You ask me when I'd rend the scroll Our fathers' names are written o'er, When I would see our flag unroll Its mingled stars and stripes no more ? When with a worse than felon's hand, Or telon's counsel, I would sever The Union of this glorious land?

I answer-never, never, never! Think re that I could brook to ste The banner I bave loved so long Borne piece-meal o'er the distant sea-Torn, trampled by a frenzied throng-Divided, measured, parceled out-Tamely surrendered up forever, To gratify a lawless rout Of traitors? Never, never, never!

Give up this land to lawless might, To selfish fraud, a villain's sway, Obscure those hopes with endless night, That now are rising like the day-Write one more page of burning shame. To prove the useless, vain endeavor; Our race from suin to reclaim,

And close the volume? Never, never! On yonder lone and lovery steep, The sculptor's art, the builder's power, -A landmark o'er the soldier's sleep, Have reared a lofty funeral tower. There it will stand until the river. That rolls beneath shall cease to flow; Ay, till the hill itself shall quiver

With nature's last convulsive throe.
