ERROR IN DATE.—It will be seen that the date on our first page is the 9th, when it should be the 10th of January.

LARGE HOG.—Mr. Thos. H. Haddaway of Oxford Neck, killed on Saturday last, a hog weighing 610 lbs.

BRITISH MINISTER APPOINTED.—The Government has been officially notified that Villiers, and brother of Lord Clarendon and the late Judge Advocate General, has been appointed British Minister to the United States.

I. O. O. F.—The following officers were elected to serve for the next term: Samuel Tucker, N. G.; William H. Collins, V. G.; Dr. S. Harper, P. S.; Chas. H. Stewart, R. S.; Chas. Robinson, T.; R. to G. L., Julius A. Johnson and A. W. Fountain.

AMERICAN VICTORY IN LEXINGTON, KY.—The election for Mayor and other municipal officers took place in Lexington on Saturday. We learn that the entire American ticket triumphed by a hundred majority—a considerable gain over the Presidential vote. Mr. Swift was the American candidate for Mayor.

IT is reported from Washington that the House Committee on post offices are preparing a bill, appropriating seven millions of dollars for ocean mail and other service, and which provides that each route shall be advertised and finally given to the lowest responsible bidder, throwing the whole open to competition

THE WEATHER.—Oh, how cold it is!—This has been the common exclamation of all, this week. Though the sky has been clear and old Sol has given us the benefit of his genial rays, yet the piercing stings of boreal winds constantly driving them back, entirely dissipated the warmth which would otherwise have rendered the earth moist and the atmosphere a little more pleasant.

THE LECTURE.—At the appointed hour on Tuesday evening last, the Hall of the Odd Fellows was filled with a highly intelligent auditory, eager to hear the telling truths and eloquent strains of oratory which they had every reason to anticipate from the lecturer, and with which they were in no meagre degree, gratified.

Mr. Brown discoursed learnedly upon the history of Odd Fellowship; its benefits and the good it performs to each member, its healthful influence upon a community, and urged upon the members the necessity and importance of punctual attendance. He treated the subject, Odd Fellowship, in a masterly manner and won proud encomiums of all who heard him.

IMPROVEMENT.—Thomas J. Clark, Esq., has reared on his farm about a mile from Easton, one of the handsomest dwellings in the county. The main building is 42 by 32 feet and three stories high—with a large back building. The whole contains 19 large and spacious rooms—and has in front and on the north side a very neat and commanding verandah. The exterior of the building is not finished, but we understand the contractor, W. H Cole, Esq., intends to complete the whole in a short time.

At this rate of enterprise and improvement, Easton and the surrounding country will soon be the finest and most beautiful of any on the Shore, or, even in the State.

MILES RIVER FERRY.—John A. James, Esq., has been appointed by His Honor, P. B. Hopper, to keep the above Ferry for an indefinite time.

This is a matter which should always be attended to, in order to save those who have to cross the Ferry the further tax of paying private individuals for services in carrying them to and fro across the river, as has been the case since Capt. Buchanan gave it up.

From the first day of this month up to the present time no one has been able to get across without a tax of more or less in proportion to what has to be ferried. It should also be made compulsory upon the party who is appointed to signify his intention of quitting or remaining, to the November term of the Court next ensuing his appointment, which would always remedy the inconvenience and expense otherwise, and which has heretofore attended it.

The United States Government is shipping live oak from St. Mary parish, Louisiana, to Portland, Me., for ship-building.—A paper in New Orleans reasonably asks why the vessels are not built where the timber is convenient and cheap?

PIONEER SKETCHES.—On the first page of to-day's paper will be found the last of a series of interesting sketches by "Pioneer," who wields a most able and interesting pen.

In a few weeks we shall have the pleasure of laying before our readers a series of "Pencil Dottings," from the same talented writer. Those "Dottings" will make the Gazette particularly interesting on its first page, and all who desire to procure them should send in their names at once, in order to have us prepare to meet the demand.

MARYLAND AND THE AMERICAN PARTY.—Though vipers may thrust their stings at the proud position Maryland holds in the Union, though shafts of vilification and slander may be hurled at her intelligent sons, though some few may perhaps "pant" for an opportunity to act otherwise than under the proud wing of the American party, yet she stands exalted in the eyes of her people, high in the estimation of the States, elevated in the judgment and gaze of the world. What heart does not beat with the highest emotions of pride and of honor in the consolation that we, of Maryland, will soon live under a government ruled and shaped by her own native sons!

Some visionary and chimerical persons have the hardihood and boldness to declare that Maryland will in the next election be wrenched from the hands of the party, which now holds her throbbing heart. Others seem to fancy that the present state of affairs was brought about by fraud and murder, and not by the unbiassed judgment and will of the people. Had we stones or other inanimate matter to deal with or address, we should say nothing, but being in a community, where men have, at least, a fair claim to intelligence, we will say they need not press to their bosoms, such forlorn hopes. They may strive to redeem her from her present lofty stand, but never will the rich flower which now adorns the wreath upon her brow be plucked or torn therefrom to moulder in the dust.

The people of Maryland appreciate and estimate too highly their principles, and to purchase them with the fact or influence of a Cabinet officer being chosen from within her borders is a proposition so absurd and insulting, as only requires it to be brought to the ear of any intelligent man, to have it condemned and totally repudiated.

In order to influence the vote of the State and change her from her wholesome attitude now before the country, Mr. Buchanan has only to select one of his advisers from among those who stood by his name in the Convention, or from among those whose bugles sounded to the tune of the "rich Irish brogue" in all the avenues and towns of the State. This is is to change the sentiment of Maryland. Can it be said that a charge of this kind is brought against her people? It is certainly so by inference, and if the people of Maryland will but consider the subject in the proper light, they will give to such charges the just condemnation, they in their absurdity, merit.

THE DEATH OF MRS. JUDGE DANIEL.—The terrible death of Mrs. Daniel, wife of Judge Daniel, of the U. S. Supreme Court, occured in Washington on Saturday night, about ten o'clock. The Intelligencer says:

Mrs. Daniel was sitting in her chamber at a low table preparatory to retiring for the night, having on a calico robe. From some cause, now unable to be assigned, the candle on the table by which she was lighted fell and communicated its flame to her robe, which she endeavored to put out. but in vain. In this way she screamed aloud, and run into the passage outside the chamber, when a burst of air gave new force to the thoroughly ignited robe, and before obtaining the assistance of her husband, who ran from his study, and of a servant from below, Mrs. Daniel was most severely burnt.

Her person was as quickly as possible enveloped with carpeting, and such articles as were at hand, but the destructive element had done its fell work too completely, and, after suffering four hours of great agony, though partially alleviated by medical aid, she expired. The only words by which she was enabled to indicate the manner of the accident were "the candle, the candle."

A CHRISTMAS GIFT.—Hon. David Prentiss, of Utica, N. Y., now nearly 70 years of age, was the tutor of ex-Governor Seymour, Hon. Ward Hunt, and others who have reached high public honors. His old pupils have not forgotten him They make up an annual holiday gift for his benefit of $500 each. Five of these gentlemen made up in this way a purse of $2,500 for the old gentleman's Christmas.

MARYLAND STATE FINANCES.—The subjoined statement in reference to our State finances, shows them to be in a highly prosperous condition:

The Comptroller's report, which is to be made to the Governor, in the recess of the Legislature, within ten days of the first Wednesnay in January, is looked for with some interest. The fiscal year of the State Government ends on the 30th of September, and it will exhibit the financial condition of the State up to that time.

We learn, however, that the finances of the State are in a very flourishing condition, and that notwithstanding the reduction of the rate of the direct tax from fifteen to ten cents in the $100, and the repeal of the stamp tax at the last session, there has been an increase in the revenue over that of the previous year. There is said to be a balance in the Treasury from the receipts of last year, of about $238,000, which added to the surplus remaining of the previous year, gives a total surplus in the Treasury of nearly $600,000 being about $592,000. The receipts of the State for the year are about $1,230,372, and the disbursements about $1,003,293. The total receipts from licenses for the year ending September 29th is nearly a quarter of a million, being about $238,470, of which about $40,000 however is from stamps received previous to the repeal of the stamp tax law.

The State Treasurer, by the act of 1856, ch. 49, is authorised at his discretion on the warrent of the comptroller, to apply the surplus moneys in the treasury to the use of the sinking fund of the State. In the recess of the Legislature, however, a large balance than otherwise is kept in the treasury to meet possible contingencies.

We learn from different private sources that the gross amount received for the fiscal year from licenses to auctioneers in Baltimore is $7,700 00
From auction duties - - - 16,000 00
Total, - - - $24,586 00

The gross receipts from tobacco inspection is - - - $56'568.91
Salaries of inspectors, clerks and nails, - $10,995.99
Laborers and incidental expenses, - - 27,910.12
$47,906.11
Balance to credit of tobacco fund, $8,662.80

The revenue from one-fifth of the receipts from passengers on the Washington Branch of the Ohio Railroad is $73,059.08

ARRIVAL OF TWO FUGITIVE SLAVES IN BOSTON.—We are informed that two fugitives, who had succeeded in making their escape from their master in the South, have arrived in this city the present week. One of the slaves was from Mississippi, and escaped in a vessel. He arrived here night before last, and stated that yesterday he saw his master, accompanyed by a well known slave catcher, in the streets of our city. Once before, the fugitive states, he made an attempt to escape, but was then captured and carried back, when his master told him if he was ever caught again in the act of running off, he should be shot.—The other fugitive was from the State of Virginia, and made his escape by land.—The Vigilence Committee of the city immediately took prompt and effectual measures to put them in a place of safety, and they are now beyond the reach of their pursuers. —Boston Trav., Sat.

A NOBLE FELLOW.— A short time since, four little boys broke through the ice on the lake near their school house, in Watersville, Wis. The villagers hastened to the spot, but the ice was so thin that none dared venture to their aid. At this moment, just as the boys were about sinking, a young man, eighteen years of age, named John Adams, sprang forward, seized a fishing spear, and leaving most of his clothing on the bank, plunged into the lake and saved two of the boys. He then made an other dash and saved the third. Adams was now almost exhausted, but the mother of the fourth boy was standing near, in the greatest agony, and Adams said to her, "I will save your boy or die." Tying a rope around his waist, he told those on shore to pull him in if he sank, and cried out, "Stand by the rope, I am going to him." He then plunged in, swam out some ten rods, breaking the ice with his hands, seized the boy, who was sinking for the third time, carried him ashore, and restored him to his mother's arms.

THE "DRED SCOTT" CASE.—It is stated that the U. S. Supreme Court have come to a decision in the Dred Scott case, recently argued before them. All the judges but two hold that Congress has no power over the question of slavery in the Territories, and that the Missouri compromise is unconstitutal, consequently null and void. Judges McLane and Curtus dissenting from the majority, hold that Congress has power to prohibit slavery in the Territories.

ARREST OF A PHYSICIAN FOR A HENIOUS CRIME.—A Dr. Biegler, a homœopathic physician of Rochester, N. Y., was arrested a few days since in Buffalo, for the crime of an attempted abortion upon a victim of his nefarious arts which produced her death. He was committed for a further hearing.—The female represented her name to be Rosendale, although it is believed that was only an assumed name.

WANTING TO MARRY ACROSS A RIVER.—A couple of Virginians came to the ferry at Milton, N. C., Christmas, with the view of crossing over into North Carolina and getting maried, but the river was "up" and finding no chance to get over, they wanted a magistrate to stand on this side and marry them on the opposite bank? The proposition was not acceded to.

We regret to learn from our Texas advices the death of Major Hagner, paymaster of the United States Army for that district. He died at Fort Brown on Saturday, 6th December. Major Hagner, was well known in thie city, and his numerous personal friends will deeply mourn his loss.—Charleston Courier.—

WATER ENOUGH.—A subterranean river has been struck by the persons engaged in boring an artesian well at Henderson, Ky., from which a jet of water is forced up through the bore and thrown to the height of 50 feet above the surface of the ground.

The omnibus drivers, of Covington, Ky., it is said, charge double for ladies wearing hoops.

GALION, Ohio, Jan. 3, 1857.

Horrible Murder in Ohio.—A horrible murder was committed at Galion on the night of the 2d inst., (last night.) A gentleman by the name of Garnhart had started for a party at the edge of town, and in about fifteen minutes was discovered lying in the middle of the wagon track, dead, with two desperate wounds (either of which would have proved mortal) in his head and breast, from a pistol.

Suspicion has been fixed upon one Starr, who has been jealous of Garnhart for some time, and who has threatened his life several times. Starr has fled, and five hundred dollars reward is offered for his apprehension. It is supposed he will endeavor to make his way to California, from which place he has recently arrived. Starr is about twenty-three years of age, five feet ten inches high, light grey or blue eyes, very light yellow hair thin on his head, very sandy beard close shaved; had a scar on his cheek bone, rather imperceptible; had on a black plush cap, with grey plush tabs all around; a black coat and pants, plush vest; a brown sack loose overcoat, new style. He has rather a sanctimonious countanance.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.

Huntington's Arrival at Sing Sing.—Deputy Sheriff Ingles left yesterday afternoon for Sing Sing, having in custody Huntington the forger. A number of his friends were at the Tombs to bid him good bye as he came into the passage. He was elegantly dressed, and seemed to have but little concern about his situation. I have since learned that when Huntington arrived at Sing Sing, he, in company with the Deputy Sheriff, went to the St Nicholas Hotel, in that town, and ate a jolly good supper—the last of the kind he will enjoy for four years and ten months, unless he is pardoned out. He was then delivered to the prison officers, and locked up in his cell. It has been suggested that in choosing a work shop for him, he be put to the forging department.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Bilious headache, and all affections of the system which result from an insufficient or immoderate flow of bile, are at once relieved by the operation of Holloway's Pills. Dyspepsia and liver disease are inseperable, for the stomach and the liver always sympathise, and as this great medicine acts powerfully upon both these important organs, it performes the work of cure with a precision, rapidity, and thoroughness which have no parallel in the records of medical practice. The Pills may be relied upon with the utmost confidence in cases of diarrhea, dysentery, cholera morbus, spasms of the stomach, cholera infantum, and all other disorders affecting the digestive organs and the bowels.

THE REIGN OF ART.—In this wonderful age, Art lays her master touches on almost every thing. The ceilings over us and the carpets we tread on, are hallowed by Art. Art winds the railway through the mountains and the mud, makes her machines of wood and iron, to act as if with knowledge and annihilates space with lightning tamed down to the intelledge of a boy Nothing is too lofty for her touch and nothing too humble. A new proof of this old conviction, has just fallen under our notice, in the shape of a CATHARTIC PILL, from the Laboratory of that world renowned Chemist Dr. J. C. AYER.

If we understand the subject, he has carried that article to the farthest perfection of which it is capable. Instead of employing Drugs in its composition, as we have always thought the necessary and only way, he has with consummate skill extracted the virtues of the medicine to be employed and combined them alone in their purity together. The composition is then mixed and rolled by machinery and steam power into a speroid pill which is wrapped in an envelope of gelatine, for protection from the effects of weather or time, and then thickly coated with sugar, to serve as its passport over the palate. Notwithstanding all this labored perfection they are offered to the Public at less than one cent each. However humble the department, we think this may be safely characterized as the consummation of Art in this line. —Morning News, Balt.

Every Farmer, Merchant, Mechanic or Professional Man, who is annually expending $1,000, $500, $200, $100, or but $50 or $20 upon his farm, Orchard, Garden, or House plot, or upon his Animals, will do well to expend a single dollar a year more in supplying himself with THE AGRICULTURALIST. From its full 500 good articles given every year, no one can fail to derive at least some hints that will be worth to him many times the cost.

TRY it a year—It will PAY.

In The Tribune of Nov 27, 1856, Mr Greeley said: "The AMERICAN AGRICULTURALIST is a large double quarto, zealously and industriously edited, and is particularly savage on all attempts to cheat the farmers with fabricated manures. Whoever takes this paper will receive his money's worth."

ONLY ONE N. B.—The above is an outline of ONLY ONE Number, and that got up under the excitement and bustle of attending to nearly 10,000 new subscribers, letters of inquiry, &c. ELEVEN MORE numbers equally good, and as much better as possible, will be furnished this year; and the capital December No (1856) will be furnished free to 3,000 new subscribers for 1857, first received.

N. B.—At least 200 perfect seeds of the new Chinese Sugar Cane will be sent free to every old or new subscriber to THE AGRICULTURALIST who furnishes a ready directed (post paid) envelope to mail them in.

N B—The AGRICULTURALIST is located at the Metropolitan city of the country—the best point for getting the best information from every section

N B—The AGRICULTURALIST surpasses all other similar journals in having, beside its Resident conducting Editor, an Associate Editor at each of several points in the Eastern, Middle and Western States. A dozen of these men, who are thoroughgoing practical Cultivators, Fruit growers, Stock raisers, &c. are constantly furnishing to the AGRICULTURALIST their combined experience and observations in their several localities.—This arrangement gives this journal Unequaled advantages for diffusing the very best practical information collected from each division of the country
