"Equo ne Credite Teueri." CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.-The State of New | York having through Senator Spinola offered $5,000 a year for the scalp of Jeff. Davis, we would suggest to the enterprising individual undertaking the contract to have it distinctly understood to be $5,000 a year, and not $5,000 an ear, otherwise he may fall a victim to Yankee cunning, and owing to the fact of Mr. Davis having but two ears, may instead of a comfortable income for life receive pect of none coming at all. only $10,000.

The Loyal North!

To the Editor of the South: Since the entire North now claim to be such loyal citizens, it might be a matter of interest to know how their fathers in the old Revolution stood relatively as to loyalty. In that day, however, to be loyal, was to be true to George the Third. The patriots then were the rebels—the tories then were the loyal subjects. I have taken the trouble to examine "Sibine's History of the Loyalists of the Revolution," and I find that the preponderance of patriots or rebels was then in the Southern States, and the tories most abundant in the North. According to Sabine, the ecren Northern States, with a population of about 1,400,000, furnished one tory to every 521 of population; while the six Southern States, with | year of his exe. a population of say 1,500,000, furnished but one tory to every 2,150 of citizens; that the present secould-he true and loyal State of New York, in the "times that tried men's souls," furnished her Report of Deaths in the City of Bullimore for the last week, "Cow Boy tories" in such numbers that one in every one hundred and thirty-eight of her population was a tory; while at-the same time the present traitorous State of Virginia furnished but one to every 13,636 of its population. Boastingly-loyal Massachusetts of this Revolution had in the old Revolution one tory in every 464 of her citizens; while the traitor State of Maryland in this day furnished in the old Revolution but one tory to | 5, termeen 60 and 70, 4, termeen 70 and 80, 4, termeen 80 and every 4,590 of its people. Even the much defamed [South Carolina was more patriotic in the old Revolution than Masssachusetts, for her number of tories was but one to every 520 of population; but then, South Carolina paid a great deal more | than her proportion of the Revolutionary War Debt; and if she did threaten to nullify law in

() TEMPORA! O MORES

How it is that at the North they have enticed adopted citizens into their ranks is more than I can asked-1 per cent. advance. see. If the empty name of Union is sufficient to make my countrymen come on here to fight the battles of Massachusetts, they deserve to meet a bloody reception from us Irish citizens of this State. I am but one man, but I think I speak the scutiments of thousands of my countrymen, when I say State to meet them and either drive them back at the point of the bayonet or let them pass over our | dead bodies 'ere ther take our State. The idea of Irishmen coming on here to fight the battles of a party that a very few years ago deprived them of the right to carry arms belonging to the State in Massachusetts, while the negro enjoyed the privilege of forming military companies-thus making the negro not only equal but superior to the adopted citizen! this unholy crusade not unnatural enough already, that the tanatics of the North must bring we face to face as enemies, when we should meet as brothers in a strange land, but since it is forced on us, let us accept it in all its horrors and conquer or die like ROBT, RAINEY, Virginia Hotel, Balto., Md.
