HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS! Are not a new and untried article, but have swol the test of fifteen years trial by the Americas public; and their reputation and sale are not usalled by any similar preparation.

The propietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent Clergymen, Lawyers, physicians and Citizens, testifying of their own persoul knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you? Do you want a good appeinte? Do you want to build up your constitution? Do you want to feel wells Do rou want to get tid of pervousness?

Do you want energy? Da you want to sleep well? Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

ll you do, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. ATTENTION SOLDIERS. AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS. We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "Hoofani's German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposure and privatiens incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the artifal of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speediis removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were frequently used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated. cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language, has been saved by the Bitters:"

The Three Watchers.

Wistfully through the sunshine, Wistfully through the rain, They watch for his returning, Who will never return again.

Three little cherub faces, Close to the window pane, Wistfully watching and waiting For him who returns not again.

Frigidly under the sunbeams, Frigidly under the storm, Where the battle dead are thickest, Lies a pallid and pulseless form.

Sign, nor marh, nor token, To tell of the hero's name, But clasped to his gory bosom Is a fragile picture-frame.

A simple, poor medallion, Death clutched with a wisp of grass; But three little cherubs faces Smile through the blood-stained glass. Rude are the hands that lay him

On the soldier's humble pall; Yet tears from the bearded faces On the cherub faces tall. The grasp of death hath stiffened

On the nameless soldier's rest. Then there came a voice, like an echo, Through the sunshine and the rain "Look up! for on earth, your father Shall never return again!"

Round the picture on his breast,

And they leave those faces smiling

And the eldest, looking upward, "Our Father in heaven," she said, "Thou hast taken our other father, Let us come to thee instead!"

Why Can't I Have A Beau?

O dear, O dear, there's just one thing I dearly love to know-Why can't I have, like other girls, A young and handsome beau ?

There's Sallie Jones, and Kittle Smith, And treckeled Susie Grow, A trio like the Gordon Maids, Yet each one has a beau.

But here's poor me, as lair a flower As ever chanced to blow-My winning voice and sweet beguiles-All fail to catch a beau. I dress as neat and smile as sweet,

As any girl I koow, Yet, as I live, I do believe I'll never get a beau. I am always found in best attne,

Wherever gents may go,

Yet not one chap in all the lot Asks me to be a beau. Confound such men, such silly dolls-How very dull and low,

Afraid to be a beau. Just list to me, ye gawky clows, Now don't you fully know, That you should be, each one of you, Some fair young lady's beau.

To stand and look, to griff and squint-

Then brush your teeth, and oil your hair, And let your 'stachies grow, And turn to be a civil man-
