tion of the scientific of the medical world, but none acquired more eminence in his treatment of these diseases, than the celebrated Prussian STOCK Dr. Hoofland, the originator of the Balsamic Cordial. His life was devoted to the production of remedies that would stand unrivalled. How well he has succeeded, the American people are able to judge; and we positively assert, that no preparations that have ever been placed before them, have conferred the same amount of bene many commendations from all classes of society.

The Cordial is designed for a class of disease tries; but I can aver confidently that they usher in disease of greater complicity and mortality than these latter."
