REUBEN AND PHEBE:

In Manchester a maiden dwelt, ler name was Phoebe Brown; Her cheeks were red, her hair was black,

Her age was nearly seventeen, Her eyes were sparkling bright, A very lovely girl she was, Raben Wright.

Now Ruben was a nice spung man -Af any in the town, If this ! I f. And Phabe loved him very dear, old Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Her cruel parents were resolved Another she should wed, A rich old miser in the place, er than have bis daughter marry Ruben Wright he'd sooner knock him in the head.

But Phoebe's heart was brave and strong, She feared not parents' frowns, And as for Reuben Wright, so bold, for the whole race of Browns.

So Phoebe Brown and Reuben Wright Determined they would marry; Three weeks ago, last Tucsday night, Old Harry.

But Captain Brown was wide awake; He loaded up his gun, And then pursued the loving pair; He overtook 'em when they'd got about half Branch.

Old Brown then took a deadly aim Towards young Reuben's head, But oh ! it was a bleeding shame, He made a mistake, and shot his only daugh-

Then anguish filled young Reuben's heart, And vengeance crazed his brain, He drew an awful jack-knife out sixty times, so that its very doubtful about his ever

WILLIAM H. SEWARD. OFFICIAL,

The cry of distress which comes to us from all parts of the South should excite our sym-£ 180,000 Pathy and stimulate our charity. The sad story of suffering has of late rung too frequently in our ears and moved too deeply our bearts, to tequire a detailed rebersal to citizens of Mary lands Suffice it to say, that the affliction is both widespread and appalling, lar too gigantic in its pro-140,000 portions to be adequately relieved by individual 50,000 contributions, no matter how generous or fre-

Our fellow-citizens generally have 40,000 been awakened to the necessity of mitigating so much distress, and both private and public col-40.000 lections have been generously made for the suf-30,000 ferers. In many localities of the South, the 20,000 populations are reported to be threatened with nothing short of downright starvation during the approaching winter. Under these circumstances, is it not clearly a 20,000 a Christien duty for us, who by a merciful Prov-20,000 idence have been to a great extent freed from the 20,000 calamities of war which as pressed so heavily 15,000 upon our neighbors, to come promptly and gen-10,000 erously to their reliet? Can we beheld blameless before God, if our brethten, whom we are 10,000 solemnly commanded to love even as ourselves, should perish through our coldness and neglect? 10,000 Most of the sufferers are women, children, and other non-combatants, whose hands are out-8.000 stretched to us imploring succer, and whose oo sighs of anguish ascend to heaven, while their

,000 tears bedew the earth. Can we find in our 4,000 hearts to resist their appeal? We think not. For the purpose indicated, We hereby accord-4,000 ingly enjoin that a Collection be taken up in all 500 the Churches of this Archdiccese on the third 3000 Sunday of September, the Feast of the Seven Sorrows of the Blessed Virgin, the Mother of ooo the afflicted, and that this Circular be read on the previous Sunday. In those churches or chapels in which the holy Sacrifice will not be 500 offered up on that Sunday, the coffection will be 20,000 taken up on the first Churchday thereafter .-The amounts so collected will be sent to Our £ 898,000 Secretary before the first of October; and We will adopt such steps as may be deemed most suitable for having them judiciously distributed among the most needy and deserving. Given from Our Residence in Baltimore, on first of St. Augustine, August 28, A. D., 1865. MARTIN JOHN SPALDING, Archbishop of Baltimore. THOMAS FOLEY, Secretary.
