DON'T DRINK TO-NIGHT. I lest my mother in the door, My sister by her side; Their clasped hands and loving looks

Forbade their doubts to hide; I left and met with comrades gay, When the moon brought out be- light, And my loving mother whispered me, "Don't drink, my boy, to-night."

With goodness radiant bright,

Long years have rolled away since than; My jetty curls are gray; But, oh! those words are with me yet, And will not pass away. I see my mother's loving face,

"Don't drink, my boy, to night." My mother is now resting sweet In the graveyard on the hill, But mother's words come back to me And haunt my memory still. I've often, often passed the cup;

Oh ! then my heart was right,

Because I heard the warning words, "Don't drink, my boy, to-night." I've now passed down the road of life, And soon my race is run, A mother's warning listened to, An immortal crown is won.

And say, as you alone can say, "My boy, don't drink to-night." These words will prove a warning when In the thorny paths of life, Thy boy is in the tempter's wiles, And warring in the strife. These words will stop the morning cup,

And the revelry at night,

Oh, mothers, with your blessed smile,
