The labor is over and done; The sun has gone down in the West; The birds are asleep every one, And the world has gone to its rest-Sleepers on beds of down, 'Neath cover of silk and gold, Soft, as on roses new blown, Slept the great monarch of old ! Sleepers on mother's breast, Sleepers bappy and warm,

Cosy as birds in their nest, With never a thought of harm; Sleepers in garrets high, 'Neath coverlet ragged and old; And one little sleeper all un der the sky, Out in the night and cold; Alone in the wide, wide world, Christless, motherless be; Begging or stealing to live, and whirled

Like waifon an angry sea;

The daisy looks up from the grass, Fresh from the fingers of Night, To welcome the birds as they pass, And drink in fresh rivers of light, Sleepers on mother's breast, Waken to summer and mirth; But one little sleeper has gone to his rest, Neverto waken on earth-Dead-found dead in the street, . All forsaken and lorn, Damp from head to feet.

With the dews of the sweet May morn! Dead-for the want of a crust ! Dead-in the cold night air ! Dead-and under the dust, Without ever a word of prayer, In the beart of the wealthiest city, In this most Christian land, Without ever a word of pity, Or the touch of a kindly hand!
