in has been hitherto unable to avail itself of the each of the four works of internal improve- provisions of the act of 1844, chapter 281, to ment, to which I shall call your attention, and complete the canal to Cumberland, and that has invested so much of her capital, I merely also the amount of interest paid on her investment in each beyond the amount received from | State in this enterprise, must, without further them respectively:

> For investment in the Baltii . more and Ohio Rail Road Company, as unpreferred stockholder, For investment in the Wash ington branch of said road, as unpreferred stockhold-550,000,00

> > $1,050,000 00

For investment in the Balt and Susquehanna Rail Road Company, as unpre ferred stockholder, As preferred creditor $2,132,-045 00 For preferred claim for interest paid above amount, received from this compa 673,000 00

2,905.045 00 3,005,015 00

For investment in the Susque and Tide Water Canal com panies, as preferred credit-1,192,500 00

For interest unpaid by those companies, 61,750 00

1,257,250 00 For investment in the Chesa peaks and Ohio Canal, as unpreferred stockholder. 622,000 00 stockholder. $6,572,666 67

Preferred claim for intere t

paid by the State, $2,531 068 00

9,103,734 67

9,725,734 67

by the State in aid of those four $15,038,029.67

The annual report of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, which is herewith transmitted, will give you a detailed account of its and fully appreciated by you; and the truth of present condition and future prospects. As the proposition will not be controverted that this company has never availed itself of the the substitution of biennial for annual sessions conditional subscription to its stock, authori- of the Legislature will impose upon the Exezed by the act of May session, 1836, chap. cutive additional responsibilities, and the ne-395, I have assumed, as (as you will perceive cessity of increased vigilance and labor in enby the tabular statement above submitted; that forcing the prompt and general observance of the State is only interested to the amount of the revenue laws of the State. I confess my Having satisfied yourselves, that the existing her anterior subscription to the main stem and inability to appreciate the wisdom of that legbeen to show, by actual practical results, that to the inquiry, whether the direct tax for the in its probable effects. For the relief to be deri ny, is the only one which has hitherto yielded sire to refer to the duties of the Executive of-a revenue equal to the interest on the investment. This company is therefore entitled on that account, to your most favorable consideration, and to all the assistance which you can render it in the prosecution of its designs, without detriment to the public revenue. But independent of this claim upon your consideration, it has another of still stronger character, which cannot fail to be fully appreciated by you. This claim to your consideration is based upon the fact, that of all the companies chartered by this State, and in which she has invested so many millions of her capital, this is now the only one from which she can hope to realize the commercial prosperity and advantage, which induced her original investments in all of them. The paralizing effect produced, by the neglect of the State to meet her obligations, upon the credit, energies and prosperity of every class and every interest in the State, could not be more forcibly illustrated than by its effects upon this company.

It appears that the manner of paying the last dividend of the Baltimore and Olio Rail Road Company, part in cash and part in bonds, is regarded as a questionable exercise of authority. The bonds, so paid to the Treasur. er, for the dividend on the State's stock, have not been used by him, and the whole question relative to them is submitted to the disposal of the Legislature.

Some important suggestions are made upon the management, tolls, &c. of the internal improvement companies, which will meet with, we suppose, general favor. Nothing can be more just than this, that where the State's interest is in the majority, the control of the work should be in the hands of its own appointed agents.

The proposition to exchange the bonds of the Tide Water Canal, held by the State to the amount of $1,257,250, for an equal amount of the bonds of the State, is well. But it would, it seems to us, be better to authorise

I have received and will transmit the annual seport of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company, which will show that this company the immense amount already expended by the legislation, continue a burthen upon the people.

There were two laws passed by the last Legislature, to which I wish especially to invite your attention. The first is the law amending the Constitution, by the substitution of biennial, for annual sessions of the Legislature; and the second, is the law reducing the salary of the Governor, after my term of service shall have expired. The legislation was occasion. ed by the laudable desire of your predecessors, by retrenching the expenses of the State, to enable her with greater certainty to resume the payment of her liabilities; and to continue to meet them, as they shall hereafter occur. The conflecting effect, in my judgment, of the two laws, upon the object of the Legislature in enacting them, makes it my duty, to explain somewhat in detail, my views of their practical operation.

The biennial session bill, as an amendment of the constitution, having been submitted to the vote of the people, and having received their sanction, ought, and will, I suppose, receive your confirmatory action, and thus become a part of the fundamental law. The annual expense of the Legislature proper may be estimated at $50,000, and the incidental expenses, including appropriations for specific objects, &c., &c., may be estimated at twenty thousand dollars; making the direct and incidental cost, of each session of the Legislature, about seventy thousand dollars. The direct result, therefore, of the confirmation by you, of this amendment of the constitution, will be to lessen the demands upon the Treasury by an amount equal to the annual sum of thirty-five thousand dollars.

Looking to this constitutional amendment, as I propose to do, solely as a measure of retrenchment, no one could doubt its salutary etfects, if it were viewed without reference to the other measure to which I have adverted. The importance to the revenue of that annual supervision hitherto exercised by the Legislature over the disbursing and collecting officers of the government will be readily recognized