STRANGE DELUSION.

of a Young Lady.

The greatest excitement has existed in Dan: laws of Science. Be it known to all, that vers, Mass., for a week or more. It seems that on or about Christmas, Margaret Finley, the daughter of Robert Finley, residing near the has been analyzed by the distinguished chemist, Danvers Junction, aged 17 years, went out Prof. Chilton, and his certificate of its wholesomeskating, took cold, had a fever, induced by Nork. pneumonia or some lung difficulty, and died on Sunday, the 9th of this month. She was one of several children, and the family are intelligent and respectable, and mostly members of the E. piscopal Church.

The deceased was a healthy and sprightly girl, in a tomb at the Cemetery. All through her sickness it was observed there was much color ner 6-3m in her face, and when life had departed this rose that lingered, insomuch that at the funeral it was noticed that she looked like one sleep ing, and wonderous fair.

This matter having been talked over the next day, it was suggested that the girl might have been in a trance. It was said somebody had revealed the supposed fact of which I have moments.
