Now that the Hook has become quarters for troops, and that the defence of our coast has become a matter worth looking after, let us see what has been done. Some two years since, it will be remembered to that a great topic of discussion in military and h civil circles, was the Defences of New York harbor. There was a prevalent opinion among the most distinguished engineers, that in order to complete) the protection of the bay and city, and prevent a descent of hostile forces on the shores of New Jersey, it was absolutely necessary to guard the outer key of the Atlantic, by erecting a huge fort on the most favorable portion of Sandy Hook. Defences thus located, it was believed, would command the ocean access to the Empire City, and strengthen the upper forts for a renewed attack in case an enemy should pass beyond reach of their batteries. | kept by t ment ordered the building of an immense fort on | tilla of schooners and steam tugs has been stathe western portion of the beach, which, from its tioned in Britton's Bay, and the Potomac, for extent and solidity, will no doubt be considered several miles above and below the mouth of the one of the most formidable harbor defences of the Bay, has been subjected to the strictest military United States. The Latest News.

Mr. Henry Taylor, Sun Building, has placed us in possession of New York papers of this mornpacific conclusion. Gov. Jackson and Gen. Price ing. They give various reasons for the defeat of the Federal troops at Great Bethel, but generally, in pursuance of Gen. Butler's suggestion, united in throwing the caus of the disaster upon General 1,000 prisoners. Its credulous readers will be desperately undeceived when they read to-lay's afternoon Herald.

The Tribune's Washington correspondent says : Within the next eight or ten days, without doubt, the National Capital will either be captured or saved, beyond a peradventure. Within that space of time, the fate of Harper's Ferry will be maled. If the Rebels there be taken prisoners, or dispossessed, or forced to retreat to Manassas Junction, the columns of Gen. Patterson, marching forward, will add so much strength to the defense of Washington that to assail it with any force at the command of Gen. Beauregard will be madness. To upwards of 40,000 troops, soon to be swelled by a Connecticut, a Maine, a Wisconsin, and two | Massachusetts Regiments, will be added at least 5,000 or 20,000, coming through Chambersburg and Western Virginia. Then the question will be of advancing in force to Manassas Junction-but of meeting an assault from that quarter.

Whether Colonel Stone will cross the Potomac and advance upon Leesburg, or only below the ferry is a matter upon which no one can be informed, since his course must depend upon contingencies not fully to be forescen. The Sevession Judge of the District Court at Baltimore, Judge Giles, having directed Marshall Bonifant to insert the judicial advertisements it those disloyal sheets, The Sun, Republican and Exchange, Marshal B. refused to comply, and has had an interview with the Attorney General upon the subject. That official instructed him to ad-

The Herald's correspondent says: The government has made a temporary arrangement with the well known Professor for an aerothe above end to the military authorities, and havphia to make the necessary preparations. He returned last night, and has been actively engaged to-day in getting ready for his first ascension tomorrow. The balloon will be attached to a cable some thousand feet in length, in order to secure a steady point of observation.

The Herald says editorially: It appears, upon reliable authority, that the desences of Richmond are very complete, and have been in course of construction for many months. The easiest approach to the city is by York river, although it is situated upon the James river; but below, and difficult of navigation.
