We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were frequently used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life to use his own language, has been saved by the Bitters:"

A PRAYER FOR PEACE.

BY J. B. C. Great God! who art enthroned on high Above this world of care, List to a suffering people's cry,

Oh! here a nation's prayer! O grant that peace once more may reign In this distracted land! Accept our sacrificial slain, And stay thy wrathful hand!

Thou know'st how many a gallant heart This cruel war has taken! Let all who in defeat depart In victory awaken! And grant that though the traitor's knife Slay all our brave and true, That peace which saves our nation's life May save its honor too!

And show those wicked men who seek Their country's overthrow, Whose hands with brother's blood do reek, Whose hearts with guilt do glow, Thy mercy is as free as air, As rich as priceless gems; Yet though thy mercy some may spare, Thy justice all condemns!

Establish, Lord, as fixed as fate, The Union of our land! -Oh, make it lasting, strong, and great, With Thy Almighty hand! And when our flag shall float above Each Union-martyr's grave, For ever bless with peace and love The land they died to save!

LONG AGO.

When at eve I sat alone, Thinking of the past and gone-Then the clock, with drowsy finger, Marks how long the minutes linger-And the embers dimly burning, Tell of life to dust returning, Then my lonely chair around, With a quiet, mournful sound, With a murmer soft and low, Come the ghosts of long ago.

One by one I count them o'er, Voices, that are heard no more, Tears that loving cheeks have wet, Words whose music lingers yet, Holy faces, pale and fair, Shadowy locks of wavering hair, Happy sighs and whispers dear, Songs forgotten many a year, Lips of dewy fragrance, eyes Brighter, bluer than the skies, Odors breathed from Paradice.

And the gentle shadows glide Softly murmuring at my side, Till the long, unfrended day All forgotten fades away.

Thus when I am all alone, Dreaming o'er the Past and Gone, All around me, sad and slow, Come the ghost of long ago.
