The honorable gentleman who presided, told us. that to present abuses in our government we will assemble in convention, recall our delegated pow ers, and punish the servants for abusing the trust reposed in them. Oh, sir, we should have fine times, indeed, if to punish tyrants it were only sufficient to assemble the people. Your arms wherewith you could defend yourselves are gone; and you have no longer an aristocratical, no longer a democratical spirit. Did you ever read of any revolution in any nation brought about by the punishment of those in power, inflicted by those who had no power at a all? You read of a riot act in a country which is called one of the freest in the world, where a few neighbors cannot assemble without the risk of being shotby a bired soldiery, the engines of despotism. We may see such an act in America. A standing army we shall have also, to execute the execuble commands of tgranny, and how are you to punish them? Will you order them to be punished !--Who shall obey those orders! Will your macebearer be a match for a disciplined regiment? In what situation are we to be !-- Patrick Henry, Speech in Virginia Convention, June 4th, 1784.
