GOD AND THE SOUL

BY AMERLUS SILBERUS. The soul wherein God dwells-What Church can boiler be !-Becomes a walking tent Of beavenly majesty.

How far from be re to beaven? Not very far, my friend; A single bearty step Will all thy journey end.

Though Christ a thousand times In Bethelehem be born, If he's not born in thee, Thy soul is still foriorn.

The cross on Golgotha Will never save thy soul; The cross in thine own beart Alone can make thee whole.

Hold there! where runnest thou? Know heaven is in thee; Seekest thou for God elsewhere, His tace thou'lt never see.

Ab, would thy heart but be A manger for thy birth, God would once more become A child upon this earth.

I don't believe in Death; If hour by hour I'die, 'Tis hour by hour to gain A better life thereby.

Go out-God will go in; Die thou, and let him live; Be not, and be will be; Wait, and be'll all things give.

O shame ! A silkworm works And spins till it can fly ; And thou, my soul, wilt still On thine old earth-clod lie !

"MOTHER, WATCH."

Mother, watch the little feet, Climbing o'er the garden wall, Bounding through the busy street. Ranging cellar, shed, and hall. Never count the moments lost, Never count the time it costs; Guide them, mother, while you may, In the safe and narrow way.

Mother, watch the Kittle hand Picking berries by the way, Making bouses in the sand, Tossing up the fragrant hay, Never dare the question ask-"Why to me the weary task ?" The same little hands may provo Messengers of Light and Love.

Mother, watch the little tongue, (Prattling, eloquent and wild,) What is said and what is sung By the joyous, happy child. Catch the word while yet unspoken, Stop the row before 'tis broken; This same tongue may yet proclaim Blessings in a Saviour's name:

Mother, watch the little beart, Beating soft and warm for you; Wholesome lessons now impart; Keep, O keep that young heart true. Extricating every weed,

Sowing good and precious seed; Harvest rich you then may see Ripen for eternity.
