THE DROWNED CABLE.

AIR-"O the Marriage"

Hurrah! by the piper of Moses The lightning got stuck in the main; The blustering Bulls and Blue Noses Are baffled by Keptune agains They've lately been cutting their capers Across his dominions with wire, And boasting aloud in the papers Of setting the ocean on fire.

But a health to the jolly old shaver, More power to his ponderous fist! He has shut up their mongrel palver By giving the cable a twist.

Am I sorry-why should you be axin-To see the grand swindle laid flat? What good ever came from the Saxon-Perhaps you can answer me that? Share prayers, from both valley and highland, Went up that the project might fail; Would you have them pollate our blessed imand, Transmitting devilish lies by wholesale? CHORES-Then health to the jolly old shaver, &c.

By this time soft talk would been flashing In to dying tones to the Queen; With blarney they'd all been whitewashing The robber of nations, I ween. Bad luck to the haythens that grind us, Their spies would been 'round like bees; But the new chain they forged out to bind us Is lost in the depths of the seas. CHORUS-Then a health to the jolly old shaver, &c.

Some say they are fishing to catch it Where dolphins do merryily skip; But the mermaid appointed to watch it, I'll warrant she'll give them the slip. They may grapple all round, I've a notion, With little reward for their pains; That roap will sing dumb in the ocean 'Till Ireland has broken ber chains.
