In August last I had a very severe hemorrage, and, according to the judgment of a good New York physician, I was classed as per ond the reach of medicine, and was advised to be prepared, so far as property matters were concerned to have this world at short notice. The physician (and my good friends) said that the first cold I took must prove fatal. He said: "You know what I told you last summer, and I say the same now, if you have any business to close up, do not put it off."
